WELCOME BACK
STARTING ANOTHER YEAR

It is always difficult to place the exact starting date of another academic year. Is it the actual first day of regular registration? Is it the first day of new student orientation? Is it the day classes start?

For most purposes, the academic year probably starts on the first day of classes, but we have another candidate -- today. About one-half of the faculty arrive for duty in the new academic year today, and the impact of these returnees to the campuses really starts the ball rolling for another year.

For the returnees, the Monday Report would like to state that it has not been a quiet summer, like those of yesteryears. Altogether, things have gone rather well, but there has been a fast pace of planning and spadework for the exciting year facing the college.

There was the wait for word from the legislature, including the last-minute cliff-hanger about our appropriation for the north campus, (which the governor almost vetoed), and then the adjustments necessary when word arrived.

We have geared up for an expanded program of courses by television, and a continuation of our course by newspaper. We have worked hard to get the Weekend College off to a good start. Just the logistics of registering at six different Malls next Saturday, when we have never before registered in a shopping mall, was quite a task.

You can see around Central Campus some of the ramp and elevator building that has been going on for the handicapped. There was a real struggle to get the Allied Health Building ready for occupancy. We'll be holding an Open House and Press Conference there in the near future.

A large number of office locations have been changed, and the Print Shop is in a new location--where the Nursing Department used to be.

As soon as it was known that we will have the money for the first phase of the North Campus, steps were taken to get that project rolling as rapidly as possible.

A great deal of preliminary planning for our half-mill referendum, to be held March 11, has already taken place, and more, much more, will be said about this subject as time goes on.

Welcome back. It has been a busy summer for those of us who were here. It will be a busy Fall and Winter for all of us.

NEW READERS REACT

As the Monday Report reaches the venerable age of one year, we have a new constituency. It happened this way...

Retiree Edna Wilson dropped by and was intrigued by a copy of the Monday Report. She suggested other retirees might like to receive the publication.

We agreed, and added the names of 60 retirees to our mailing list. Their comments are beginning to arrive.

Dr. Dorothy Leggitt writes from Chicago, "I appreciate the opportunity to be informed," and that she likes Dr. Eissey's "new, sincere efforts for the promotion of the college."

Earl Huber welcomed the Monday Report and said he had wondered what was happening at PBJC and to his many friends.

Dave Forshay called from Lake Placid to say he "appreciates being included," adding, "it's a nice idea," and Mildred Schild to say she's thrilled to read the Monday Report "and looks forward to the next issue."

Dorothy Peed wrote, "Thanks for the idea of sharing the Monday Report," Dr. Butterfield stopped in, Ruth Bishop, Lillian Smiley, Betty Nobis and Thelma Okerstrom called to say thanks, among a number of other retirees.

Glad to have you aboard...

KEEP UP THE GOOD WORK!

The Burt Reynolds Dinner Theatre production of The Owl and the Pussy Cat, which recently finished a successful run, was directed by our own Frank Leahy, who also designed the set.

When the announcement was made at a recent performance that the director was on the drama faculty of PBJC, Frank received a good round of applause.

Frank and the Burt Reynolds apprentices, many of them former PBJC drama students, have been mentioned often in the press, and on radio and TV, and frequently their connection with PBJC is also mentioned.

Ann Morrison, one of the leads in the current Burt Reynolds production of "Godspell", is one of the former PBJC students gaining valuable experience at the theatre.

The entire relationship with the Burt Reynolds Theatre is great for PBJC -- particularly as a step toward a professional career for our students. If you are looking for an evening out to celebrate a special occasion, don't forget our friends in Jupiter.

BARGAINING SESSION

WORD HAS JUST BEEN RECEIVED THAT A BARGAINING SESSION IS SCHEDULED AT 4 P.M. ON 8/16/79.

Palm Beach Junior College

4200 CONGRESS AVENUE, LAKE WORTH, FLORIDA 33461 • PHONE 305/965-8000

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

August 7, 1979

Mrs. Trinette Robinson
President
United Faculty of Palm Beach Junior College
4200 Congress Avenue
Lake Worth, FL 33461

Dear Trinette:

Since I have been President of Palm Beach Junior College I have worked diligently to fulfill the pledge I have made repeatedly -- to make adequate salaries my number one priority. We have made some progress. About a month after I took office, we came to an agreement with the Union which granted a five per cent increase to all members.

Now, as of the date of this letter, less than a year later, the administration has been able to make an offer to the Union, which college-wide is the highest we can make and stay within the guidelines set by the Division and I am disappointed with the immediate Union response. I am concerned over money already lost to 18 unit members and about to be lost to all others, and dismayed by the Union's apparent indifference to this fact.

I am disappointed that the latest offer of the College was turned down after only a few minutes of discussion. As you know, the first offer of the College was five per cent, plus increments, plus Cody Report recommendations -- essentially the same offer given other personnel at the College. The Union rejected this offer because, as we understand it, according to Union figures, unit members would get slightly less than seven percent while others, notably those in lower salary brackets on the staff, had been recommended by Cody for increases which made their part of the total salary package a little more than seven per cent.

According to our understanding of the Union estimates, the amount needed to satisfy Union demands and an agreement was $18,000 to $25,000. The administration accepted this recommendation by the Union and offered to budget this amount, in ways specified in our current offer -- increasing increments, overload pay and substitute pay -- and we really expected agreement, since the Union had shown on other occasions that they realized we were hemmed in by the 7 per cent Presidential guideline, which has been mandated by the State Department of Education. We had really worked hard to find a way of meeting what we thought was the principal Union objection, and when I learned that the offer had been turned down, I was disappointed and concerned.

My concern is a simple and basic one. Already, for five or six weeks, 18 unit members have been losing five per cent or more in salary increases because we have been unable to reach agreement. We have made it clear from the beginning that we will not negotiate retroactive pay raises. That money, which I know and you know those unit members really need, is already gone. Beginning on August 13, all 180 day teachers will begin losing their five per cent or more increase. On August 20, all 196 day teachers will begin losing money if there is further delay in reaching agreement.

I am dismayed that the Union, after turning down our latest offer, did not set a date for another meeting. We realize that your chief negotiator is on vacation, but, somehow, we believe that the Union has failed to recognize the loss of money to their members and the urgent need for action now without any more delay.

I want, in this letter, to make it known that the administration worked hard to make its offer, and stands ready and willing to pay the increases contained in our offer from the date of ratification of the agreement, but will not make retroactive pay raises. We have worked hard to make that money available to individual faculty members and we want them to have it. If the delay continues for many more days, the amount of money lost to individuals will be greater than the amount now separating us.

We are sincerely disappointed that whatever opportunities the faculty had for extra income represented by the Weekend College have already been lost through inability to come to agreement with the Union on that point. We have now staffed almost all Weekend College positions with qualified part-time instructors. This delay is unfortunate, and I believe that adding another delay on top of it would be even more unfortunate.

We are ready to negotiate when you are.

I should make one more point. Last Friday, I learned that the favorable year for junior colleges in terms of our legislative appropriation may be wiped out by failing tax revenue due to the gasoline crisis and a falling off of tourism. Unless there is some miraculous turnaround, we may look forward to the State taking back some of the money they have granted us.

It is a perilous time. We need to close ranks, and move ahead in every possible way to survive intact this year and next. Under these circumstances, quibbling over what would be only a few dollars per person, while other dollars go down the drain, seems like a real waste of valuable time and money for the faculty.

My concern over this was great enough that I telephoned State headquarters of the Union on Monday to explain the situation to them. I hope that by the time you read this letter, we already have a date for another meeting -- and that ratification of a contract is not far off. We are going to need the good will and the real effort of everyone in the days and years ahead of us.

Sincerely,

Ed

Edward M. Eissey
President

Not a Millstone -- A MILESTONE

If you are a close observer, you may have already noticed that this is Volume II No. 1 of the Monday Report. We have reached the venerable age of one year, and ye olde editor insists a bit too loudly that this venture is much more of a milestone than it is a millstone.

It is a milestone in that all who use the Monday Report -- and that could easily be a lot more of you than have used it to date -- have a ready way of communicating with all personnel at the college.

Remember, all you have to do is to write, (preferably type, but legible longhand is accepted), your notice, deliver it to Dr. Erling's office in any of the ways available, by Thursday noon, and it goes out the following Monday. Naturally we reserve the right to edit, rewrite, shorten, lengthen and write Kooky headlines. Mostly, we don't do any of that stuff, except to write headlines.

The Monday Report is also a milestone in that it is an effective way for the administration, which is in charge of the Monday Report, just like it is in charge of everything else around here, to communicate to everybody. Never before has this been possible in such a lively, entertaining, not to say earth shaking and fantastic way!

But for ye olde editor, and ye younge typist, and ye sprightly workers in yon printing plant, the Monday Report has, indeed, sometimes, been a millstone instead of a milestone.

Therefore, with considerable joy, and a bit of glee mixed in there somewhere, I announce to one and all that ye editor will depart forthwith for his first vacation since putting on this particular hat.

Volume II, No. 2, will be the first issue I have not personally put to bed.

I am off to Philadelphia where my youngest daughter, who is tall and blonde and about the same age as Emily Hamer, who will be putting out the next issue, will be giving birth to my first grandchild. My daughter, that is, not Emily.

I go a father and will return a grandfather. If I succumb to grandfatheritis as badly as some people around here, you may be getting little notices about first words, and first steps and first teeth and all that. And I just might ramble on forever, like I'm doing now. After all, us editors, contrary to some learned opinions, are part of the human race! ...Jonathan Koontz

INDIVIDUALITY THROUGH INTERIOR DECORATING

Palm Beach Junior College will offer a new four-week Wednesday morning course-- Individuality Through Interior Decorating -- starting August 22 from 9 to 11 a.m.

Sandee J. Steinman, who studied architecture for two years at the University of Miami and received a Bachelor's Degree in Interior Design from Florida International University, will instruct the course. Steinman was formerly associated as an interior designer with Jordan Marsh and Mangurian's and is now a partner in Steinman's Showrooms in Delray Beach.

She says her course in interior decorating is a basic one, "that anyone can be comfortable in. Those who attend will be working on their own projects, and I don't want anyone to be scared away when I ask them to bring in a ruler and some graph paper," she says.

"We'll be working with floor plans and measurements, from the concrete floor up. I'll discuss what changes can be made to improve an existing arrangement through tricks and schemes with color; furniture styles and basic drafting techniques will also be included in the course.

FACULTY GREETED

Dr. Eissey welcomed "new and old" faculty members last Monday, telling them that his "Splendid Discontent" theme, used in his inaugural address last October is still the modus operandi at the college. He told the gathering that salaries are still the number one priority. (Note: The college was 23rd in the state when Dr. E. took over, and now we're about 16, according to Joe Schneider).

He asked the teachers and administrators to "speak in a positive way about the college."

The president added that the fact that the higher average GPA for PBJC students transferring to upper level colleges and universities was the topic of an editorial and very favorable media comment recently.

Dr. E. brought up the referendum of 1/2 mill coming up March 11, which should cost the average home owner (of a $30,000 - 40,000 home) $12 per year. "We'll need you for speeches and talks with neighbors," the president said.

Dr. E. mentioned how important the FACC (Florida Association of Community Colleges) was in helping push forward the favorable appropriations received by community colleges, and encouraged faculty members to join the organization.

PRAISE FROM EASTERN

Eastern Air lines has been pleased over the years with students from Palm Beach Junior College, according to a letter to Dr. Eissey from Senior Vice President, Personnel for the air line, Marvin C. Amos.

"I understand from my regional personnel office staff in Miami, that they have worked with PBJC over the years and have been pleased with the fine students produced by your institution," Amos said.

"The most promising prospects for students working their way through college could possibly be

TRUSTEES

Members of the Palm Beach Junior College Board of Trustees authorized the first step in two rule changes as follows: (1) that a high school diploma will be required for acceptance into the Associate of Arts Degree Programs at PBJC, and (2) that Certificates of Completion will be accepted for entry into the PBJC occupational preparatory programs, directly related to securing employment.

These rule changes were brought about by changes in provisions of Florida Law. Dr. Eissey said these rules "will not deter anyone from attending PBJC. The college will not close the door on a single student who wants to attend."

A rule change regarding Parking and Traffic Control was initiated, with fines to go to Student Financial Aid.

Mr. David Brady presented the college with a check for $400 from the Scottish Rite Foundation for a student in need.

Progress reports were made by heads of all campuses, as well as other PBJC administrators, indicating that PBJC is moving forward, with its Weekend College, Courses by TV and Newspaper, the new North Campus to be started close to the first of the year, and many meetings with industry in the area, to learn their educational needs.

at the Palm Beach Airport, in part-time agent positions.

"Subsequent to college, additional opportunities might be available at our Miami headquarters in the areas of computer sciences, flight attendant, electronics, engineering and accounting," Amos added.

AND GRANDMOTHERITIS TOO.....

Betty Woolfe reports the birth of her first grandchild, six pound, twelve ounce Jennifer Lynn.

WELCOME MAUREEN

Maureen Nelson, R.N., B.S.N., has been appointed Coordinator of Continuing Education to handle nursing and health-related continuing education courses.

Originally from New York City, she has been in the Palm Beach area for four years. She attended Mary Immaculate School of Nursing in Jamaica, New York, and received her B.S. Degree in Nursing from the State University of New York, Stoneybrook. She plans to start work on her Master's Degree in Education with a specialty in Health Education at Nova University next Spring.

She has served both at Community Hospital of the Palm Beaches and the Visiting Nurse Association as a nursing supervisor, and at Lakeside Health Center Nursing Home as Nursing Director.

The coordinator is president of District 9 of the Florida Nurses Association and is a board member and chairman of patient services of the Gold Coast Multiple Sclerosis Society. In addition she is a member of the American Nursing Association, the National League for Nursing -- she is a member of the nominating committee of the Southern Unit of the latter organization.

Maureen plans to expand the health-related courses for para-professionals. "I hope to start new courses for medical secretaries, nurse's aides, orderlies, medical, lab and x-ray technicians and various types of therapy assistants."

Announcements

Palm Beach Junior College has received a continuation grant for $4,700 for the Law Enforcement Education Program (LEEP) 1979-80. The officers for this grant are the Student Financial Aid and Criminal Justice Program Coordinator....Brannigan

A grant has been submitted to the State Department of Education, Division of Vocational Education called, Ancillary Services for Coordination and Articulation of Home Economics Program. The grant was under the direction of Dean Don Whitmer and Mrs. D. Gaunt for $28,330....Brannigan

The following position vacancy is being announced:

> Job Development Specialist for Handicapped and Minority Students: Position requires a bachelor's degree in psychology, vocational education or related area. This position is funded from a grant.

Interested applicants should contact the Director of Personnel.

Kathy Aiello, Betty Woolfe and Dr. Robert Kay attended an Activation Workshop for the Women's Center in Orlando last week.

Administered by the Board of Regents under the Title I Higher Education Act, the workshop provided training in evaluation techniques and guidelines to be followed by the trio.

State University System Program Specialist Shirley Kennedy will be on campus August 23 to assist Betty and Kathy.

Veterans dropped (WX'd) by instructors for excessive absences must be promptly processed via withdrawal slip. This is the only way we have of being notified to make a timely adjustment in benefits. Do not merely put a "WX" on the final grade report: it will not process through this office. Failure to make timely notification can result in the college's liability for overpayment of benefits....Don Lore

The Office of Resource Development has just completed a report to the Department of Education (Florida) on: Local Education Agency General Application for Federal funds received under provisions of the E.S.E.A. Act of 1965, as amended by the Education Amendments of 1978, P.L. 95-561.

THE REGISTRATION STORY

Those of us who work for the college realize that there is one really big story every semester --- how many students are enrolled and how many courses they are taking. Our service to the public, the quality of our education, the recruiting effort, the informational effort, the new programs, the new buildings -- all of these things pay off with more and better students, or they do not pay off at all. The student is, after all, why we are all here.

This fall term the story is good. We don't really know, yet, exactly how good, but it is good. The 9,000 plus figures make things sound spectacularly good -- but, almost 400 of those are early registrants in non-credit courses --- so the comparison with previous year enrollments, when only 4 or 5 non-credit enrollments were counted, is inexact.

On the other hand, there will possibly be additional enrollments in newspaper and TV courses, today for our employees' families and for elder Americans, for the Weekend College, and at PBJC South -- so it is anybody's guess as to final figures. Exact comparisons with a year ago get harder and harder to make.

With those words of explanation, here are some of the latest computer figures as of August 24.

	This Fall	Last Fall
Registered Students	9,367	8,398
Registered Central	5,895	5,617
Registered North	1,217	1,009
Registered Glades	532	596
Registered South	961	718
Registered Mixed	653	458

As can be seen, PBJC North and PBJC South continue to grow at a fast rate. Another interesting figure is that the "Mixed" group -- those taking courses on more than one campus, also continues to grow. When students from North, South, or Glades find it necessary to come to Central for one or more classes, they get put into the Mixed group. Although there is some flow of students from PBJC Central into the Mixed group, chances are that most in that group are the result of satellite campus activity.

It is shocking, but true, that there are people on our staff and faculty who do not realize the vital necessity of our campuses in North, South and Glades. Already, more than one third of our total enrollment is in these centers. Prediction: Two years from now, in August, 1981, and certainly no later than three years from now, we will cross the line where more of our students are in outlying campuses than are at PBJC Central.

Even more important than numbers of students, however, is the number of hours for which they are enrolled -- it is this figure which is used in determining FTE, (Full Time Equivalent), and it is FTE which determines to a large extent the level of funding from the state.

This year, the figure for registered hours stands at 75,261. Last year it was 70,424. That is very good news, indeed.

IMPASSE

The 17th session of collective bargaining between the college and the United Faculty ended Thursday afternoon when the union declared an impasse. The union elected to ask for a mediator, despite a reminder from Jesse Hogg, College Labor Negotiator, that mediation had proved to be a waste of time and money in a previous effort, and the observation that to his knowledge this is generally the case in public sector bargaining.

Hogg said the college may elect to begin the process of selection of a special master before conclusion of mediation in an effort to speed resolution.

The session began with a determined effort by the union bargaining team to inquire into the relationship between the college bargaining team and the board of trustees. After decisively rejecting the union's right to this knowledge, Hogg informed them that each trustee is given a digest of every meeting, and that meetings of the trustees and the college bargaining team are held from time to time.

Hopes for a quick settlement had dimmed earlier last week, on Tuesday, in the 16th session, when the union made an overall package settlement offer which would have cost very close to the same amount as their previous position.

Although some six items are still unsettled, two appear to be more important than others. The college has offered five per cent plus increments plus other considerations which bring the economic offer to approximately seven per cent. It has already granted a similar raise to non-unit personnel at the college. The union wants more.

The other issue which may become a stumbling block because it is misunderstood is discussed under the heading "Work Hours Are For Work."

An impasse has been declared twice before in the history of unions at PBJC. The processes which follow have proven in each previous instance to be time consuming, expensive, and ineffective.

It is possible for normal bargaining to resume at any time during this process, but there is no doubt that a declaration of impasse is a serious blow to the possibility of an amicable settlement.

WORK HOURS ARE FOR WORK

A new administration contract proposal to limit United Faculty Activity to non-working hours, that is, to hours not included in the 35 hours per week paid for by the college has been called "outlandish" and a "restriction on freedom of speech" in a recent UF Bulletin.

It is, of course, neither. The administration of this college pleads guilty to doing unusual things, but seldom if ever are they really "outlandish," and never, never, does it restrict freedom of speech. The terms might more correctly be invoked to describe the incidents which prompted the proposal, but we will leave that to your judgment.

In the early afternoon of August 16, Kenneth Megill, President of the United Faculty of Florida, who is not employed by the college, in the company of one of our faculty members, toured one of our buildings. For more than an hour, the two union representatives cornered faculty members, urging stronger support of the union and soliciting memberships.

A number of the faculty members who had been solicited were extremely busy trying to set up equipment and to prepare in other ways for the coming academic year. Some of them complained to Dr. Eissey that this solicitation had interfered with their ability to perform their jobs properly. (cont. on page 4)

Dr. Eissey's first reaction was to conduct an investigation to determine if the facts were as stated above. Convinced that this was indeed the case, Dr. Eissey instructed the Board Labor Attorney to draw up a strong statement to be included in the contract limiting union activity to non-working hours.

As part of his investigation, Dr. Eissey had a conference with the faculty member, who was accompanied by Mr. Megill and Ms. Llona Geiger, Representatives of the United Faculty of Florida. Dr. Eissey wanted, first of all, to ascertain the facts from the people involved.

After Megill and the faculty member admitted that they were, in fact, talking to faculty members about union activities during working hours, Dr. Eissey warned that such activity will not be tolerated at Palm Beach Junior College, and that, as President, he will react to the fullest extent allowed by law to insure that there is no further disruption of normal college business.

Late in the conference, Dr. Eissey noticed that Mr. Megill was taping the interview, and obtained a copy of the tape.

These actions, admitted during the taped conversation, not only constitute a violation of the current contract, (still in effect under the status quo rule), but also appear to be a violation of Florida Statutes, Chapter 447, Section 447.509, which states that > "Employee organizations, their members, agents, representatives, or any persons acting on their behalf are hereby prohibited from:

> (a) Soliciting public employees during working hours of any employee who is involved in the solicitation....."

While this particular incident seems to be well covered by state law, Dr. Eissey believes that the principle of reserving working hours for work is important, and should be a part of the college contract with the union.

Funds for the operation of the college come largely from state tax funds appropriated by the legislature and from student fees. They are to be used in service to students, not to pay salaries of person involved in union activity.

It would seem that anyone who is aware of these facts would welcome a statement in our contract that work hours are for work. Only those who intend to use time paid for by tax funds and student fees to pursue union business -- or those confused by inflammatory rhetoric -- could have any real objection.

NEW ALLIED HEALTH BUILDING

"Fantastic! .... Wonderful."

These were Betty Morgan's first words when asked her reaction to the new Allied Health Building. The Nursing Department chairman was only a shade more enthusiastic than John Schmiederer, Allied Health chairman. "Great!" was John's first word.

But Nancy Buhl's expression was one that perhaps summed up better the experience of moving into suitable quarters for the first time. "We are no longer Allied Poverty!"

Miss Morgan also referred to the difficulty of working in the previous cramped quarters: "It is really nice to teach where students can hear you," she said. "We even have room for proper storage of our models in the lab."

John pointed out that the building, although already in use, has not been officially turned over to the College, yet.

There are still some things left unfinished on the contractor's check list," he said. "We are still moving in some of the new equipment, and everybody must still remain flexible during our moving-in period. But I would say the overall reaction from students and staff has been very favorable."

Plans for a formal dedication of the new $1.75 million building have not yet been completed, but it is hoped that this can be set sometime in the first half of October.

But if you are curious about this newest addition at PBJC Central, you do not need to wait for the dedication. Take your own tour of the three-story building. There are 10 classrooms, four labs, three conference rooms, a 200-seat auditorium and a number of offices for faculty and staff. It is a building we can all take pride in.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

On August 23 the U[illegible] Faculty declared impasse and asked for mediation. If an agreement cannot be reached i[illegible]diation the next step in the impasse process is a review with a Special Master. Under law the Special Master has the responsibility for listening to the facts and rendering recommendations which are not binding on either side.

In the past impasse proceedings have taken about 6 months before the issues are submitted to the Board of Trustees who have the final authority to determine what action will be taken.

Before going to impasse one would expect that there should be significant differences between the union and management since a long delay in agreement could result in financial losses to the faculty that may not be regained. Interestingly the main difference between the economic position of the union and management is 2%. The College has offered 5% plus increments and the United Faculty wants 7% plus increments.

From the very first salary discussions with the union this year, the College has made it clear that it does not propose to make retroactive pay increases, and has tried repeatedly for an early settlement. If no agreement is reached shortly and a Special Master Proceeding is necessary one has to ask if the potential loss of salary is worth going that far for the small difference.

TWO OPEN LETTERS: On this page and the next are two open letters, the first written by Dr. Eissey and the second by Dr. Peter J. Krieger. Dr. Krieger has given specific permission to reprint his letter in the Monday Report.

August 31, 1979

Dear Faculty Member:

Although the administration does not intend to respond routinely to union newsletters the United Faculty newsletter of August 27 contains several statements relating to increments which are erroneous and need to be corrected.

The newsletter states "Concerning increments: They are not and never have been a part of a raise."

Increments are a part of a raise and they are used in computing the 7% maximum of the Federal Wage and Price Guidelines. The Federal Register clearly addressed this point on December 28, 1978 when it stated "In all cases step-rate or similar increases that represent moves through a pay hierarchy for work that is not substantially changed are included as pay increases."

The Board's offer of a 5% across the board raise plus increments represents an average increase of about 7% -- the maximum permitted by the Federal Wage and Price Guidelines for one year contracts.

More than a month ago the union complained at the table that our offer was less than 7% by about $25,000. In an attempt to reach an agreement the Board promptly modified its offer by increasing the increments, overload and workshop rates and substitute pay. Each of these categories was increased by 7% except increments for instructors were increased by 16% and overload and workshop pay was increased by 15%. An additional $25,000 was to be budgeted to fund these proposals.

The union responded by rejecting our counter offer and they continue to insist on being paid an amount which exceeds the Federal Wage and Price Guidelines.

The union newsletter also erroneously stated that 98 persons are eligible for an increase but some "will not receive one because they are not recommended for one." The fact is that all these full time faculty were recommended and have or will receive an incremental increase as long as it does not exceed the maximum of their salary ranges.

As you can see the Board cannot offer additional funds without exceeding the Wage and Price Guidelines.

Sincerely,

Ed

Edward M. Eissey

Mr. Dennis Alber
c/o Palm Beach Junior College
Lake Worth, Florida

Dear Mr. Alber:

I was in attendance this afternoon due to the suggestion that some of the information that I have might be incorrect in relation to the manner in which the negotiations sessions have been going. I thought that you might be interested, as apparent chief negotiator, in my impressions of the session.

1. I find that the union bargaining members are lacking in common decency in relation to allowing a very interested party to observe the total proceedings. I realize that a non-dues paying individual, by law, may be excluded from caucus; however, this exclusion is not mandated. I still, have very little, other than my observations of today, on which to base my feelings about your negotiations.

2. Although I have not been to other meetings of this negotiation, I may only state that there appeared to be little in the manner of real negotiations in evidence. It has been my understanding that one enters into one of these meetings, with some idea in mind as to the goals to be reached, BUT that one, also, enters into bargaining with the spirit of the BARGAIN in mind. I saw little in that vein as presented by the union side; what I saw was a flat demand and no bend.

3. The apparently abrupt statement of impasse in effect, stalls a contract for a minimum of three months. I arrived at the three month figure from the discussion about the table after the declaration of impasse. This means that the same salary, working conditions, inability to teach Saturday school, etc. will, most likely, stand beyond next term. As the union declared impasse with no apparent reason, as the union declared impasse very abruptly, as the union had to ask for the procedure from the opposition, I am left with a real doubt as to the goals of the members of the bargaining committee and the union, as a whole.

4. All of the members of the union at the table, I am certain, consider themselves to be fine educators. Further, by reputation, they are. However, I certainly hope these same educators walk into the classroom in a better state of preparation than was shown in representing the faculty, myself included.

After this meeting, I am rather happy not to be a dues-paying member of your union. I do not feel that I am able to, in good conscience, support any effort such as that witnessed today. I am rather disappointed.

Should you so choose, you may consider this to be an open letter.

I am,

/s/ Peter J. Krieger, EdD.

WE WERE A SHELTER

DAVID: NOT SO BAD

Hurricane David came roaring up from the sea last week directly at the Central campus at Lake Worth, then, at the last minute slid gently north to knock down Dr. Eissey's fruit trees instead of flailing away at the campus. According to Claude Edwards there was very little damage at the College except for some unnecessary pruning of vegetation and some small water damage.

Classes were canceled Tuesday, and most, but not all, employees were given a day off, to allow maintenance people time to get things back in order before starting out again Wednesday morning with a full schedule.

Many thanks to Claude and his crew, to the payroll people, and to the data processors who came in to run payrolls, so that checks would be ready on Wednesday morning.

The College served as a hurricane shelter to more than 100 persons during the storm. There was some uncertainty about this on Thursday and Friday, when Civil Defense began announcing that the College was a shelter -- since the Red Cross had made no arrangements with us.

Nevertheless, we felt we had an opportunity to serve the community, and did so. The shelter was set up in the Foodservice Building. People began arriving by 3 P.M. Sunday, and we finally got a Red Cross worker about 8 P.M. There were people of all ages, with elderly people predominating.

Damage to personal property for most of the staff appeared to be small, with occasional exceptions, mostly among those of us who live in the northern part of the county, east of U.S. 1.

For most of us, David meant curtailment of Labor Day plans, a little excitement, a good bit of work, loss of power and/or telephone service for a time, and not much more.

Frederic, as this is written, seems like a pale imitation heading for the Gulf.

WHO INTRUDED?

ORDERLY PROCESSES

A ited Faculty newsletter of September 6 accuses Dr. Eissey of an "intrusion into the orderly process of collective bargaining," and since this alleged intrusion concerns the duties I have been assigned as a member of the College collective bargaining team, I would like to set the matter straight. If there has been a breach of orderly process, it has been on the part of the president of the union, not the President of the College. If there has been an intrusion that destroyed the harmonious relationship between administration and union it was, in my opinion, not the President of the College who intruded but the president of the United Faculty of Florida.

Let me set the stage: On July 30 the union, after only a few minutes discussion, turned down an offer the College had fully expected to result in a settlement, and broke off that session without making arrangements for another meeting. Up until that moment every collective bargaining meeting ever held at PBJC had either been arranged at the end of the previous meeting, or later through my office. This was an orderly process, agreed to by both sides, both by custom, and explicitly at the bargaining table on July 28, 1978, and Ms. Robinson was in attendance.

As the days went by following the meeting of July 30, Dr. Eissey became increasingly concerned over the fact that no bargaining was going on, and checked frequently with my office to determine if any arrangement had been made. He checked with my office on the morning of August 6. Only after this check, and after trying to contact Dennis Alber and Trinette Robinson, who were both on vacation, did Dr. Eissey call the state union office to see if we could begin collective bargaining soon. Following that, he wrote his open letter to the union president.

He had no way of knowing that the union president had not followed the orderly process of collective bargaining and tried to arrange a meeting with the labor attorney -- who probably assumed that she had already notified my office.

Even had Dr. Eissey known that the union was finally ready to meet again on August 16, the central point of his letter -- that negotiations had been broken off by the union at a very crucial stage for an unusual length of time -- remained, and still remains a fact. Nevertheless, had the president of the local union followed the orderly process of collec- bargaining, it would have been known to Dr. Eissey that another meeting had, belatedly, been arranged.

In my opinion, the real "intrusion" occurred at the meeting of August 16, when, for the first time in our negotiations this year, the harmonious working relationship between the two negotiating teams was shattered by an outsider, Ken Megill, president of the United Faculty of Florida, who knew very little of what was going on. As you know, some aspects of that meeting will now be decided in court.

In regard to the first page of the union newsletter of September 6, I would like to urge every faculty member to read it carefully. Dr. Eissey's quoted statement is fully and completely borne out by the article which follows. At no time has Dr. Eissey, or any member of the negotiating team, claimed that the 7 per cent ceiling was a law, and the technique of setting up an obvious falsehood, claimed to be true by no one, and then branding it as a falsehood is more to be pitied than emulated.

If you read beyond the headline and the first paragraph of the news story, you see that the community college division knows of no other community college which has exceeded t figure being offered here, and you note that Harold Kastner said that "under his agency's directive a 7 percent figure would include both salaries and fringe benefits."

If you simply ignore the misleading implications of the headline and the first paragraph, it is an interesting story.

At this moment, my concern is for the future. We have received no communication about mediation, and we are waiting again. . . . Dr. Elisabeth Erling

WEEKEND COLLEGE

By the time you read this, the first class meetings of the Weekend College will have taken place. As this is written, 12 sections of 10 courses (extra sections were necessary in Computer Theory and Tennis), are meeting in the morning, and two courses in the afternoon.

This is a great result for our first venture in Weekend classes, and we have learned much in the process of planning and organizing this effort.

When the idea of Weekend College was first brought up by Dr. Eissey at staff meetings, there were two different roads toward implementation. One was to conduct a study to try to determine how to go about doing it -- and the other was just to do it, and learn as we worked.

The latter course was adopted, and, in surmounting some unseen difficulties we now have gained information which will make our next effort even more successful.

In addition to the obvious advantages to the College of more students, and greater service to the community, the College also gains much in visibility and a favorable image through such new educational ventures.

WOMEN'S LEGAL FAIR

A Women's Legal Fair will be held at the Palm Beach Junior College Student Activity Center from noon to 4 P.M. Saturday September 29.

The Fair will be co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Office and the Palm Beach County Commission on the Status of Women.

Florida State Representative Eleanor Weinstock will review state legislation affecting women.

Local attorneys, experts and agency representatives will staff booths to provide up-to-the-minute information through individual and group discussion on such subjects as credit, domestic relations, and child support.

Information may be obtained by calling the Commission on the Status of Women, 837-2603.

UF Approves
REFERENDUM MOVES AHEAD

Even though our millage referendum is still nearly six months away and the public phase of our information program will not begin until late January, considerable work behind the scenes is already underway.

The brochure that everyone received with their last paycheck is an example of preliminary work, and was not meant to begin an immediate public phase. There have been a number of people who wanted a supply of these brochures, and they will be available-- printed on a slightly better quality paper -- as we get ready for the final push. There were two reasons it was distributed to our own PBJC community at this time:

1. We wanted everyone to be aware of the information we now have concerning the referendum, so that you can become a part of this effort right from the beginning.

2. We want reactions from you on the brochure, suggestions for improving it, and any other suggestions you have as we continue our preparations.

Some time ago, Dr. Eissey appointed Tony Tate to head the on-campus committee on the referendum, and he has now appointed Elisabeth Erling, Jim Brannigan and Jonathan Koontz to that committee. Any of these people will be glad to accept any suggestions.

Dr. Tate and Dr. Erling met Monday with a committee from the United Faculty of PBJC which is to be a faculty committee on the referendum. Attending from the UF were Dennis Alber, Elizabeth Allred, Freddie Jefferson, Charles Toohey and Philip Millard.

"The meeting was harmonious," Dr. Eissey reported. "We feel that the faculty will not only be cooperative, but enthusiastic."

Dr. Eissey said a number of very helpful suggestions were made during the meeting and that further meetings will be held as plans progress.

Board of Regents to study the upper division only universities in Florida that cooperation between PBJC and FAU has been excellent, and is continuing to grow. He pointed out that FAU in effect already has a four-year course, since some 1,200 PBJC students are on the same campus at Boca Raton.

Several alumni of the PBJC/FAU cooperative effort agreed with Dr. Eissey's position, as did the administrators of FAU. Some FAU faculty members at the public meeting, apparently hoping for a strengthening of the financial position of the College through greater numbers of students, argued for Freshmen and Sophomore classes at FAU. The study of Florida's four upper division universities is to be completed in October. The meeting was held at Thomas Fleming Hall at FAU.

CONGRATULATIONS

A meeting of the Nursing Department, called by Chairperson Betty Morgan took a turn that was a total surprise to Betty.

Walking into the room, she was surprised to note the presence of several former members of the staff -- and then, before anything else took place, the staff presented Betty with a handsome plaque with the following inscription:

> "This award is given as an expression of our gratitude for your untiring and dedicated effort, your superior guidance, and steadfast loyalty to the nursing profession of Palm Beach County - 1959-1979."

They said it well, Betty. We all owe you a vote of thanks for a job well done.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Health Clinic will again sponsor the Heart Risk Factor Screening Program under the American Heart Association of Palm Beach County. Appointments are now being made in person in the Health Clinic. The testing will be done on Tuesday through Thursday, 8:30 A.M. till noon, starting Tuesday, October 23rd, and will continue until everyone desiring testing is taken care of. This includes all students, faculty, staff and their families, of all PBJC Centers. ...M. Cannon

OLD LEBANESE SAYING

"If the target is moving faster than you are, it is hard to get behind and push."

..Ed Eissey, during a Let's Get Moving talk to administrators.

COORDINATOR OF EVENING AND WEEKEND CLASSES

A new position -- Coordinator of Evening and Weekend Classes -- was approved by the trustees at their September meeting, last Wednesday night.

It is a part-time administrative position -- 20 hours per week -- and whoever is hired for the job will be in charge of the campus during evening hours and on Saturdays.

Dr. Eissey explained to the trustees that the position has been made necessary by the tremendous expansion of the workload in Continuing Education and the Registrar's Office.

He said experienced administrators who are knowledgeable about PBJC are available in the community for such a part-time position.

Both Jack Kelly and Buck Rader, who told the Board about Data Processing at the college, said that one of their basic goals was to destroy the aura of mystery about computers through education.

Plans for future use of the computer involve extension of on-line registration to the area high schools, sharing our on-line registration procedures with high schools, possible extension of on-line registration to area shopping malls, and greatly expanded use in education. Buck Rader said that a re-working of our Data Processing program to keep up with technological change is already well underway.

In other actions of interest to the college community the board:

Adopted on final vote new rules for acceptance of students in AA and AS programs and for Parking and Traffic Control.

Asked the state to issue Capital Outlay Bonds in the amount of $175,000 for the college.

Renewed CETA agreements which will bring about $41,000 to the Glades Center and aid about 80 students -- with expressions of thanks to Dr. Conley and his staff for the work which brought designation of the college as the center for business training in the Glades. (cont. on page 2)

THREE REGISTRATION STORIES

No. 1: STATEWIDE

The number of Floridians enrolled at the State's 28 community colleges is continuing to grow at a faster rate than population growth. In 1973-74, with the State's population at 7,845,000, there were 445,568 students enrolled, or 5.68 percent of the total state population. In 1978-79, with an estimated state population of 8,959,000, there were an estimated 615,000 unduplicated students enrolled, or 6.86 per cent of the population. We had a part in this impressive record, reported from the State Department of Education.

No. 2: PBJC

A reception honoring the administrative officers of PBJC North, South and Glades for their efforts in organization and recruiting has been planned by Dr. Eissey, and will take place at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, in the second floor lobby of the Administration Building.

Honored guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Conley, Mr. and Mrs. Tanner, Dr. and Mrs. Smith and Dr. and Mrs. McGirt. Other invited guests will include the college trustees and administrators at PBJC Central.

Dr. Eissey said that it is far too easy for those working at PBJC North, South and Glades to get a feeling that they are on the firing line, and are not really appreciated by Central campus administrators.

"We are all part of one college community," Dr. Eissey says, "and we want to take this occasion to let these key administrators know that we recognize and appreciate the tremendous job they and those working with them are doing.

"Advances in enrollment don't just happen -- they are earned by hard work," he said. "We want to take a few minutes to honor those who have been hard at work for all of us."

No. 3: PBJC NORTH

An example of just what Dr. Eissey was talking about is a new course to begin at Pratt & Whitney on October 1.

Ottis Smith, working with P & W administrators, notably Peri Barsky, Educational Administrator, has arranged for registration, payment of fees, and class attendance all to take place at the Beeline Highway plant.

The course will be Business English, with an emphasis on practical problems associated with dictating, stenography, and typing. It also includes an intensive section on grammar and sentence structure.

Frankie Davis will be teaching the course, and it will carry full credit. This is a small sample, but a good one, of what we hope to be doing more and more often in the future.

Agreed to a new series of payments from Edison Community College for Data Processing services we furnish them.

Authorized signing Certificate of Final Inspection for handball courts at PBJC Central.

OPEN HOUSE - ALLIED HEALTH BUILDING

Area residents are cordially invited to attend an Open House at the new Allied Health Building Sunday, October 7 from 2 to 4 p.m., according to John Schmiederer, Chairman of the Allied Health Division.

At 3 p.m. a ribbon cutting ceremony will be held, with Dr. Edward M. Eissey, Dr. Harold C. Manor, PBJC President Emeritus, Dr. Philip Lichtblau, Chairman of the PBJC Board of Trustees, and Dr. Luis Guerrero, President of the Palm Beach County Medical Society participating.

Refreshments will be served in the main lobby of the building, Schmiederer said.

"Normally, we don't permit food and beverages in the hallways, but this is a special occasion," he added. "And because the Open House is for the Allied Health Building, we've decided to serve only such natural foods as fruit juices, fruit and nuts."

The public is invited to tour the three-story building, which has been under construction since May of 1978. It has ten classrooms, four laboratories, three conference rooms, a 200-seat auditorium and 28 offices for staff and faculty.

The Allied Health Division includes the Nursing Department with Betty Morgan as chairman, Dental Health Services, with Dr. Hal Hutchins as chairman. The division also includes such Related Health programs as Medical Assistant, Medical Technologist, Mental Health Technology, Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy, Paramedics and Radiological Technology.

Except for Dental Health Services which has its own building, all Allied Health personnel are housed in the new building, Schmiederer said.

PERSONAL NOTES --- GRANDFATHERITIS STRIKES AGAIN!

Bob Suttle is a grandfather-by-marriage and is absolutely ignoring the "by-marriage" part of that title. Dot's oldest son's wife has given birth to Grace Marie Whatley, and Dot and Bob are both all smiles. "Looks just like me," says Bob, proudly, "you know, fat cheeks and all that!"

AND AGAIN!

Contrary to first-time grandfathers and grandmothers, Coach Joe Ceravolo is taking being a grandfather a few weeks back totally in stride. It's not so new to Joe. This was his fifth outing. On one point, though, he agrees totally with the other new grandfathers and grandmothers around here -- it's a lot easier than being a mother or father!

We were sorry to hear that Dr. Robert Kay was hospitalized in the Coronary Care Unit at Doctor's Hospital September 13, however, are happy to report that he should be able to return home in several days.

Daisy Jackson is sorely missed at the News Bureau. Daisy was involved in an auto accident in September and will be unable to return to work for two months.

Diane Lester will be leaving the Print Shop October 1 for the forthcoming birth of her second child -- Congratulations Diane.

TO WAIVE OR NOT TO WAIVE

You have already received a ballot by which you can indicate whether you wish the system of fee waivers begun this fall to continue. A bit of the history of this fringe benefit, and an idea of the size of the current waiving of fees for employees and dependents might be of interest as you decide which blank to check.

The fee waiver on a space available basis was offered by the administration to the union during the early sessions of the current round of bargaining, which began last March. It was offered in the full realization that this arrangement would not give the user the full flexibility and freedom of choice given to students who pay full tuition. It was offered as a step in the right direction, not a final destination -- and was accepted as such.

Even this modest proposal met with opposition in the local press. Nevertheless, it was adopted by the board and put into effect for all employees in the Fall Term. There were the usual snags and snafus involved in putting any new program into effect, but people did get enrolled in classes, and are still enrolled.

Currently there are 74 students enrolled for 270 credit hours, mostly on the central campus, although the highest percentage figures are in the Glades. CENTRAL CAMPUS: Faculty, 13, dependents 23 -- Staff 19, dependents 5. Total, 60. GLADES: Faculty, 3, dependents 3 --- Staff 3, dependents 2. Total 11. NORTH: Staff, 2. SOUTH: Faculty, dependent, 1. This count may not be complete, but there are at least this many.

All this seems straightforward enough, but a strange thing has been reported to have happened. Instead of being happy with the brand new half a loaf, some of the users of the new fee waiver system seem to be so fixated on the half loaf they do not have that they don't seem to be enjoying what they do have. It has been suggested that the current system is so poor that we should go back to having no system at all. It is possible that this is a correct perception -- hence the survey. It should be pointed out that the numbers listed above are only those personnel and dependents enrolled on the free tuition basis. We do not have a count of those paying full tuition.

WE MAKE AN ERROR

It has come to the attention of the Monday Report that one statement in the Special Edition of September 26 is in error. The error was in a paragraph reporting on the collective bargaining meeting of September 24, concerning the only issue unsettled at that point in negotiations. The paragraph, which digested several minutes of conversation, is reprinted below. The underlined sentence is in error.

> Jesse Hogg, for the college, said the article closely tracks state law. Ann Steckler, for the union, offered to include the state law, itself. Hogg said that a difference in interpretation of the state law has already led to a court action which might not be completely resolved for years. Steckler said she had been advised that there were hidden traps in the language of the article. Hogg asked that the traps be identified so they could be eliminated. Steckler said she did not know what they were.

The tapes of the meeting show that Mrs. Steckler did not say that she did not know what the hidden traps were. At one point she says: "I know, but you ask me why I'm so reticent about telling you what our objections are." Reticence certainly does not equal lack of knowledge. We were wrong and we apologize. We do our best to give only correct information, and when we are in error, we are happy to do our best to correct the error...JK

SEND MONEY

Chief Administrators from PBJC North, South and Glades were honored at a reception held by Dr. Eissey Tuesday in the Administration Building. Dr. Eissey said the purpose of the reception was to give a public "thank you" to a job well done. He said results as seen in enrollment figures were far beyond his expectations this year, and that such results could not be achieved without hours of dedicated work.

Mrs. Hisetta S. Dyson, trustee, added her congratulations to those of Dr. Eissey. She said she meets PBJC students or former students "here, there, and everywhere" in her daily life, most recently in visiting friends who are hospitalized.

Jim Tanner responded for PBJC South, and there was no dissenting word from Ottis Smith or Cecil Conley: "At PBJC South we are feeling fine," Jim said, "Send Money."

WEDNESDAYS, & FRIDAYS WITH ED

Tuesday with Ed, the meeting during which we are all given the chance to communicate openly with our President, is branching out.

We now have Wednesday With Ed and Friday With Ed.

The first Wednesday With Ed was held last week in the college cafeteria for students. Friday With Ed will be October 12 at the South Campus. Tuesday With Ed is held on the first Tuesday of every month at the Central Campus Now all we need are Mondays and Thursdays With Ed.

A CONTRACT

Unless some unforeseen and cataclysmic event has taken place between the time this is written and the time you read it, the stage has now been set for a quiet meeting of the Board of Trustees at 2:30 p.m. today to ratify agreements which will result in a new contract between the college and the United Faculty of PBJC.

The final agreement between bargaining teams came at about 5:40 p.m. Tuesday at the Federal Building in West Palm Beach after wording for an article reserving work time for work acceptable to both sides had been developed with the aid of Federal Mediator Harold Mills.

The article had been completely rewritten during the two and a half hour meeting. Union negotiators, who had refused to disclose to the college bargaining team which terms in the original article were the source of difficulty apparently did discuss these matters with the mediator, so that an article acceptable to them could be written.

Contract completions are sometimes joyous occasions, but this one was not. Union negotiators said only that they could live with the revised article. College negotiator, Jesse Hogg, said that from his viewpoint, the revised version said the same thing as the original version.

The agreement retained the economic considerations previously agreed upon. The increase is effective on October 5, but because membership ratification did not occur until October 4 the increases could not be processed for payment on the October 5 paycheck. As a result the paycheck issued on October 19 will reflect the additional amount which would have been received on October 5 if there had been time for processing. Pay checks issued on or after November 5 will revert back to the regular salary with the 5% increases plus appropriate increments.

The general viewpoint of the administration is that it welcomes the end of negotiations and the forthcoming signing of a contract. It is good that the energies of all who have been involved in the bargaining process can now be channeled fully into constructive activity for students, and for the future of the college.

It is also the viewpoint of the administration that the round of bargaining just completed was much longer and more difficult than necessary. From the beginning of the economic discussions, the administration offered raises averaging out at about seven per cent, and offered to discuss rearrangement of the terms within those guidelines. It was not until months later that a union rearrangement of that seven per cent was finally suggested at the meeting of September 24.That counterproposal was immediately accepted by the administration. The bottom line is that everything that is in the final contract, except for modifications like making effective raises slightly higher for some members and lower for others, was on the table long before July 1.

In like manner, the problems in arriving at acceptable wording of the last article could probably have been overcome weeks earlier had discussion centered on the article itself during bargaining meetings. Seldom can emotionalism outside a bargaining meeting take the place of deliberation at the meeting.

It has been made clear at many bargaining sessions that the administration's aim is to increase salaries and provide better working conditions as rapidly as possible for all employees. An offer made during negotiations is always made from that viewpoint, and is not intended to be less than the administration ultimately can give. Perhaps an acceptance of that viewpoint might result in a shorter period of negotiation during future rounds...JK for the administration.

SPECIAL BOARD MEETING

A special board meeting last Monday afternoon ratified action taken earlier by the administration in circuit court.

Explaining the need for the board meeting, Jesse Hogg, college labor attorney, said a technical point had been raised questioning the legality of the board's suit for an injunction against the United Faculty of Florida, the UF of PBJC, et al.

Hogg said that while he did not agree with the point that had been raised, the consideration of the matter by the board in public session should eliminate any doubt.

Trustee Susann Anstead said she thought the suit should be pressed against the UF of Florida and Kenneth Megill, its president, but should be dropped in respect to the UF of PBJC and Harriet McCann. The remainder of the board disagreed, and voted to continue the suit as originally styled.

Dr. Eissey reported that Trinette Robinson, president of the UF of PBJC asked to appear on the matter and had been granted permission, but had asked to withdraw just prior to the meeting.

BOLD, NEW PLAN

A bold plan for development and use of about 20 acres of the northern part of Central campus was presented to the board by William M. Plum, Jr., and Charles A. Mullan of Mullan Enterprises. Board reactions showed much interest, gratitude to the developers for bringing their idea to the board, but a desire to investigate all aspects of the idea before approving this type of development.

Plum, chief spokesman for the group, said the first plan by his group had been to develop a site across Congress Avenue from the campus in a cooperative way with the college, but when that site proved unsuitable they started discussions with Jim Brannigan, Resource Development Director, about possible use of the college property.

All buildings would tie in with existing educational programs at the college, would be built entirely with private funds, would provide income to the college during a 30-year lease, and would revert to college control at the end of the 30 years, Plum said.

Planned buildings included a Senior Citizen Apartment building, with food service tied into our Food Service programs and other college connections, a hotel which would provide employment and training opportunities in Hotel-Motel Management, a medical office center with ties to our Allied Health programs, a bank and a savings and loan building with obvious ties on campus.

Plum said buildings and landscaping would be planned in such a way that they do not clash with existing campus architecture and atmosphere.

In addition to income from lease of the land, the developers suggested that the college could also derive income from business arrangements with the enterprises operating the buildings during the 30 years. In a news broadcast following the meeting, Brannigan estimated that income could range anywhere from $250,000 to $500,000 per year depending on the size and success of the planned development.

After considerable discussion, the board decided to empower the chairman to appoint a study committee, which is to report back within 60 days. Board members made it clear to Mullan and Plum that if a development of this type is planned, the board would remain open to ideas from other developers, and would arrive at a decision during public meetings. (Cont. on page 4)

Dr. Lichtblau has now appointed the committee: Jim Brannigan, Chairman, Trustees Susann Anstead and Dolly Hand, students Tammy Prohaska and Robert Cobb, faculty members Trinette Robinson and Robert Suttle, John Townsend from the professional/supervisory group of career employees, and Dr. Robert H. Price, FAU, as an outside consultant.

COMING UP ROSES

Earlier, the Monday Report painted a rosy picture of enrollment this semester, but cautioned that the complete picture would not be available until after September 21, when credit enrollment, except for isolated cases, is over on all campuses. We now have the print-out of enrollment data as of September 29, and, as luck would have it, a print-out from September 30 of a year ago for comparison. There is no reason to change the color of the picture, everything still seems to be coming up roses.

Total registration is 10,727 -- a whopping 1,618 more than the 9,109 of a year ago. Credit enrollment, (which counts more in FTE than non-credit), is 9,442 -- up 792 from 8,650 of a year ago. Non credit enrollment showed a fantastic one-year growth from 459 a year ago to 1,285 this year.

Campus-by-campus comparisons show an exciting race developing between PBJC North and PBJC South, with North still in the lead, but South closing the gap. Last year, North led South by 107 students -- 1,015 to 908. Both scored significant gains this year, with North increasing to 1,310 and South to 1,240, leaving the two centers in a virtual tie. As in the earlier report, the print-out of September 29 shows a slight decrease in enrollment in the Glades, from 623 last year to 574 this year.

The totals given here are by no means the final ones for the term. At PBJC North, for instance, a credit class will be enrolling at Pratt & Whitney while this Monday Report is being put together, and another Real Estate class for credit will be started on October 17. In addition, since our non-credit courses are now also being made part of the computer record of enrollment, the total count will be going up throughout the entire semester.

Everybody involved in recruitment, (and that really should be everyone on every campus), can be happy about this optimistic report, but please don't take that as occasion to rest on the oars. Another semester comes up in January. JK

TRUSTEES NOMINATED

The following six names were sent to Governor Bob Graham by the Governor's Screening Committee to be considered for the two vacancies on the PBJC District Board of Trustees: Willard F. Findling, Palm Beach; Shannon R. Ginn, Palm Beach Gardens; Robert S. Kairalla, West Palm Beach; George A. Michael, West Palm Beach; and Martin Syden, West Palm Beach.

The meeting took place at the Forest Hill Branch of Citizens Bank, Tuesday, October 2 from 3:30 - 5:15 p.m.

Robert E. Rickett, West Palm Beach is chairman of the committee.

SUIT DISMISSED

The suit for an injunction against the United Faculty of Florida, the UF of PBJC, Kenneth Megill and Harriet McCann has been dismissed for mootness by Judge Timothy Poulton.

Oddly enough, the dismissal, because of the manner in which it occurred, serves administration purposes almost as well as an injunction.

An injunction puts the person who has been enjoined on notice that further actions of a similar nature will be dealt with severely by the court. Those who listened closely at Thursday's hearing, (a difficult task because of extremely poor acoustics), can be in little doubt that even without an injunction, notice has been effectively served.

"Moot" in this instance has roughly the same meaning as "hypothetical," or having no practical application at this time. In making the ruling, Judge Poulton noted that only one incident was alleged, and that a contractual agreement barring union activity during working hours has been reached. There is little doubt that repeated assertions by Pat Renovitch, attorney for the union, that union members will not violate the terms of the agreement had much to do with his decision.

Judge Poulton apparently agreed with Renovitch's contention that immediate disciplinary action by the administration for union activity during working hours under terms of the contract would be the right way of handling future violations.

Asked by Jesse Hogg, college labor attorney, what remedy the college could have against Kenneth Megill, who is not a PBJC employee, if he violates the law a second time, Judge Poulton said another suit should be filed in circuit court, and that the college should ask for it to be assigned to his court. It requires little imagination to understand the disposition of a judge who has relied on assertions of future innocence if he should discover that his trust has been misplaced.

One more point raised by Hogg was answered to the satisfaction of the judge when Renovitch, acting as attorney for Harriet McCann, stipulated that her client would not utilize a provision of law which seems to make it mandatory to go to court before discipline in cases of solicitation during working hours.

Judge Poulton listened to, but did not rule on, arguments and evidence as to whether the board's institution of the suit during a closed collective bargaining meeting was proper. He heard no evidence from the participants in the events of August 16, and, of course, made no ruling on these matters.

In effect, the dismissal says that by reaching agreement during collective bargaining on the exact point raised in the suit, the two parties have settled many of their differences out of court. The judge mentioned crowded court dockets as another reason for not hearing what could be a lengthy case.

While injunctive relief was not granted, it is clear that the argument for mootness would be utterly destroyed by a repetition of the event, or similar events.

The court action Thursday did nothing at all to encourage union activity during working hours. On the contrary, it produced a judge who would probably not be kindly disposed toward anyone who proves his faith has been misplaced. JK

"Each of the agencies will have a booth at the Fair and will be prepared to answer questions and pass out brochures," Mary says.

Besides dispensing information all five days, the Palm Beach Blood Bank will bring its Bloodmobile on Friday, October 19 to receive donations.

The Palm Beach Optometric Society will do eye screening on Thursday, October 18, as well as dispense information the other four days.

PBJC participants include the sponsoring Student Personnel Health Clinic, the Dental Health Auxiliary, Physical Education majors, Phi Theta Kappa, the National Junior College Honorary Fraternity, and the Student Government Association.

A PLETHORA??

In addition to edition instead of addition, (edition of October 1), edition after edition adds erratum upon erratum. A plethora, indeed almost a plague of errata. Two, anyhow. Last week.

In "Bold, New Plan," committee member Dr. Robert H. Kite was listed as Robert H. Price. (We told them that prices are as high as a kite, anyhow, but they still wanted us to get it right this week.)

In "A Contract" the date at the end of the first paragraph on page 2 should have read August 1 instead of July 1. Administration proposals went on the table July 17.

CHIP CARTER'S PBJC VISIT

A well-informed, low-key Chip Carter visited the Palm Beach Junior College SAC Lounge Friday during a Voter Registration Drive sponsored by the PBJC Political Union. Questions and answers included:

Q. Will Mondale remain on the ticket if President Carter runs for re-election?

A. It's the Carter-Mondale Ticket and will remain so; there's close cooperation between my father and Vice President Mondale.

Q. What about the legalization of marijuana?

A. The Administration supports a bill to decriminalize marijuana on the national level, with the states deciding individually.

Q. What about gun control?

A. President Carter is for limiting the sale of "Saturday Night Specials, but he feels people have the right to bear arms.

Q. What about the dangers of nuclear power?

A. The President is waiting for a report from the commission studying the Three Mile Island incident. He plans to use the windfall profits from the oil industry to develop energy alternatives--to find a clean source of energy. At present 13 per cent of our power comes from nuclear energy.

Q. Will Ted Kennedy run for President?

A. I'm one of the few who thinks he isn't going to run. If he does, I believe Carter will win across the country.

With a large number of secret service people nearby, Carter then walked through the crowd, shaking hands and talking to individual students, faculty, and staff members.

Alzalee Reese, PBJC freshman from Riviera Beach asked about Carter's plans for higher education.

"Chip told me that there will be more Federally funded programs, and that one out of every four students would get Federal help," she said.

"I'm planning to vote for President Carter, and I plan to go to the Democratic caucus Saturday, and vote for Carter delegates."

Beth Arning, PBJC sophomore from Vero Beach, had this to say: "I offered to help out in Carter's campaign. I feel Chip is a sincere well-informed representative of his father. He told me I should go to the caucus and help out."

Mark Smith, PBJC freshman from Palm Beach, had his picture taken shaking hands with Chip Carter "because my dad had his picture taken with Jimmy Carter when he was running for President, and I think he'd like to have one of me with Carter's son."

Smith, originally from Long Island, said he's a Kennedy buff.

Peggy Kunsman, secretary for the PBJC Physical Education Department told Carter she had an easy question for him: "Who do you want to win the World Series?" and Chip replied: "Well, that's a hard one, I'll have to go for Baltimore because it's so close to Washington." Members of the National Championship PBJC Women's Golf Team, Peggy and Tom Mullins, PBJC Athletic Director, posed for pictures with Carter.

HOTEL SCHOLARSHIPS

More than $2,600 in scholarships were given to 16 Palm Beach Junior College students by the Palm Beach County Hotel Association at an awards luncheon at the Breakers Hotel. (Oct. 9)

The event was distinguished by the first award ever of the Frank Williams Memorial Scholarship presented in the name of the late hotelman, and former president of the organization, by Mrs. Frank Williams to Robert Cobb.

Cobb, a PBJC sophomore, is not only a good student, Dr. Eissey told those present at the meeting, he is a good citizen, and is active in the Student Government Association. "He is the kind of person Frank would like to see getting the first award in his name," Dr. Eissey told Mrs. Williams.

FROM TWO PLUS TWO TO FRISBEES ON THE BEACH

The opening guns have sounded and battle has been joined in a 13-year war that directly concerns you and your way of life, and things have gone so much our way, you may not have even noticed.

BACKGROUNDING: (excerpted from articles in the Gainesville Sun, the New York Times and the Atlanta Constitution) This year, 1979/80 is the great divide between an era of constant, confident growth in higher education, and a dark, unchartered period of steady decline in enrollments. In 1979 America's 18-year-old age group -- the traditional source of entering college freshmen -- peaks. In the next 13 years this natural student pool plunges 25 per cent.

In the last decade the economic advantage of a college education has slipped. College grads earned a whopping 53 per cent more than high school grads a decade ago, but today the figure is 35 per cent. During the same decade, college costs have soared even faster than inflation. Parents are asking themselves: Is it worth it?

Inflation hits with particular fury at colleges and universities because they are so labor intensive, with personnel costs running 60 to 70 per cent of operation budgets. Costly federal and state regulations, almost never funded, continue to increase the economic strain, even if enrollment could stay even.

PREDICTION: The October issue of the Atlantic Monthly magazine predicts that the crunch between dwindling enrollment and higher costs will force 300 to 500 colleges and universities out of business by 1992. Although the small quaint campus seems most endangered, large public institutions, faced with taxpayer revolts, will also suffer.

Thursday, October 25 — Paul Hitchcock, Mathematics Department

Emily Pawley, Data Processing Dept.

Sunday, October 28 — Carol Baker, Dental Health Dept.

THE WAR. The opening guns in our part of the 13-year-war involve the concept of two plus two -- two years of education at a community college followed by two years at a university. A well-publicized push by Florida International University for permission to enroll freshmen and sophomore students has brought the wisdom of the two plus two idea into question. So far, we are doing rather well in this first battle for future students. Our friends at FAU have been firm for the idea, (with a few exceptions), and the Florida Board of Regents has accepted a preliminary report which calls for continuing our present cooperative arrangements. The report foresees the possibility of some freshmen and sophomore classes at FAU sometime in the future, but limited to specific disciplines.

FRISBEES. In an article called "The Marketing of Colleges" the New York Times says: "Some colleges are turning to desperate new promotional techniques, such as handing out Frisbees on the beaches of Fort Lauderdale. Others are importing Iranians, Venezuelans, and Kuwaitis and looking wistfully at mainland China to fill dwindling ranks."

So far, PBJC has no dwindling ranks, and there is no sense of desperation in the many new ways in which we are attempting to more fully serve our community. But, just in case you were wondering whether there was any self-interest, (survival type), in our addition of media courses and weekend college, in our new emphasis on recruiting and retention, in our going into malls for recruiting, and the many other new innovations, you can stop wondering. There is.

We have not yet heard of PBJC Frisbees on the beach at Palm Beach, but if anybody can come up with the name of a generous alumnus who owns a frisbee factory, we just might get there sometime in this next 13 years. JK

PHI THETA KAPPA CONVENTION SUCCESSFUL

Delta Omicron, the central campus chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, successfully hosted the annual Florida PTK Convention October 12 - 14.

Students and sponsors from most of the 43 Florida PTK chapters attended the convention, held at the Sheraton Inn.

Activities included the election of the executive chapter succeeding Delta Omicron and workshops centered around this year's national theme "A Time for Truth: America's Need for a Governmental Renaissance."

Griffin Bell, former U.S. Attorney General, acknowledging signs heralding the "demise" of civilization, gave a message of hope to some of Florida's brightest young people at the awards banquet at the Breakers Hotel Saturday.

"I see brighter days ahead," Bell said. However, he warned that we must re-discover the principles of our founding fathers -- work, sacrifice, and duty.

Bell based his speech on three ideas of Arnold Toynbee, historian, who said that a civilization is ending when people lose control of their environment, abandon their ethical and moral principals, and develop schisms in the social body. He said that in order to avoid Toynbee's gloomy forecast we must rediscover the truth that, in Abraham Lincoln's words, America is "the hope of liberty for all people for all time."

Bell, whose roots are in Georgia, said he has always been proud to be a southerner, but that his experience as attorney general had reminded him over and over again, that: it is nice to be a southerner, but it is greatest of all to be an American.

State Representatives Eleanor Weinstock and Tom Lewis also spoke.

Local award winners were: Nicolet Superchi, Outstanding Member, Alpha Gamma Sigma Chapter, (PBJC North); Outstanding Theme usage, Delta Omicron Chapter; Allen Hamlin, Outstanding Alumnus,(Allen is co-sponsor of Delta Omicron); and Nicolet Superchi and Penny Simmons, Delta Omicron, Hall of Fame.

Delta Omicron received a Host Chapter Award from the National Office. Good Going PTK!!

TRUSTEES WEDNESDAY

PBJC trustees will hear an interim report on development of the Central campus through private funding at a regular meeting, Wednesday, October 24, 7:30 p.m., in the Foodservice Building.

A committee appointed by Dr. Philip Lichtblau, board chairman, has met once and developed some methods of procedure.

The trustees will be asked to agree to membership in the Community College Risk Management Consortium for three years. The consortium was formed to develop and implement plans for self-insuring some risks and to provide pooled purchasing power for other insurance.

Savings of $800,000 to $900,000 systemwide have been forecast when these plans materialize.

Barbara Matthews will present a resolution on the International Year of the Child, and will ask the board to adopt a resolution designating November 2 and November 3 as observance days at PBJC.

Another item on the agenda involves amending the Bargaining Unit salary schedule to take into account the recent agreement with the United Faculty.

Since the board has already ratified the contract, this item along with some 26 others, is expected to pass routinely, with little or no controversy or comment.

HEART RISK FACTOR SCREENING PROGRAM

PBJC faculty, staff, students and families will have an opportunity to participate in a Heart Risk Factor Screening Program starting Tuesday, October 23.

The program is offered in cooperation with the Heart Association of Palm Beach County, according to Mary Cannon, L.P.N., college nurse.

Appointments for screening are now being taken in person at the Health Clinic. The testing will be held in the Student Activity Center (SAC) Tuesdays through Thursdays from 8:30 a.m. to noon and will continue until everyone wishing to participate is accommodated.

The purpose of the screening is to discover conditions which may lead to heart attack or stroke, such as excessive blood cholesterol or fats; overweight; high blood pressure; smoking; lack of exercise; family history of heart disease or diabetes.

A short health history will be taken, height and weight recorded, and blood pressure, an EKG and blood tests made.

THE WASHINGTON CONNECTION

Arrangements have been confirmed -- Dr. Ed Eissey will converse via teletypewriter with Congressman Daniel Mica Thursday at 1:30 p.m. Mica will be somewhere in the Senate Building in Washington, D. C.

A TTY is a keyboard-type instrument with a cradle for a telephone receiver. Messages typed into the receiver of a phone equipped with a TTY come out of another TTY phone in printed form.

The Lantana Lions donated a portable TTY to the College during September, and last week the Pioneers, a telephone company workers' social club, donated another, permanent TTY.

Jim Brannigan, Dr. Erling and Dr. Kay, who will be in Washington Thursday, were instrumental in arranging the conversation.

If all goes well, the event will receive media coverage, so watch the news Thursday...

THE SHADOW BOX

FIRST ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

A Pulitzer Prize and Tony Award winning play, The Shadow Box, will be presented by the Assembly Committee and the College Players, on Thursday, November 8 at 9:10 a.m.

The Shadow Box deals with the terminal illness of three people, and the presentation on Thursday will be followed by a symposium on Death and Dying.

Two class periods will be dismissed on Thursday, November 8, for the performance and symposium, clearing the time from 9:10 a.m. to 12:20 p.m.

Three separate stories take place on stage, in three different cottages on the grounds of a hospital, which are set aside for the use of patients and their relatives or friends, to make their final hours as comfortable as possible.

The action cuts from family to family, showing the contrasting lives of the different characters. Frank Leahy is faculty director.

If you have difficulty in making the assembly program, the Shadow Box will be playing Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 9, 10, and 11, and also November 16, 17 and 18 at 8:14 p.m.

Matinee performances are scheduled at 2 p.m. Sunday, November 11 and 18.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

PAPER SHORTAGE, 1979

There is a severe paper shortage. Paper ordered in October will not be delivered until the end of January. Prices are going up fast. All state contracts for purchase of paper have been cancelled. Paper distributors are on allocations from their mills. We do not know how long this will go on, or whether it will be as severe, or even more severe, that the shortage of 1975.

The administration does not want to make mandatory rules, and hopes for voluntary compliance. Here are some ideas:

1. Use single spacing rather than double.
2. Use both sides when feasible.
3. Use telephone rather than memo unless a permanent record is needed.
4. Used paper can sometimes be used again for scratch paper.

If anybody has another suggestion, we'll be happy to pass it along to everyone else. The first one who writes in that we could conserve a lot of paper by doing away with the Monday Report gets an F for the term. JK

MODIFIED WORK WEEK, 1980

The four-day week will pay a repeat visit next summer. Barring some unforeseen difficulty with some branch of government, we'll go on the extended day schedules on May 5, cutting out Fridays for a three-day weekend until August 8.

It's a long time until we actually start, and details will need to be worked out and announced later. We thought you might like to do some early planning. JK

WESTERN WORDS

STATE UNIVERSITIES TO VISIT GLADES CAMPUS

For the first time, October 30 from 5 - 7 p.m., representatives of the nine universities of the Florida System will visit Glades campus.

The representatives will answer questions and distribute literature about the universities. They will visit PBJC Central Cafeteria 9 a.m. to noon the same day.

Florida State University, Florida A & M University, University of Florida, University of North Florida, University of South Florida, University of Central Florida, University of West Florida, Florida Atlantic University, and Florida International University are to be represented.

The primary purpose of the visit is for the convenience of PBJC students planning to transfer to upper level universities.

STUDENT SENATE SELECTED

Fourteen students were elected to the Student Senate October 9 - 10.

The five senators who received the most votes were to attend the meeting of the Florida Junior College Student Government Association in Tampa, October 25 - 27.

They are: Beverly Bottosto, Colleen Walsh, Lisa Bennett, Winston Walker, and William Brown. Others elected were: Guy Bair, Maurice Ergueta, James Adams, Nancy Luckasavage, Lisa Lautianen, William Watts, Scott Munn, Sandie Sullivan, and Les Markham.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

October 29, 1979

Dear Member of the College Community:

People voluntarily helping other people...it has been a fundamental part of American life for the past 200 years. That caring still goes on today through the many programs and services supported by United Way.

Your contributions will work hard all year long...helping people to return to a normal life following accidents or sickness...troubled people will be shown the way to come together as families again...for perhaps the first time in their lives, children will find a home and a family that cares about them...elderly people will find much needed companionship and meaningful activities..young people will receive the priceless gift of concern, guidance and values that will last the rest of their lives...mentally and physically handicapped people will be helped to develop their full potential...individuals will be assisted in emergency situations...and many others will be helped in hundreds of additional ways.

Our campaign sets the pace for the entire county. Payroll deduction will be available January 1, 1980. This year, we at the College will join businesses and organizations throughout the county and use a continuous twelve month payroll deduction schedule. Your new pledge will insure annual support of the 37 member agencies of the United Way. These agencies deliver much needed human services throughout the year.

In one way or another, the help that is given through Palm Beach Junior College touches each and every one of us. It makes Palm Beach County more than just a place to live. It makes Palm Beach County a community... a place where people care about people and the quality of life for all.

Keep up the good work. When you're asked, please pledge generously.

Sincerely,

Ed

Ed Eissey

PRIVATE DEVELOPMENT OF CAMPUS

TRUSTEES SEARCH FOR ANSWERS

Legal questions and an exploration of experience in other colleges will be the first steps in determining whether PBJC wants to proceed with plans for private development of the northern part of the PBJC Central campus.

Mrs. Homer Hand, trustee, made an interim report for the committee appointed by Dr. Philip Lichtblau, chairman, at the October meeting of the Board of Trustees Wednesday night.

Mrs. Hand said college attorney Jim Adams is researching a number of legal questions brought out at the first meeting of the committee, and Dr. Robert Suttle and Dr. Robert H. Kite, committee members, will be compiling information on colleges with similar developments already in operation.

Mrs. Hand said the next committee meeting has been scheduled for October 30.

The trustees approved Saturday, November 3 and Monday, November 5 as the days for Palm Beach Junior College's observance of the International Year of the Child. The Saturday date corresponds with a large county celebration here and at John Prince Park.

A feature of the Monday observance will be a concert at 11:30 a.m. on the SAC patio by our tiny tots from the Early Learning Center. We understand from those who have overheard practice sessions that they will be singing "It's a Small, Small World."

On the serious side, on Saturday there will be two workshops in honor of children, featuring Ella Jenkins, reknowned children's vocalist and composer and Dr. Marilyn Segal, from Nova University in a live demonstration of Infant Stimulation Technique. The workshops, 9 - 11 a.m. and 1 - 3 p.m., will be at the Foodservice Center.

In another action, the board unanimously supported a resolution from the state upholding the concept of Global Education. Dr. Eissey announced that Jim Brannigan and Dr. Elisabeth Erling were in Washington, D. C. at the time of the meeting in an effort to learn more about methods of implementing international education at the college.

EVEN MINUS SUNSHINE. . . .SOLAR SEMINAR SUCCESSFUL

A workshop on solar energy held October 16 in the Allied Health Building Auditorium attracted about 120 people, an excellent crowd for a rainy, stormy Tuesday evening.

John Townsend, workshop coordinator, was especially pleased with the turnout, as some of the people came from as far as Delray Beach.

Douglass E. Root, an educational consultant for the Florida Energy Center, a nationally recognized expert on solar energy and the author of numerous works on the subject, presented the program.

The workshop was sponsored by the Southern Solar Energy Center, a Federal Agency under the Department of Energy in Atlanta; the Florida Solar Energy Center, part of the State University System located in Cape Canaveral; and the Palm Beach County Cooperative Extension Service - Home Economics Programs.

The Florida Solar Energy Center tests solar equipment, dispenses educational information, and does test studies on various phases of solar energy, such as solar air conditioning.

Announcements

Apparently three cassette films received in Central Receiving about the middle of June have been mis-directed to the wrong department. The titles are: Thunder in the Skies, Long Chain, and Eat, Drink and Be Merry. A check of your area would be greatly appreciated...Dick Jones

Art Appreciation, ARH-1000 Section 192 is being offered evenings during the Winter Term at the Norton Gallery, not at Central campus as listed in the printed schedule. This course will be taught by Mrs. Richard Madigan, wife of the Director...Miles

Please note that the 1980 Calendar Refills are now available in Stores...Dick Jones

Academic Advisors: Students having difficulty with reading and study skills should profit by a course in Reading Improvement. REA 1105 (Reading Improvement I) and REA 1106 (Reading Improvement II) are offered on all campuses. On the Central Campus REA 1105 (Reading Improvement I) will be available on Saturday morning during the Winter Term...Mary Bosworth

Personal

I would like to thank the faculty and staff for all their cards and prayers while I was in the hospital. Also, I would like to thank the Welfare Committee and Betty Morgan for the lovely flowers. Truly, the "TEAM APPROACH" here at PBJC really works. I am glad to be part of all of you...Dr. Robert S. Kay

The North Campus faculty and staff enjoy a lunch out together twice a month (alternately on Thursdays and Fridays so that all can participate at least once a month if they wish). They intend to try a different restaurant each time until (a) they run out of restaurants or (b) they run out of money, whichever comes first. On October 11 eight of them enjoyed a pleasant hour of social conviviality at Tony Roma's. Anyone curious enough to look will find a bunch of them at The Greenhouse on Flagler Drive on Friday, November 9, and with a little luck (and an ingratiating smile) will no doubt be invited to join them.

Marilyn Wojciechowski (look that up in your Funk & Wagnall!), secretary at the 45th Street office, will be celebrating her birthday in November (on the 3rd), as will Joan Young, faculty member, on the 16th. Neither will divulge the years that accompany their birth dates...J. Young

LINE 'EM UP TO SIGN 'EM UP

At the recent Voter Registration Day sponsored by the Political Union, 83 voters were registered.

Of that number, 56 registered as Democrats, 17 as Republicans, six as Independent, and four as No Party, said Edwin Pugh, Political Union faculty advisor.

COLLEGE UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN BEGINS

The College's annual United Way campaign gets underway the first week of November. Pledge cards are being distributed. Completed pledge cards are to be returned to the office of the Vice President of Business Affairs.

Those wanting to make cash or check donations may do so in the Finance Office where an account has been established for that purpose.

For those interested in payroll deduction, it will be available starting with the January 5, 1980 paycheck. Authorization cards for payroll deduction will be made available in the near future.

Contributions to the United Way is one of the best ways to invest in the future development and improvement of the quality of life in our community. Four basic services to the citizens of the community provided by United Way include family and child care, group work and recreation, health and community services...Tate

REVISIONS - MILLAGE INFORMATION

On September 5 with your paycheck you received the first draft of a publication pertaining to the millage referendum. We are in the process of revising this information and would appreciate receiving any suggestions you may have relative to improving this "handout"....Tate

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS WANTED

The College is planning to have speakers available starting January 2, 1980 for the purpose of presenting information about College Programs and the millage referendum. If you have any personal contacts with clubs, organizations, etc. or belong to any club, organization, etc. that would be interested in scheduling one of the speakers, please contact me as soon as possible at 267....Tate

HAY BALLOT

It was Kennedy, Carter, and Brown for the Democrats and Ford, Reagan, and Connally for the Republicans in a "Hay" Ballot taken by Political Union members, says Ed Pugh. Just 72 ballots were returned, Pugh said.

Registered student voters were asked to select two candidates for the Presidential nomination from each party, and two Vice Presidential candidates from each party. Results were as follows:

DEMOCRATS

	Pres.	V.P.		Pres.	V.P.
Edward Kennedy	42	10	Jerry Brown	28	38
Jimmy Carter	36	6	Walter Mondale	8	38

REPUBLICANS

Gerald Ford	28	6	George Bush	3	9
Ronald Reagan	25	14	Phil Crane	3	2
John Connally	19	14	John Anderson	1	6
Howard Baker	15	25	Larry Pressler	0	4
Alexander Haig	6	9

Pugh chose to conduct a Hay Ballot as opposed to a Straw Poll...Next time how about an Oat Vote?

SO MANY CHOICES

COLLEGE AND CAREER DAY, 1979

Preparations are moving along on schedule for the 16th annual College and Career Days in the PBJC Central Gym Thursday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., according to Gwen Ferguson.

This event, held in cooperation with the Palm Beach Personnel and Guidance Association, is one of the most important of the year in our recruitment program, and all personnel are asked to cooperate in every way.

Gwen reports that 95 representatives of colleges, business, industry and the military will be present.

Among newcomers to the event are Lousiana State University, a number of private colleges from Massachusetts, and the Palm Beach District Dietetic Association.

"I believe that our own displays, through the department chairmen, will be better than they have been before," Gwen says.

Juniors and Seniors at public and private high schools will be excused from classes to attend. Some principals are arranging bus transportation, and transportation arrangements are on a school-by-school basis.

A luncheon for the visiting counselors will be held at 12:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Local legislators have been invited, and there will be some brief remarks by Dr. Eissey, but no formal program.

Several thousand students, parents and teachers are expected to take advantage of the opportunity to obtain information about so many choices of college and/or career opportunities at one time and place.

SHADOW BOX AND SYMPOSIUM

Four people who have looked deeply into different aspects of death and dying will take part in the symposium which is the second part of the two-part first Assembly Program of the year Thursday. Class periods from 9:10 to 12:20 have been cleared for the showing of "The Shadow Box" and the symposium which follows.

Our own Dr. Richard Yinger, who taught one of the first courses offered in this area on the subject and will be teaching another in the Winter Term, believes that it is important to find techniques for encouraging people to overcome their fear of death enough to discuss it.

Dr. Lorenzo D'Agostino, Palm Beach, Personal and Family Counselor, says that "when one is faced with a terminal illness, one faces a wall of silence. The family doesn't know how to talk to the patient, and the patient hesitates to bring up the subject of death for fear of making things difficult for his family. For some reason or another, we're ducking the one reality, so the patient faces the last days of life in isolation."

Lucia McCracken, a Delray Beach Licensed Practical Nurse, has been deeply interested in the hospice program, and was on the feasibility study committee for the New Haven Hospice, the first in the U. S. She has served both the West Palm Beach hospice and the Boca Raton hospice, and has been meeting with terminally ill patients and their families on a regular basis for three years.

Mildred O'Connell, former president of Marymount College, is helping to organize the Hospice Program at Boca Raton, and setting up training programs for volunteers. "People must realize they have alternatives to the institutionalizing of their lives, and should be able to live a fuller life until they die," she says.

Both the play and the symposium are free to students and staff members who do not have other scheduled duties during those hours, if permitted by their supervisors.

IT'S A SMALL, SMALL WORLD

Don't miss our International Year of the Child program at 11:30 a.m. today at the SAC patio on Central Campus.

Dr. Eissey and Dr. Bottosto will be making brief remarks, Barbara Matthews and Kathleen Bowser will be introducing guests, and the speaker for the occasion will be Donald S. Spigler, President of the County United Nations Association.

But don't count on any of these folks being the hit of the show. Our Center for Early Learning children are going to be singing Come and Join Us, Ola, and It's A Small World After All, and if you think it's easy to compete with little ones belting out a song, ask somebody who has tried it!

PONY SERVICE

Effective November 1, 1979, Pony Service will run on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday to the South Center and both North Centers. Tentative schedule subject to change with circumstances is as follows.....Dick Jones

GETTING READY

NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM COMING

Southern Bell will begin the final phase of installation for the new Dimension System during the week of November 5. During this time those of you having telephones will have two instruments on your desk. The new Dimension telephone will be activated with on-campus dial tone only during this time.

During the week of November 19 the new system will be activated in order to test each line and number. At sometime during this testing period both of your telephones will be active for on and off campus calls. Please answer with the name of your office or department as calls may be coming direct to you from the outside.

The scheduled cut-over date to the new system is Thanksgiving weekend. If you have no Dimension telephone or no dial tone on your new telephone PLEASE DO NOT BE CONCERNED, as it will take several days to complete this phase of installation before disconnecting the old system. Also, in some cases your new telephone cannot be installed until after the cut-over time.

Training for use of the new system is being scheduled for the week of November 12. You will be notified when you are to attend. It is VERY IMPORTANT that you attend during your scheduled time to insure a smooth transition to the new system. If you cannot attend during your scheduled time please contact Mary Tingler on the switchboard as soon as possible so she can reschedule you.

It is very important that we have these testing and training times, as this is a very new and different type of telephone system. The new system will be an improvement over what we now have IF we use it properly....Tate

WOMEN'S CENTER VOLUNTEERS

The names of volunteer counselors for the Palm Beach Junior College Women's Center have been announced by Kathy Aiello, program specialist, Continuing Education.

They are: Wendy Burgette, Pat Jablonski, Sandy Jenks, Linda Kalnitsky, Rose Kirschner, and Amy Lerner, all of West Palm Beach; Elaine Birckelbaw, Lake Worth; Phyllis Erickson, Lantana; Jean Osborne, Atlantis; and Linda Schierbaum, Palm Beach Gardens.

The volunteers attended an eight-hour training program conducted by Jennifer Elliott and Eileen Stewart of Untapped Resources, Inc., West Palm Beach, Kathy says.

After an initial interview, to determine what the person coming to the center is interested in, the counselors will help with career advice, administer interest tests, supply information on PBJC, child care, and financial decision making, and will listen to personal problems.

"We're pleased with our volunteers," Kathy declares. "A schedule has been set up, so that counselors will be at the Women's Center between the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, with each volunteer putting in four hours per week."

For information about the PBJC Women's Center and its activities, call Ext. 316.

ALPHA GAMMA SIGMA CAR WASH

The Palm Beach Junior College North Chapter, Alpha Gamma Sigma, of Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) the national junior college honorary fraternity, will sponsor two car washes, one Saturday, November 10, the other Saturday, December 1, both from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Singer Island Exxon Station, according to Lee Johnson, publicity chairman.

Announcements

On November 8 at 12:30 p.m., Conference Room B, Administration Building, Mr. Ken Montgomery will be available to discuss CETA and opportunities for PBJC and CETA. A tour of the college, identifying areas where CETA peraonnel may be working, will follow a question and answer period....Resource Development

DATA PROCESSING has plenty of scrap paper that can be cut for memo pads, inter-office memos, etc. during the paper shortage....J. House

Information from HEW officials relating to applications for College Library Resources. HEA - Title II-A indicates:

(1) Applications will be sent to 2600 institutions on November 9.

(2) Applications are due back to HEW December 21.

(3) Funds for this coming fiscal year (as officials have indicated) will be cut in half for this program

....Resource Development

Personals

Rae and I appreciate very much the many cards and flowers received during her recent hospitalization....Don Whitmer

We were sorry to learn of the deaths of two former PBJC employees, Mrs. Effie Dale, accounting clerk from 1969 to 1974, and Thomas P. Perry, an English instructor about 15 years ago. Mrs. Dale worked in the Finance Department. Tom Perry, a field representative for the Social Security Office in West Palm Beach, died in an accident Oct. 27.

VOCATIONAL RESOURCE CENTER

A Vocational Resource Center for People with Disabilities has been established in the north end of the Student Activity Center Building at PBJC Central, according to Miss Helen Diedrich, counselor.

Although at present much of the material and equipment in the center is for persons with visual handicaps, there are periodicals, pamphlets, vocational materials in the form of film strips, movies and brochures for those with other disabilities.

The center has embossed science materials; a talking library of occupational information (also in printed form); four Braille music catalogs; a Perkins Brailler, which types in Braille; a cassette player with raised digits on the control buttons; and a Pelco Visual Aid machine for those who are not totally blind, which makes it possible to magnify pages of books on the television screen.

"We have established a Loan Cupboard for PBJC Students with disabilities," Helen says. "The public is welcome to utilize the written materials we have."

PLEDGE CARDS

Pledge cards for United Way have been distributed. In the event you did not receive a card and would like to have one, please call 267. We would like the pledge cards returned to the Office of the of the Vice President of Business Affairs by November 16. Those signing pledge cards and requesting payroll deduction will be sent a payroll deduction authorization card for signature.

FEE WAIVER? YES!!

The opinionnaire on Waiver of Matriculation Fees for the faculty and staff has been returned to Dr. Erling with 316 replies from the 435 distributed -- a very fine 72.6 per cent return. Of the 316 returns, 299 preferred to continue on a space available basis, 10 preferred to discontinue, and seven had no opinion.

Use of the space for comment provided a pretty good cross section of our faculty and staff, ranging all the way from very few at the extremely negative end of the range to a fair-sized number at the very positive end -- and most in between. Bell curve, skewed a bit to the right.

There were some gripes about the questionnaire and the way it was presented, especially the limited number of choices, -- apparently coming from persons who did not realize that the very space on which they were writing their gripe was provided in order to give an expression of any choice whatsoever.

But the great majority were thoughtful, acknowledging the desirability of the waiver over nothing at all, and giving a number of suggestions as to how the system might be improved in the future.

Analysis indicates two principal difficulties with the "space available" basis as it is now being conducted: 1. Classes cannot be met until the second week, putting the student automatically behind classmates. 2. The possibility of not being able to obtain the course you need even by paying full tuition if you must wait through the drop and add to register for the fee waivered courses. (Cont. on page 2)

MORE THAN THE SUM OF THE PARTS

By all accounts, one of the most interesting sessions at the Eden Roc during the FACC Convention was provided by our own Noel Smith and Richard Yinger. The two collaborated on a presentation called The Future of the Future, which was well attended considering its 8:30 a.m. time, and enthusiastically received by those attending. Basic theme of the Yinger/Smith approach is that lots of futures are possible, including no future, and that determination of which future will actually occur is in our hands IF we will adopt a decision-making model. We understand that Yinger provides the theoretical social science basis, Smith adds modern business prognostication techniques and the combination is something more than the sum of the parts.

DECA FASHION SHOW

Members of DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) will present their annual free fashion show Thursday, November 15 at 8 p.m. in the Allied Health Building Auditorium, according to coordinator, Judith Miller.

Approximately 20 stores in Palm Beach County are cooperating with DECA to supply apparel for the 1979 show -- Reflections.

Forty models will wear fashions from the 20's through the 70's, and Carol Lewis, North Palm Beach, will serve as commentator; refreshments will be served.

Beverly Bottosto is president of the 50-member club.

BASKETBALL PACERS

The Palm Beach Junior College basketball season starts with a home game Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m. against Florida College, Temple Terrace. Although Florida College is small, they often field an excellent team, many times one of the best in the state.

A second home game against Manatee Junior College, Bradenton, will follow on Nov. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

The PBJC Pacers had two winning seasons under Coach Joe Ceravolo including a trip to the nationals in the 1977-78 season, when the team won seventh place in the nation.

In 1978-79, with just one returnee from the previous year's team, the Pacers had a 9-19 record. "It's too early to evaluate the team's chances for this year," Ceravolo says. "We have a few players left from last year's team," he adds.

They are: Howard Hoskin, 6'7", St. Louis; Bob Webster, 6'5", Fort Lauderdale; Ray Vincelette, 6'3", Greenacres City; and Roger Williams, 6'3", Philadelphia.

Other players include Edward Moss, Kokomo, Ind.; Lee Cushman, Fort Lauderdale; Dennis Graham, New York; Jeff Washington, St. Louis; Chuck Pauldo, Suncoast High School; and Louis Fuentes, Lake Worth.

"Louis is doing exceptionally well," Ceravolo comments.

SUNplace Special: PBJC

Ed Pugh and the PBJC Political Union have come up with a new slogan which has been officially adopted by the college for use in our non-partisan political activity on campus: SUNplace Special: Palm Beach Junior College.

Or, you can turn the whole thing around, and it's equally effective: Palm Beach Junior College: SUNplace Special!

Those of you who have been here for a few years are aware of the fact that aspiring politicians, from those running for county commission all the way to those who want to be president of the United States, make PBJC one of their campaign stops.

Presidential candidates who have appeared on campus include Hubert Humphrey and Ronald Reagan, who chose PBJC for the last Florida speech of their campaign, George Wallace, who cancelled other engagements in the area, but kept his date at PBJC, Henry (Scoop) Jackson, who has been here twice, Shirley Chisholm, Milton Schapp, and Tom Anderson, American Party candidate.

In addition, of course, we have had senators and congressmen at the national level, governors, cabinet and legislative delegates at the state level, and almost all offices in county government on campus during campaign periods. We have scheduled Democratic Days and Republican Days, and have been the site for selection of delegates to national conventions, etc.

Dr. Bottosto and the entire Social Science faculty have had a hand in all this, but the workhorse has been Ed Pugh and the Political Union. Over the years, Ed has developed some real techniques in the art of attracting big name politicians, and perhaps, some day, when the pace slackens, he might get up a manual to pass on some of the ways in which -- for instance -- you can use your first commitment to net a rival.

SUNplace Special will get its first use at the Republican straw ballot meeting Nov. 17 at Orlando, and the Democratic straw ballot meeting at St. Petersburg, Nov. 16 - 18. Robert Lynes, student, chairman of the campus Republican Club, is an elected delegate to Orlando, and will carry literature with the new slogan, as will Watson B. Duncan, III, a delegate to St. Petersburg.

Pugh believes that the snow of New Hampshire is the very best advertisement ever for SUNplace Special: Palm Beach Junior College.

J. HYATT BROWN VISITS PBJC CENTRAL

J. Hyatt Brown, Speaker of Florida's House of Representatives, told educators here Thursday that even if a recession does come, there will probably not be a cut back in funding next year.

Brown told educators from the state and nation, gathered for PBJC's annual College and Career Days, that a recent staff study showed a shortfall of as much as $250 million if a severe recession were to strike.

Since the legislature has set aside $350 million to make up a possible shortfall, the loss for next year could be covered, he said. "Beyond that, we are dealing in conjecture," he said.

Brown was also optimistic about Florida's chances for a quicker recovery from any nation-wide recession now, as contrasted with the 1972-73 period, when a tax shortfall forced a cutback in all state funding.

Brown also spoke briefly to members of the Palm Beach Junior College Foundation, also holding a luncheon meeting at the college.

Thank you, FACC Members. I want to thank our FACC local chapter members and those of you who helped in any way to advance my candidacy for the vice presidency of our statewide association. It was a hard-fought campaign, and we all had a lot of fun in the interactions and demonstrations at the convention. Our efforts attracted a great deal of favorable comment. Even though we lost the election by a close margin, a great deal was learned about how to reach more voting delegates at another time and place.

THE SHADOW BOX - ASSEMBLY

The PBJC Central Auditorium was packed for the assembly presentation of Michael Cristofer's prize-winning play, The Shadow Box, Thursday morning.

Even though the play's subject matter was extremely serious -- the terminal illnesses of three people and how they, and those close to them dealt with this harsh truth -- there were many light moments.

As members of the audience left, the consensus was that the play brought the reality of death out in the open, and for many, it seemed to be a relief.

About half the audience stayed for the after-play symposium, in which Dr. Richard Yinger served as moderator, with Dr. Lorenzo D'Agostino, Personal and Family Counselor; Mrs. Lucia McCracken, an LPN who served on the feasibility study committee for the New Haven, Conn. Hospice, the first in the U.S.; and Mildred O'Connell, former president of Marymount College, Boca Raton, as panel members.

Yinger told the group, "We're exploring death in a new setting -- a theatrical one." McCracken said the Hospice helps people who are dying to live more fully. O'Connell commented that people are beginning to consider death as a part of life.

IMPORTANT ISSUES

TRUSTEES MEETING WEDNESDAY

A number of issues important to the future of PBJC are on the agenda for the November meeting of the trustees, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., in the Foodservice Building. Media coverage, where controversy is more important than substance, will no doubt go primarily and perhaps even exclusively, to the student request for relaxation of the attendance policy.

The stricter attendance policy instituted this year at the request of faculty and department chairmen is no doubt important, since it directly affects the quality of education at PBJC. Those who instituted it should defend it.

The Monday Report view is that Item 8D, "Approve President's Scholar Awards," has more substance, (in that it is more likely to produce a change), and is therefore more important in the future of the college and the community.

The President's Scholar Awards, if approved, will give a scholarship in the amount of tuition to all students in the top 10 per cent of their class in local high schools, providing their average is 3.0 or better. This is a major step toward improving the quality of our entering students, and hopefully the quality of the end product. A mixture of students balanced more toward the brighter end of the spectrum often results in better education for all. If the board approves, the Monday Report will carry more on this in a later edition.

PBJC ALUMNI CHAPTER

At an enthusiastic preliminary meeting on November 19, some 39 PBJC alumni at Florida State University have decided to organize into a chapter, and will hold an organizational meeting Wednesday, Nov. 28.

"It was a heartening, enthusiastic meeting," reports Dr. Eissey, who met with the former students and FSU officials. "The students were interested in everything that is going on at PBJC.

"They wanted to know about the Weekend College, courses by newspaper and TV, and the other new things we are starting."

Dr. Eissey said one of the chief motivating forces in starting the alumni association is that the students want to be able to help future students from PBJC to adjust to FSU.

"One of the big problems is housing, and they feel they can really be helpful to people coming to Tallahassee for the first time. They also already know the ropes about buying books, FSU rules and regulations, part-time jobs, and many other facets of life at FSU," Dr. Eissey said.

Another function the association will have will be to arrange car-pooling for trips home. (cont. on page 2)

"This is one of those ideas that is so good you wonder why it wasn't done long ago," Dr. Eissey said.

Already, there is some talk about formation of a similar alumni chapter at the University of Florida and possibly at other universities in the state.

"We'll be happy to help organize any other groups, and to keep an open line of communication," Dr. Eissey says.

FACULTY TALKS

A series of informal faculty coffee hours with the president has been arranged by Dr. Eissey and is already underway. Faculty members from PBJC Central have been invited in small groups to Conference Room B for coffee, Danish rolls, and talk about the future of the college.

"It is so easy to get isolated in our own jobs, that I felt it would be a good step to plan this series of meetings to keep a personal touch in our relationships," Dr. Eissey said.

Response to the invitations has been excellent, according to Dr. Elisabeth Erling, but it would be helpful if all faculty members who believe they might be able to attend would get in touch to help in planning. "When in doubt, call anyhow," Dr. Erling said. "Our experience so far indicates that more show up than have indicated they will."

Dr. Eissey said the faculty at PBJC North, South, and Glades is small enough so that it is easy to meet with the entire faculty at these campuses.

NOW IT'S DR. JOAN C. YOUNG!

In her own inimitable way, Joan C. Young has earned the PH.D. from the University of Florida in style. Dr. Theodore Hipple, Chairman of her committee, is so impressed with her dissertation, "Elective and Traditional English Programs and English Achievement," that he has nominated it for the Dissertation of the Year Award in the College of Education. In addition he is nominating Joan for a National Council of Teachers of English Outstanding Scholarship Award...now the University of Florida has confirmed what North Campus has always known: Dr. Young is an outstanding professional....

PRESIDENT'S SCHOLAR AWARDS

Palm Beach Junior College trustees adopted a major new scholarship program and postponed action on three other items at the regular November meeting of the board, Thanksgiving eve.

The trustees approved the President's Scholar Awards, which will go to graduates of local high schools in the upper 10 per cent of their class and with a 3.0 or better average.

The scholarships are not tied to need and will be for the amount of tuition. Maintenance of a 3.0 or better average will be required for continuation of the scholarship.

The board heard from five students and as many department chairpersons. All the students requested a relaxation in attendance regulations, and all faculty spokesmen favored the current rule: "No more than ten per cent absences without excuse."

Dr. Eissey told the board a study of results of the current policy, put into effect last summer, is already underway. The trustees said students should be included in the study group.

The board heard an interim report from its committee on campus development, and awaits a full report in December or January.

The trustees said a request from the Northern Palm Beach County Chamber of Commerce for an acre of the north campus site for a building is premature, and should be considered at a later date.

ATTENDANCE POLICY COMMITTEE

A committee to study the effect of the change in attendance policy has been appointed by Dr. Eissey. It will be chaired by Bob Moss, acting vice president for student affairs. Membership will include two students to be appointed by the Student Government Association. Members are Dr. Paul Dasher, from the administrative/management staff, Edwin Pugh, from the faculty, and Charles Graham, Registrar. Dr. Eissey said he will ask trustee Hisetta Dyson to be a member of the committee.

SCHOLARSHIP PRESENTATION

PBJC was the recent recipient of a $250 scholarship from the Junior Woman's Clubs of District 10 of the Florida Federation of Woman's Clubs according to Kathleen Aiello, program specialist for the Women's Center. The scholarship is to be used by female displaced homemakers to defray the cost of tuition fees to be used for non-credit Continuing Education and Women's Studies courses at PBJC.

JANESE SAMPSON

A former PBJC student -- Janese Sampson -- who appeared last July in a flute recital at Kennedy Center, Washington, D. C., will appear at the monthly seminar for music majors Nov. 28 at 1:20 p.m. A few seats will be made available to the public on a space available basis.

Miss Sampson graduated from Florida State University with a degree in Music Education, and is now pursuing a Master's Degree in Flute Performance from the University of Maryland.

She has performed extensively in the area including an appearance in recital with Cuban coloratura soprano, Maria Castellanos, and as guest soloist with the Palm Beach Philharmonic Orchestra, when it was conducted by Louis Tenorelli of Delray Beach.

Personals

It is our unhappy duty to report that Henry Hall, husband of Edith Hall, died Monday morning. He had a stroke about three weeks ago. Mr. Hall was the former police chief of Lake Worth.

Doris Gaunt tells us that her developing reason for leaving PBJC is expected to put in an appearance on March 11, 1980. She'll have to vote for the millage by absentee ballot!

GLOBAL EDUCATION
TWO WORDS IN YOUR FUTURE

Two words -- Global Education -- are in your future, if your future is in education at PBJC. Global Education is what used to be called International Education, and, despite what the Ayatollah Khomeini is doing to split the world asunder these days, it is becoming more and more evident, year by year, that the choice will be made in our lifetime: Either men of good intentions will knit the world together into one cohesive, rational unit, or there will be no world left for knitting of any kind.

From the time Dr. Eissey became president of PBJC he has kept us alerted to the idea that we want to be in the forefront of the development of international education at the community college level. We have remained active in a consortium of south Florida colleges developing these ideas.

Recently, our board of trustees has adopted a statement approving Global Education, and recognizing a deepening commitment of the college to international/intercultural education. Our catalog next year will include a statement of this new commitment.

As policies turn into possibilities, and then into reality, there will be more and

INSTALLED AND WORKING

After many months of wiring, rewiring, installing, correcting of installations, moving and generally changing everything at least once, the new Dimension Telephone System is working, in most areas. All new cable has been installed not only in the main equipment room but also in every building. Every connecting terminal in each building has been completely rebuilt in order to handle the new system with the best possible service

The Dimension System is a greatly improved type of telephone service and will

PAST AND PRESENT

THE GHOST OF ATTENDANCE POLICIES

So much misdirected emotionalism is in the air about the attendance policy that the Monday Report is prepared to advocate compulsory attendance to the classes in The Art of Thinking that deal with fallacious reasoning. No cuts allowed.

Knowing full well that someone will undoubtedly suggest that we should be the first to serve our own sentence, we are going to attempt a little air cooling,if not clearing.

For years, in some departmental meetings, and in informal exchanges between teachers and department heads, discussion has gone on about the attendance policy, with a general advocacy for stricter regulations gradually coalescing into what was perceived by the chairmen as a strong consensus. Last summer the matter was brought by the Vice President of Academic Affairs to the attention of the Administrative/ Management group, where the proposed new policy was given unanimous backing.

At the same time, in our community, state and nation, there has been a very strong sweep ranging from reluctance to downright revolt by taxpayers who do not want to fund education for those who are not serious about it.

Knowing this, and with the strong recommendation of department chairmen whose impulses derived from faculty discussion, the administration proposed the new policy to the trustees, and it was adopted.

be of great assistance to all departments if used properly. It is the most efficient system to be found anywhere at this time and allows for much needed growth at PBJC. By inner connecting all campuses with each other we will be able to provide faster, more efficient service to each other and to the community at large. Numbers for dialing from outside are already listed in area telephone books and callers should be encouraged to use the new numbers. Internal telephone books will soon be distributed.

All personnel responsible for answering telephones in each office have been trained and should be able to handle most calls without problems. Of course with a new system such as we now have there will be some problems, but they should be at a minimum. If you are having any problems with your calls contact Mary Tingler, Communications Counselor at extension 8000 and she will be glad to assist you....Tate

The administration moved to gather facts about the impact of the new policy, to intervene in provable hardship cases, and to determine if some modification might be in order.

Student reaction in a matter of this kind is utterly predictable, and we have had that reaction. The study group is proceeding. The computer is about to relinquish the names of all who could have been affected by the new policy so far, and will shortly add a comparison with previous years. Those affected will be contacted to determine if they believe they have been injured, and if so, under what circumstances. After these circumstances are investigated, we will finally have some data.

In the meantime, the student complaint procedures on page 23 of the current student handbook have now been spelled out in greater detail by Dr. Eissey, so that any aggrieved student will know the procedure to follow. A memo on this matter from the president is reprinted below. The Beachcomber has also been asked to print the memo.

....JK

All students who have questions regarding the attendance policy and its implementation should follow the procedures outlined below:

(1) They should discuss the matter thoroughly with the faculty member involved.
(2) If the resolution to their problem is not taken care of with the faculty member, they should then go directly to the department chairman or head campus administrator to seek relief and make their request known.
(3) If the second step is not satisfactory, they are to bring their concerns to the Acting Vice-President of Student Affairs or head campus administrator for disposition.
(4) If that step (No. 3) is not acceptable, the Acting Vice-President of Student Affairs or head campus administrator is to make an appointment with the President for the student and faculty member to present the situation and receive a final decision.

This will be the procedure that we will follow until such time that we have had an opportunity to conclude our research.

Personals

Our congratulations to Dr. Jim Miles -- Jim won the $100 Rita Leff Award for his painting, The Red Bridge, in the annual December exhibit of the Artist's Guild of the Norton Gallery. The painting was done from a sketch made while Miles was in Lake Louise, Canada last summer.

Also on the art scene, we're pleased to note that Jim Houser gave a gallery talk last Saturday at the prestigious Society of Four Arts in Palm Beach. He spoke on the 41st Annual Contemporary American Exhibit now being shown at Four Arts.

All of us have a special reason to visit the Hetzel Brothers Christmas Pageant this year -- fellow workers Watson Duncan and Ben Roberts wrote and narrated the new script. It was necessary to rewrite the script because the set for the pageant has been enlarged from five to seven scenes. Duncan recorded the new script, which Roberts had researched from the King James version of the Bible and the novel Ben Hur. The pageant opens December 15 on the corner of Northlake Blvd. and MacArthur Blvd.

PATRICIA S. SHAPINS

Patricia Shapins, Boynton Beach, has joined our Dental Health Services faculty, according to Dr. Hal C. Hutchins, chairman.

Mrs. Shapins, originally from Kinston,North Carolina, received an Associate Degree in Dental Hygiene and a B.S. in Dental Auxiliary Teachers Education from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

For the first time, the Center for Early Learning will remain open during the break between terms for the children of faculty and staff who are still on duty. Normally, during such breaks, these faculty and staff must find a substitute place for their children during hours they are working. This is a one-time arrangement, made possible by the fact that there are work-study funds that can be used for this purpose. It may not happen again, but this time, anyhow --- Merry Christmas!....H. WE WISH YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR

For those of us who stay here year round there has always been a little guessing game on the last working day before the Christmas eve holidays, and again on the last working day before the New Year's eve holidays. It went something like this:

Will they, (he, she), decide to let me off early this year? Will it be three o'clock or maybe even two? Will I have time to get to buy that gift before my wife, (husband), gets home? What'll I do if they forget to tell us we can take off early? And on, and on....

> Well, here it is, folks, straight from Dr. Eissey's office. No more guessing!! The time is 2 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 21 and Friday, 2 p.m., Dec. 28 for everybody normally leaving at 4 p.m. or thereabouts. (Folks on other shifts check with supervisors who are hereby authorized to make a similar 2-hour Christmas and New year's gift).

So hang in there until 2 p.m., and do everything you have to do by that time so you can go gift buying on Christmas, and on New Year's you can go on about your own booziness!

And in order to allow the Monday Report crew a brief respite, our next report will NOT be on Wednesday, Dec. 26 or Wednesday, Jan. 2. It will not even be Monday, Jan. 7, unless somebody finds an extraordinary reason for publishing that we don't know about at this moment. (Cont. on page 2)

Physical Education at the gym. We understand the new dance group will be part of the program, and you are all invited. The pre-meeting starts at 7 p.m.

Agenda items for the regular part of the meeting, 7:30 p.m. in the Foodservice Building include:

Approval of final plans for North Campus, Phase I.

Report of the Committee on Campus Development by Dr. Robert Kite, consultant-assistant, and Dean of the College of Education at Florida Atlantic University.

A millage presentation by Dr. Eissey.

A resolution regarding cooperative education.

You are also invited to the regular part of the meeting.

FAITH RESTORED

Lloyd Haynes of Continuing Education had his wallet returned to him before he knew he had lost it. A young man between 18 and 23, who didn't leave his name, found the wallet on campus and returned it, according to Eddie Williams of Campus Security, who in turn gave it back to Lloyd. But first he asked Haynes if he had lost anything, and Lloyd replied he hadn't; Williams asked him to check carefully, and it was then Lloyd discovered the loss.

"The wallet had cash, credit cards, and my Driver's License," Haynes said. "It was such a generous thing for that person to do, especially at Christmas time; I just wanted to express my thanks. This restores my faith in humanity," he added.

CHILD CARE SCHOLARSHIPS

A $400 donation from Friends of Children has made it possible for the Continuing Education Office of Palm Beach Junior College to offer scholarships to child care personnel.

The first recipients of the scholarships were Anna Patrick, Lake Worth, and Ruth Ann Conner, West Palm Beach, who attended a Creative Learning Materials Workshop taught by Mrs. Diana Murray.

A WORD FROM AN EXPERT

Because of its favorable location and climate, Palm Beach Junior College could become a leader among community colleges in Global Education in the next decade.

This is the opinion of Dr. Albert J. Riendeau of the U.S. Department of Education, who said last week he could visualize a time when PBJC would be a clearinghouse of information about post-secondary technical education to the emerging countries of the world.

Although Dr. Riendeau gave top billing to putting together imaginative solutions to educational problems for developing nations, he also foresaw exchange of students, exchange of staff, and exchanges in the arts and humanities in addition to technology.

In the future, Dr. Riendeau said, community colleges will lead the way to greatly increased technological education geared to employment opportunities. Because there is almost nothing like the community college anywhere else in the world, there is a great opportunity for expertise in the developing of similar systems all over the world.

Dr. Riendeau spoke to the administrative/management group, Thursday, Dec. 6. He was introduced by Jim Brannigan, a friend of many years standing. Dr. Riendeau is Director of Post Secondary Vocational and Occupational Studies for the U. S. Dept. of Education.

OUR FRIEND, ED HEALEY

For the first time, Representative Ed Healey publicly stated his opposition to the increase in the Homestead Exemption to $25,000, as he spoke to Edwin V. Pugh's American State and Local Government class Monday.

"I think the Homestead Exemption has had its day. I don't believe we can have it go on and on," he said. "Those who already have the exemption should continue to get it, but I would have liked to have seen it eliminated starting in January of 1980."

"Bringing the exemption up to $25,000 would take away $250 million from state revenue," he added.

Healey said the loss of this revenue could be a serious blow to funding education in Florida. "We cannot afford to take that chance," he said. "The future of our state demands a strong educational system."

NEWS FLASH

Enrollment - that super-important figure every term, is definitely up over the Winter Term a year ago. It is too early for a really accurate comparison, so we'll be back next week with some figures.

Right now it looks like a modest advance of 250 to 300 students, but we still have senior citizen registration coming up.

LOOKING UP

For the most part, everything is looking up on the millage front, but we all need to continue efforts, building up to a real super effort in late February and early March.

We had an extremely successful press conference on Friday, January 4. Attending were state legislators, county commissioners, trustees, college officials, and the best turnout of the press we have ever managed: Channels 5 and 12, the Post, the Miami Herald, the Sun Sentinel, the Boca Raton News, WIRK, WJNO and WEAT. The Evening Times also covered with an overnighter.

All resulting coverage was positive.

We now KNOW that people will vote for us if they know the facts. We are getting increasing evidence that, if we do not tell our story to people, they will not vote for the half mill. At some recent meetings Dr. Eissey has been asking for a show of hands as to who will vote for the referendum at the beginning, and another show at the end. Invariably, only a small minority will raise hands at the beginning, almost 100 per cent at the end.

PLEASE RE-DOUBLE YOUR EFFORTS AT THIS TIME TO MAKE DATES FOR US AT ALL KINDS OF GATHERINGS FOR OUR SLIDE-SHOW AND TALK. Later, there will be other specific requests, but right now, that is what we need.

Other Millage info:

DISCOVER DISCOVER

In October 1979, an application for funding assistance was submitted by PBJC to the Florida Educational Computing Project (FECP) through the South Florida Educational Computing Consortium (SFECC) of which PBJC is a charter member. This application requested funds for a college-level computer assisted guidance package to be shared by three community colleges.

On December 16, 1979, a grant totaling $38,000 was awarded to Palm Beach/Edison/Indian River Community College by the Florida Department of Education. This grant will be used to purchase and/or lease the necessary hardware and software to provide computerized assistance to our students and guidance personnel for career development tasks on an individualized one-to-one basis. Initially only the central campuses will be served, however, we are planning that each of our campuses and also other campuses of Edison Community College and Indian River Community College will have access to the system. As you know, all three colleges presently share the computer system installed at PBJC Central.

The computer software recommended in the grant proposal is the DISCOVER package. This package will allow simultaneous on-line, conversational access to twenty-one (21) career development scripts and also provide on-line capability for modifying these scripts and/or for writing new scripts. The scripts include exercises such as:

- Understanding values
- Learning to make career decisions
- Practicing career decisions
- Grouping occupations
- Reviewing interests and strengths
- Information about occupations
- Exploring specific career paths such as:
  - Local job opportunities
  - Financial Aid
  - Apprenticeships
  - Four year college searches
  - Community and junior college searches
  - Graduate and professional school searches
  - Technical and specialized school searches
  - Continuing education information
  - Military information

The DISCOVER software package includes information about occupations, colleges and trade/technical on a nationwide basis. Updates to these data bases are provided periodically for a small annual maintenance fee which would be shared by all three colleges.

Installation of the computer software and hardware is expected to be accomplished within the next several months pending final contract agreements and hardware delivery confirmations. In the meantime some PBJC guidance personnel will be attending a DISCOVER workshop later this week, sponsored by our local school district. The district recently installed the DISCOVER package for use in the high school program. . . . Moss/Kelly

SALLIE: If you are one of the many who know and love Sallie Taylor, you will want to remember her in your daily reflections and prayers.

Sallie is still in Good Samaritan Hospital, and is extremely ill. It is a good time for all of us to remember a gallant lady who is still waging a courageous battle.

8½ YEARS OF SERVICE
SUSANN ANSTEAD HONORED

Palm Beach Junior College trustees paid tribute to the service rendered by Mrs. Susann Anstead and gave approval to final plans for phase one of the north campus at the January meeting of the Board.

Although some engineering specifications still remain to be added on the final plans, the board approved them and authorized sending them to the State Department of Education.

After any suggested changes by department architects are incorporated, the project will be ready for bidding.

Mrs. Anstead, who served as trustee for more than eight and a half years, was praised by Dr. Eissey for her interest and effort.

"I know of no other board member who has given more time and study to the affairs of the college," Dr. Eissey said.

Dr. Philip Lichtblau, Board Chairman, said Mrs. Anstead was an example other trustees could follow. "She knew her job and did it well," Lichtblau said.

Dr. Sam Bottosto, Social Science Department Chairman, said he knew he spoke for faculty and students in saying that Mrs. Anstead's keen and intelligent interest in the college would be sorely missed by all. He called her the "most dedicated" trustee.

FLASH! FLASH!

DON'T FORGET. THE REAL BEGINNING OF STUDENT INVOLVEMENT IN THE MILLAGE CAMPAIGN BEGINS THIS MORNING WITH THE TELECAST AT 10 A.M. THIS IS VERY IMPORTANT. OTHER TELECASTS ARE SCHEDULED AT 7:15 P.M., TONIGHT, 9:15 A.M. TUESDAY, AND 7:15 P.M. WEDNESDAY.

Mrs. Anstead was awarded a plaque as a token of her service as a trustee and as chairman of the board.

She said her husband had recently completed his first marathon race, and her feelings were somewhat like his. She said they were both proud of finishing the course even though they may have had to walk the last six miles, "There is a feeling of satisfaction in knowing that you have done your very best," she said.

Dr. Eissey announced that the February meeting of the board will again be at the Glades Campus, but will be on the fourth Wednesday, February 27, rather than the third.

He announced the appointment of Willard Findling to a four-year term as trustee.

Dr. Eissey said there were now a total of more than 180 speaking engagements for the millage, and said more were being sought. He reported good results so far, with no opposition.

NEW TRUSTEE

Gov. Bob Graham has appointed one new Palm Beach Junior College trustee, and continued the tenure of another, according to Dr. Edward M. Eissey.

George Michael, who has served as trustee for four years, has been appointed to a second term, Dr. Eissey said. A West Palm Beach business man, Michael was vice chairman of the board last year, and was re-elected vice chairman in July.

The new trustee is Willard F. Findling, Atlantis, who takes the post occupied by Mrs. Susann Anstead for eight years. Appointments to the board are for four-year terms.

Dr. Eissey said the governor's office informed him of the appointments during the holiday period.

"We are most pleased to welcome Mr. Findling to our board, and to continue our working relationship with Mr. Michael," Dr. Eissey said.

Findling was, until recently, vice-president and half-owner of Fleischer's Inc., West Palm Beach, which is engaged in Sales and installation of special architectural coating, seamless flooring, painting and wallcovering.

In his 20 years in Palm Beach County he has been involved in many educational activities and has been a member of the Palm Beach County Building Code Advisory Board.

His education and training are in Electrical and Petroleum Refining Engineering, and he worked in this field from 1937 to 1959 for Standard Oil Company, (Indiana).

Findling's daughter, Janet is a PBJC graduate, his son, John, attended summer sessions at PBJC, and his son, Frederick, also attended the college.

"Even my wife attended PBJC courses when she was working toward her Master's Degree at FAU," Findling says. "I'm the only member of my family who hasn't attended classes at the college."

Findling said that he hoped his knowledge of engineering and construction would be helpful to the trustees, especially in view of the many construction projects now in various states of development at the college.

REGISTRATION STILL GOING UP

Our enrollment is still climbing nicely, both in numbers and in registered semester hours. As of Wednesday morning, (after drop and add period had ended), we had a total of 9,942 persons registered, and by the time you read this the addition of other non-credit enrollees will have easily brought us well over the 10,000 mark.

Last year's figure, at this time, was 8,763. The gain of 1,180 over a year ago is certainly impressive, but a note of caution is necessary. The gain in credit enrollment was only 280 over a year ago.

On the plus side, almost all the 280-credit enrollment was in full-time students, with the result that the most important figure of all -- the number of registered hours -- showed a healthy jump from 69,354 a year ago to 74,870 this year. For some reason, (and nobody has come up with a really good explanation yet), we have had a slight reversal of the long-term trend to more part-time students and fewer full-time. This term 33 per cent are full time and 67 part time. A year ago it was 32 and 68.

Everyone of the four campuses registered a gain. It might be interesting to you that Glades, North and South and Mixed now represent 37.5 per cent of all enrollment. About 60 per cent of the increase in enrollment was not on Central campus. PBJC South is still gaining a bit on PBJC North, but most of the Mixed group appear to be from PBJC North, primarily, and North is still our second largest center. The Glades gain was mighty small -- just two more students -- but it's good to be on the plus side.

More than 200 of the enrollment were senior citizens on the $4 per course plan, but we have merely scratched the surface of a really strong need for education among our older people.

It is too early to have figures from other community colleges for comparison purposes, but we appear to be doing very well in comparison with our own past performance.

NEW DIMENSIONS

At last a reporter, this one from Channel 2, has recognized the really unique and exciting news value of our New Dimensions program, and is planning some rather extensive coverage. We'll try to let you know air time, so we can all watch one of our most dynamic programs on TV....Koontz

KAY AT PBJC

Richard B. Kay, Democratic Presidential hopeful from Cleveland, Ohio and North Palm Beach, whose name will be omitted from the Florida primary ballot, has decided to sue the State of Florida in the Federal District Court in Tallahassee Friday to have his name appear March 11, he announced while visiting the college last week.

"The Florida Statute is not unusual," Kay points out. "Eleven other states use 'recognition by the news media' as a criteria," he explains, "but most other states give the candidate an alternative way of getting on the ballot, such as California's law which requires a petition with 62,000 valid signatures."

"But Florida has no alternative method," he adds. "There was a challenge in 1972, but the constitutional points made at that time were not valid."

Kay believes that if the court acts soon, "My name will be on the Florida ballot by the middle of February."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

PLEASE NOTE THAT THERE ARE CLOSED CIRCUIT TV PRESENTATIONS OF THE SLIDE SHOW FOR EVENING STUDENTS, AS WELL AS DAY STUDENTS. EVENING PRESENTATIONS ARE TONIGHT AND WEDNESDAY NIGHT AT 7:15 P.M. PLEASE HELP US PASS THIS WORD ALONG TO THOSE WITH CLASSES AT THAT TIME.

Be ready to inform students that they can register to vote on Feb. 1, when the van from the county will be on campus. But we understand you do not have to register at that time. You can make arrangements through Dan Hendrix to be registered by our own deputy registrars at any time during his office hours. We have been working for years to get as many students registered as possible. Now, with the millage vote impending, it is even more important.

Palm Beach County has during the past few weeks, encountered shortages of blood. Please help by giving a few moments of your time on Wednesday, February 6 between 8 and 4 p.m. at the Business Building Patio....Schmiederer

The dental hygiene students want to remind all PBJC students and faculty that they would like to see more of you take advantage of our dental services. These include assistance and supplies for your personal home dental care, dental prophylaxis (cleaning of teeth), fluoride treatment, X-rays, and curettage, if needed. The cost for PBJC students and faculty is only $1.00. Appointments are available on Mondays and Wednesdays in the morning, and on Tuesdays and Thursdays all day. If you have never been to the clinic, come and see us. If you have been in the past, come back and renew old acquaintences.....Nancy MacPherson

JOHN J. MCDONALD TESTIMONIAL DINNER

Many of you are very close friends of John J. McDonald, an educator for 35 years in Palm Beach County. There is going to be a testimonial for him on Monday, February 11, 1980 at the Breakers Hotel (Beach Club). Those interested in honoring Mr. McDonald may contact Mr. Clifford Ripley of the county office at 684-5008 or Mr. Bobby Riggs of the Forest Hill High School at 684-5222....Eissey

HEIGH! HO!

COME TO THE FAIR

As you might guess, our exhibit at the South Florida Fair this year is dedicated to nothing less than the PBJC referendum of March 11.

The college has had a good spot at the fair for years -- second booth on the left in building six, the first building on your left as you enter the fairgrounds at the main entrance, just across the aisle from Channel Five's broadcast station.

Several months ago the millage committee recognized the possibility of providing more people with information about the half-mill levy through the fair, and an attempt was made to get two spaces so we could set up a small theater to show our slide show, but demand for booths at the fair is now so high we could not get the extra space.

Undaunted, we asked maintenance to help turn our old booth into a mini-theater that seats a dozen people, borrowed a brand new lighted sign from the registrar, developed a short version of the slide show, got the help of AV to put it on a continuous tape, worked out a free T-shirt drawing, and through Dr. Erling's Office found volunteers to represent the college at the fair.

This is being written about two hours from the time of the fair opening on Friday morning. There are a few last-minute details, but it appears that everything will be ready for the opening. It is a nice booth. There are seats so you can rest your weary feet. Y'all come.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

All faculty who are attending graduation ceremonies please stop in the Bookstore and place your order for your apparel. We shall be taking orders and measurements for rental of Caps and Gowns from February 1, 1980 through March 10, 1980. Please be early and avoid the last minute rush!! If last minute orders are placed by telephone calls it is an added expense to the college.

Following are rental prices (including tax) for Cap, Gown and Hood: Doctor $11.81, Master $10.04, Bachelor $9.16, Associate $9.16. Purchasing prices will be available in the Bookstore as soon as they are received from the company. ... Brofft

Veterans dropped (WX'd) by instructors for excessive absences should be promptly processed via a withdrawal slip indicating the date of last attendance. This is the only way we have of being notified to make a timely adjustment in benefits. If you have no DP generated drop slip for a particular veteran, just use a regular WX form marked "Vet" because W, Wx and Audit forms for ALL students are processed through my office. Please do not merely put a "WX" on the final grade report because it will not come through this office. Failure to make timely notification can result in the college's liability for overpayment of benefits. ... Don Lore

Department Chairpersons are requested to make sure all instructors' individual class schedules are turned in to my office as soon as possible. ... Paul Graham

The following position vacancy is being announced: Center Registrar - Position requires a bachelor's degree. Interested applicants should contact the Director of Personnel. ... Schneider

The following classified positions are being announced:

RETIREMENT SESSIONS

On Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, February 5 and 6, I will conduct retirement planning sessions which will be scheduled from 3:00 to 4:00 P.M. in Conference Room B in the Administration Building. Information relating to retirement benefits, processing, health insurance and social security will be discussed. The session on Tuesday is primarily for administrative and faculty personnel and Wednesday's session will be primarily for classified personnel although any college personnel may feel free to attend either day. Personnel who are considering retirement within the next several years are encouraged to attend and any other college personnel are welcome to attend.

Any person interested in attending either session should call Mrs. Marilyn Vazquez at 8017 to inform her of which session you wish to attend.

PHIL CRANE COMING

Congressman Phil Crane, Republican Presidential candidate from Illinois, will speak at the Sunshine Court Thursday, January 31 at 2 P.M. In case of rain, Crane's speech will be held inside the auditorium.

REFERENDUM INFORMATION

Those who are speaking on our millage say they are having excellent results in every instance. We have been plagued by a number of equipment failures, some of it from brand new equipment, but speakers have plunged in and talked without slides -- and these results, too, have been outstanding.

It is really amazing to watch people's attitudes change as you explain that it is only for one-half mill, that it goes out of business after two years, that we are spending it on necessary repairs and improvements in equipment, and, especially, that they will be getting more in tax relief than the amount this will cost them. If you haven't had the pleasure of watching this change occur, give it a try with friends and neighbors.

On page 4 is a list of upcoming speeches. Get out to any of these you can.

Judge James Knott has agreed to devote a Sunday Post brown wrapper to college history just prior to the referendum, and the News Bureau is preparing information for him. Dr. Eissey obtained the cooperation of the editor of the newspaper at Century Village.

The college is taking no position, pro or con, on the road bond issue. We are hoping people will keep our two-year half-mill completely separated from the long term one mill for road bonds. Say nothing about roads unless you have to. Then, just urge separation.

RADIO PROGRAMS: WVSI, No. 10 on AM; WCEZ, No. 96.7 on FM, on January 27 at 5 P.M.

SPECIAL, SUPER PROGRAMS ON CHANNEL 2: Two part show built around New Dimensions and other service to senior citizens. YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS THIS ONE. Friday, Feb. 1, 9:30 P.M. and Saturday, Feb. 2, 4 P.M. for Part I. Friday, Feb. 8, 9:30 P.M. and Saturday, Feb. 9, 4 P.M. for Part II.

The great editorial in the Post Tuesday (they said the road bonds should be on the ballot, but don't confuse us with them, and don't vote against us if you're inclined to vote against them), came just after a second visit with the editorial staffs of both Post and Times from Dr. Eissey, Dr. Tate and Jonathan Koontz. When you really work on the millage it pays off.

Bumper stickers are still available at the Bookstore free of charge.

WORKSHOP: DOROTHY TOMBAUGH, AUTHOR, TEACHER

PBJC's "Committee to Study the Needs of our Handicapped Students" is offering a workshop conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Tombaugh, science teacher, author of Biology for the Blind and numerous articles. She is noted nationwide for the successful strategies and equipment she has developed for integrating blind and other physically handicapped students with other students in her biology, chemistry, and physical science classes and laboratories. While her main thrust is science classes, we understand her methods can be used in other types of classes.

Our National Science Foundation is sponsoring the visit thus this very timely presentation will be free. Place: PBJC's Allied Health Building, Room 202; Date: February 7, 1980; Time: Equipment Display 9 A.M. to 8:30 P.M.; Afternoon session 1:30 - 3:00 P.M.; Evening session 7:00 - 8:30 P.M.

If you plan to attend please advise us in which session you want to participate.

ENTHUSIASTIC AND UNANIMOUS

ECONOMIC COUNCIL SUPPORTS MILLAGE

The Board of Directors of the Economic Council of Palm Beach County "enthusiastically and unanimously favors an affirmative vote" in the Palm Beach Junior College referendum of March 11, 1980.

That was the action statement in a firmly-worded resolution received Thursday by Dr. Eissey.

"We are happy to have the Economic Council join a growing number of organizations who are urging a vote for the college on March 11," Dr. Eissey said.

The resolution, signed by executive director Harold W. Stayman, Jr., for the council, notes especially the significance and importance of Palm Beach Junior College to the business community as well as the citizens of the county.

The PBJC referendum will request voter approval for a levy of one-half mill for two years only to be used for repairs, remodeling, renovation and equipment.

The resolution notes that PBJC's non-recurring needs are partly due to the fact that the college is the oldest public junior college in the state, and has reached an age where critical needs exist for repairs and equipment replacement.

A letter accompanying the resolution states that the council will urge members to donate funds to help PBJC in its informational campaign about the referendum.

"It is most encouraging when business leaders of the caliber of the men who sit on the Economic Council recognize the economic value of investment in higher education," Dr. Eissey said. "It is exciting to discover that organizations of many different kinds are enthusiastically urging a favorable vote for the PBJC referendum. We are certainly pleased that the economic council has become one of them."

REFERENDUM INFORMATION

Pages 3 and 4 of today's Monday Report show a list of speaking engagements on the referendum. Some staff members have been attending open meetings convenient for them, and this is much appreciated. We need to continue and increase our efforts until we are successful on March 11.

HANDICAPPED AWARD

The Second Annual Florida Conference on Higher Education and the Handicapped will be held in Jacksonville from February 27 through February 29. At this conference an award will be given to the community college teacher who has done outstanding work with handicapped students. A panel of three judges will make their decision based on "the scope of service provided to handicapped students; the degree of sensitivity and awareness demonstrated by the faculty member; and the usefulness and adaptability of the particular methods/projects to other teachers in similar situations."

The names of candidates and supporting evidence must be submitted to the Division Office not later than February 12. If anyone is interested in submitting information on this subject please contact me.....J. M. Schneider

Retirement Sessions - On Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, February 5 and 6, I will conduct retirement planning sessions which will be scheduled from 3:00 to 4:00 P.M. in Conference Room B in the Administration Building. Information relating to retirement benefits, processing, health insurance and social security will be discussed. The session on Tuesday is primarily for administrative and faculty personnel and Wednesday's session will be primarily for classified personnel although any college personnel may feel free to attend either day. Personnel who are considering retirement within the next several years are encouraged to attend and any other college personnel are welcome to attend.

Any person interested in attending either session should call Mrs. Marilyn Vazquez at 8017 to inform her of which session you wish to attend.....Schneider

Presidential Hopefuls: We have already had Richard Kay, Sargent Shriver (speaking for Kennedy), and Phil Crane on campus. We expect Benjamin Fernandez of Los Angeles in mid-February, and then the big Republican names in late February and March, Reagan, Connally, and Bush. Ed Pugh is obviously doing his usual energetic job.

Personals

We wish to express our sincere thanks to everyone for their encouragement, help, patience and understanding during our recent crisis. Our son is home safe now and happy to be so. It is a wonderful feeling to know that there are so many people we work with who really care.....Chris & Barry Rogers

PBJC South

The Monday Report would like to welcome a sister publication, SOUTH NEWS, whose Vol. 1, No. 1, came off the mimeograph machines Jan. 28. It will be a monthly at present, and goes to students as well as staff.. The first two paragraphs tell it like it is:

"Once upon a time there was a small junior college located on the campus of an upper division school. The students of the junior college said, 'What is there to do?' Others said, 'I wish I knew!' Thus was born SOUTH NEWS. Chock full of information and all sorts of things to do. Now when someone asks you if you know of anything to do, you can say, 'Yes I do, it's all in SOUTH NEWS.'

SOUTH NEWS is a publication of Palm Beach Junior College - South. This is the premiere issue and we would appreciate any contributions, suggestions, criticism or praise concerning SOUTH NEWS and how we can make it your best source of campus information."

CONGRATULATIONS! Mr. Leonard Bruton, Senior Instructor, PBJC South (Social Science) has been elected to the state S.A.P.A. (Student Activities Practitioners Association) Executive Board as Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Bruton is currently the PBJC South S.A.B. advisor.....Harris McGirt

PBJC North

Valentine's Day Party - The gang at the North Campus is doing it again! Last year's Christmas party was so successful that we've decided to repeat -- this time with a Sweets and Hearts Party. (The food will be SWEETS; the people, the HEARTS.) Romantic activities are planned.

We are extending an open invitation to all of you from other campuses to join us again, in hopes that those of you who came last year have spread the word about the great parties we throw! So, BYOB, and we'll supply the rest. Place: the Village Club Apartments Clubhouse, Kirk Road & Purdy Lane, Palm Springs. Time: 8:00 P.M. Date: February 16. Oh, yes, red and white are the colors for the evening, so that we can all be living Valentines. Please - y'all come - y'hear?....J.C. Young

Special Program - As an important part of Dr. Eissey's effort to communicate to our students concerning the PBJC half-mill referendum on March 11, 1980, I have scheduled a slide presentation to be shown in the Palm Beach Gardens High School Auditorium. The presentation will be shown on February 18, 19, 20 and 21 from 7:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

This type of presentation is our most effective means of reaching our students. Since they will receive the immediate and long-range benefits, we feel they should have the opportunity to participate in the PBJC campaign. Therefore, it is imperative that you encourage each of your students to report to the Palm Beach Gardens High School Auditorium for 7:00 p.m. on those dates listed. The student would then report to your class immediately after the presentation.

Please assist us in this once in 47 years' opportunity for Palm Beach Junior College.

....Ottis Smith

BAGGING THE BIG ONES

Ronald Reagan will come to the Sunshine Court Friday, Feb. 22, at 11 a.m., and for the first time in this year's presidential sweepstakes, the crowd may look respectable. If you think this chance to see one of America's most famous men in person came about purely by accident, you might ask Ed Pugh about bagging the big ones.

Ed, with the backing and aid of Dr. Bottosto and Dr. Eissey, has been on the trail of the campaigners ever since they have been on the campaign trail. Dozens of telephone calls and letters later, Ed began to pick up some of the smaller names -- at one time, we had a debate between a couple of small names almost arranged, but it did not quite come off -- and we and our students have already had the opportunity to hear Richard B. Kay, Sargent Shriver for Kennedy, and Philip Crane.

Ed tells us that anytime you get an appearance by any candidate it is a talking point for getting another one. The amount and kind of press coverage is also important. We believe press attention to Reagan will be excellent, since he will be coming here directly from the airport, and PBJC will be his first talk on this visit to our area.

Sunshine Court, named several years back by Pugh, is an excellent place for outdoor political speeches except that it would hold almost as many people as St. Peter's square. A fairly decent crowd of two or three hundred looks pitifully small from the second floor.

With Reagan in the bag, other big names are showing great interest, and we believe John Connally, George Bush and Benjamin Fernandez will be visiting PBJC.

Benjamin Who?.....JK

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY FRIDAY, SATURDAY, AND SUNDAY WITH ED

Anybody who wants to keep up with Dr. Eissey through a week's schedule would do well to check with Tony Tate first. Tony has been riding shotgun for Dr. Eissey on the trail of votes for the millage referendum. Both men have to maintain their regular duties in addition to making the speeches listed on page three and four.

"One thing that really helps is to see a friendly PBJC face in the audience," Dr. Eissey says. "We had two or three from our career service staff at a trailer park recently -- and it was great to see them there."

Check the list, and if you see an open meeting in your neighborhood, why not go attend and cheer up the speaker?

AND HONORS, TOO

It has already happened when you read this, but not when it is being written: Dr. Eissey has been chosen to introduce the Hon. Shirley Hufstedler, President Carter's appointment to the new office of Secretary of Education in an appearance at the Forum Club on Friday. The next day, Dr. Eissey was to be the honored guest at a $100 a plate banquet in the Venetian Room at the Breakers, where the City of Hope, a national medical center, will name him "Humanitarian of the Year."

IDENTIFICATION OF ESSENTIAL STUDENT ACADEMIC COMPETENCIES: What do YOU, a faculty member, believe the essential student competencies should be in your particular discipline? What instruments should be used to measure them? To find out your thinking, the State Articulation Coordinating Committee will survey each faculty member starting next week. Your input will shape the Florida competence movement....Paul W. Graham

The Student Government Association would like to encourage you to participate in our homecoming picnic, Sat. Feb. 16, 1980 at John Prince Park on Mound Circle. The picnic will be starting at 10 a.m. and will run until 6 p.m. There will be food, entertainment and games between the Administration, Faculty, and Students, which should prove to be exciting....SGA, Polly Young

PERSONALS

Those of us who were privileged to know Dr. Robert L. Smith, our trustee from 1971 to 1978, and Chairman of our board in 1975-76, felt the loss of a warm and generous spirit last week when we learned that Dr. Smith died in a local hospital Sunday night, Feb. 3. Funeral Services were to be held Sat., Feb. 9, 10 a.m. Dr. Smith was a friendly, outgoing person who worked steadily for the solution he felt was best for students and faculty. Dr. Smith, a dentist, had a number of serious physical problems which had existed for a number of years, but never allowed them to interfere with his duties as a trustee, or his duties in many other positions of trust and distinction.

Lillian C. Housman, mother-in-law of Dr. Peter J. Krieger, passed away Tuesday, February 5. In lieu of flowers please contribute to a scholarship in the name of Mrs. Housman, in care of Dr. Harris McGirt at the South Campus. Thank you....Peter HELP! HELP! HELP!

PBJC wishes to have a sign at each polling place in the county on election day, March 11. Since there are 221 such places a lot of help is needed. If you would be willing to place a sign (furnished to you) at your polling place and pick it up after the election is over, please contact us.

The sign will be on a stake so all you need do is place it in the ground.

There is also a need for those who would be willing to pass out flyers at the polls during the day. WE NEED YOUR HELP.....PLEASE CALL AND SAY YOU WILL HELP.
....CO-OP Office 8150 or 8151

VOTER REGISTRATION

The week-long drive for voter registration at PBJC was by far the most successful ever, here. After three days, more than 250, probably around 280, had been registered. Dan Hendrix and Ed Pugh are to be congratulated for the hard work they and their student assistants put in.

Even though the addition of this many new voters is a signal for a certain amount of rejoicing, (particularly since these voters will assuredly vote for us in the millage election), the probability that there are hundreds more of our students who could have voted on March 11, but now cannot, is a sobering fact. We need constantly to do what we can to combat voter apathy.

NEW CLASSIFIED ADVISORY COMMITTEE ELECTED

A subcommittee of the Classified Advisory Committee consisting of Nancy Buhl and Don Pearsall conducted an election of new committee representatives and alternates for the 1980 calendar year. The results of the voting for the Classified Advisory Committee are as follows:

Area I: Nancy Buhl - representative (Special Services) Barbara Bartels - alternate Area II: Mary Tingler - representative (Business Affairs) Sonia Mattson - alternate Area III: Joyce Cates - representative (Registrar's Office)
Susan Rigby - alternate (Library)
Area IV: Paul Davis - representative (Custodial Staff) Eleanor Battle - alternate Area V: Donald Pearsall - representative (Physical Plant) Mary Ann Reasner - alternate Area VI: Janet Charles - representative (Student Personnel)
Janice House - alternate (Data Processing)
Area VII: Dianne Miller - representative (PBJC - Glades) No alternate Area VIII: Barbara Tucker - representative (PBJC - North)
Marilyn Wojciechowski - alternate
Area IX: Leona Opalio - representative (PBJC - South) Christine Gambino - alternate

The Classified Advisory Committee meets at least quarterly with the Director of Personnel to discuss matters of general interest and to maintain open lines of communication with the administration. Minutes of the meetings are sent to representatives, alternates, the President and Vice President of Business Affairs.

Representatives should plan on attending each meeting. If a representative is unable to attend a meeting the representative should ask his or her alternate to attend. Alternates may also wish to attend as observers.....J.M.Schneider

T-SHIRT DAY

Although you have already received Dr. Eissey's proclamation of Feb. 22 as T-Shirt Day, we'd like to remind everyone that the day ought to be a lot of fun.

A good sprinkling of T-Shirts at the Ronald Reagan appearance, (which will be covered by the national press corps following Reagan), might provoke a few hundred, or a few thousand questions. That, in turn, gives someone the chance to answer and to explain about the millage election.

ARVIDA APPROVES

A resolution of support for the PBJC referendum, signed by John W. Temple, Group Vice President, has been added to a growing list of resolutions from other organizations and individuals supporting the college.

"We are proud of all the resolutions of support we have received," says Dr. Eissey. "But we feel that approval from Arvida, which will probably be paying as much of the half mill as any other one entity, is important.

"It can only mean that Arvida realizes the importance of the services the community college offers to the county."

Although the average homeowner, because of the probable passage of the $25,000 homestead exemption on the same March 11 ballot, can support the college without paying more in local taxes than he did a year ago, Dr. Eissey said, this would not be true for large corporations.

The half mill tax is for two years only and can only be spent for renovations, repairs, remodeling and equipment, and cannot be used for salaries or fringe benefits or any other recurring expense.

Others supporting the referendum with resolutions already on file include:

The Fire Chiefs Association of Palm Beach County
Louis L. Spano, Director of the Department of Safety, Town of Ocean Ridge
The Greater Lake Worth Ministerial Association
The Palm Beach Junior College Alumni Association
The Business and Professional Women's Club of Lake Worth
The Benjamin School
Robert Stock, President of the First State Bank of Lantana
Northmore Elementary Parent Teacher Association
Paul E. Daigneault, Chief of Police, Lantana
The Palm Beach County Pan Hellenic Association
Richard Jorandby, Public Defender

A resolution signed by eight prominent business and professional men, Laurence W. Myers, D. H. Van Vleet, Roy E. Garnett, Charles "Butch" Austin, Robert H. Howell, R. L. Brandon, Bradley Coates, and H. L. Fountain.

SPIRIT OF LIFE

Our president was honored at the 1980 annual Hope Ball at the Breakers, Saturday, Feb. 9, and was given the Spirit of Life award and the title of Humanitarian of the Year.

There were 250 present at the $100 a plate dinner, which benefited the City of Hope, a pilot medical treatment and research center in Duarte, Calif., dedicated to the health and well being of mankind.

The award was presented by Jesse Newman, a former recipient, who said Dr. Eissey's lifetime of dedication to the young people of our area through education makes him one of the outstanding educators in the state.

"Your designation as Humanitarian of the Year is long overdue," Newman told Dr. Eissey.

HELP! HELP! HELP! Students! Faculty! Staff! PBJC needs YOU!
Help get the millage passed.

YOU CAN: place ready-made signs at polling places late Monday night or early Tuesday morning. There are 221 polling places.

YOU CAN: volunteer to stand by the PBJC sign for a few hours and pass out PBJC flyers on Tuesday, March 11, voting day.

YOU CAN: call Mrs. Hubble, Kathy Cockrell or Dr. Robert Suttle at the Cooperative Education Department, BA-113, 439-8151, and say..."I can volunteer my time to help PBJC at the polls on Tuesday!"

WE CAN: thank the many people who have already volunteered and are scheduled for Tuesday.

BASEBALL BENEFITS

As this is written, (Friday morning), one major production by the baseball team has already been held, and another is planned for tonight.

Wednesday night's Pacer Alumni Benefit for the American Cancer Society not only raised about $600 for a worthy charity, but produced a sparkling baseball game between the Pacers and recent Pacer stars, (some now in organized baseball), which ended in a 3-3 tie.

Tonight a $50 a plate affair featuring some big baseball names -- Dick Howser and Bobby Cox as speakers and Mickey Mantle in attendance -- will take place at the Jupiter Hilton. The baseball program at PBJC will get a boost from this. As a kind of a warm-up for that event, Michkey is to be on campus from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. today.

Promotions of this kind don't just happen -- they require hard work, and Dusty Rhodes and Tom Mullins deserve a vote of thanks from everyone. Favorable attention from the community helps the entire college.

GREAT DEBATE

We can now announce with considerable confidence that we have definitely secured half of the great presidential debate of 1980, with only one qualification.

Sad to say, we don't have the other half.

Back when it appeared that Ted Kennedy and President Carter were planning to square off in debate at Des Moines, and perhaps elsewhere, Dr. Eissey and Ed Pugh invited both to PBJC.

This week's mail brought a reply from Senator Kennedy, thanking the college for the invitation.

"I will be happy to accept," the letter states, "provided that President Carter accepts as well."

Kennedy said he had received more than 30 invitations to debate the President, "and I am ready to accept them all if the President will do the same."

The invitation to President Carter will be extended again, but political realities do not indicate a favorable reply.

Unfortunately for PBJC students interested in the processes of government, half a debate, in this case at least, may turn out to be no debate at all.

REFERENDUM SUPPORT GROWING

Resolutions of support for our millage continue to be received daily. The new group includes one of the county's largest employers, Pratt & Whitney, and is characterized by a wide range of the types of organizations joining us in urging a vote for our half-mill, two-year levy.

Senior Citizens continue their support, as evidenced by a resolution from the American Association of Retired Persons, chapter 2878.

There is considerable support from the black community with resolutions already in from the the Gold Coast Voters League, Kappa Upsilon Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., and the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, with others on the way.

Bankers are represented in this group by the First Marine Bank and Trust of the Palm Beaches, and accountants by the Gold Coast Chapter of Florida Accountants.

Civic Clubs in all parts of the county continue to support us strongly, with resolutions from the Belle Glade Lions Club, Kiwanis of the North Palm Beaches, and the Civitan Club of Delray Beach in this group.

Women's groups continue support with a resolution from the American Association of University Women.

Service Clubs are represented by the American Legion Post 277.

Political groups by the Lake Worth Democratic Club.

We also have resolutions from a traffic club, the Palm Beach County Traffic Club, and word processors, the Palm Beach County Chapter of International Word Processing.

Feb. 27, but a one-month postponement, extending the bid date to March 18, is on the agenda instead.

The postponement will allow time for clarification of several sections of the specifications, and for board adoption of changes mandated in a review of the final plans by the state department of education.

Most of the agenda items appear to be routine in nature, and the meeting should be a short one.

COACH OF THE YEAR

DUSTY RHODES has received a well-deserved honor in being named, along with Jim Heaton of Forest Hill High School, as Coach of the Year by the Palm Beach County Hall of Fame selection committee. Last year's Pacer baseball team won 52 games while losing 13, the second most wins recorded by a junior college team in the nation's history.

It is noteworthy that Heaton, the co-coach of the year, and Dusty are both PBJC alumni. We were also Coach of the Year winners last year, when Joe Ceravolo was named. Maybe we've got a trend going.

PBJC North

PHI BETA LAMBDA - Two members of Phi Beta Lambda, a business organization at Palm Beach Junior College North, won awards at a District 5 meeting held Feb. 9 at Broward Community College. Stephanie Millen won first place in Economics and Extemporaneous Speaking, and Jerry Self placed second in Extemporaneous Speaking.

PBJC South

SCIENCE CLUB - PBJC South has initiated and had its first Science Club organizational meeting, with assistance from Dr. Bill Curless, advisor, on Monday, February 18, 1980. Meetings will be held on the first and third Mondays of each month in the Henderson School Cafetorium (6:30 p.m.). A "Florida Keys" field trip is being planned.

PHI THETA KAPPA - Alpha Delta Iota chapter of Phi Theta Kappa initiated 20 new members February 10, 1980 at the Boca Raton Moravian Church. David Uhlar, FAU engineering student and president of Alpha of Florida alumni chapter of PTK, was the speaker. His topic was "What it means to be a Phi Theta Kappan." Mr. Dan Hendrix (central campus PTK sponsor) received an honorary membership in Alpha Delta Iota. Accepting the certificate for him was Mr. Allen Hamlin. Dr. Karl F. Ijams (Dean of Student Affairs at FAU) also received an honorary membership.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR ALL GOOD ~~MEN~~ PERSONS COLLEGE TO COME TO THE AID OF THEIR ~~PARTY~~

This is it. Before you can turn around twice, March 11 will have come and gone, and there will not be another chance to do anything about getting $8 million dollars for PBJC.

Don't wait. The time is now.

Call Bob Suttle at 8151. WE NEED 100 VOLUNTEERS. We already have 40 polling places covered, but we want to cover all 200.

It's simple and easy -- and important.

You can either take a sign to your polling place when you go to vote early in the morning, (what would be easier or simpler?), and pick it up when the polls close, AND/OR spend whatever time you can giving a smile and a cheery greeting and a brochure to voters as they approach the poll.

This is important because it is aimed at an active VOTER, someone who is either going to punch No. 139, (Hooray!) or 140, (heaven forbid!). Many voters, despite our best efforts, will not have made up their minds about our referendum, and many will not even be aware of it. At that psychological moment, even a friendly smile might tip the balance for us.

If you don't want to call Bob Suttle, call Bob Moss at 8050. Bob Moss, that is, is heading up the I-95 blitz, and needs your help in getting students and others who can carry signs at I-95 exits and entrances on March 10, 7:15 to 8:30 A.M. and 4:00 to 5:30 P.M.

If you don't want to call either of them, then call your friends and urge them to vote for us. The the time is now. In a wee and a day it will all be over. Now is the time for all good persons to come to the aid of their college. ...JK

LISKA HOOKER HONORED

Liska Hooker, a citizen volunteer at Palm Beach Junior College Glades was honored by PBJC Trustees at the February meeting of the board at the Glades Campus.

Mrs. Hooker, who organized and carried out the Cultural Arts Series still underway at PBJC Glades has also been responsible for many of the 25 other workshops held this year at the college, according to Dr. Cecil Conley, Provost.

In introducing Mrs. Hooker to the board, Dr. Conley gave a brief status report on the Glades Center -- (625 credit students, some 650 this year in workshops, cooperative student attitudes, an excellent faculty with six full-time and 36 part-time teachers.

He said the Cultural Arts Series, which brings high school students to the college, has already had a series on Art, Music and Literature, and will have another on Dance, utilizing talent from the community.

The board passed a formal resolution commending Mrs. Hooker for her "positive and tangible efforts" in perceiving and solving community problems.

Dr. Tony Tate reported that as of Monday, February 25, college spokesmen had appeared at 352 meetings to talk about the half-mill referendum of March 11.

The talks, most of the slide-show presentations, plus some 16 radio and television appearances, have been given by 40 different college representatives, but Dr. Edward M. Eissey, PBJC President, has personally given more than 200. Dr. Tate said that at least 15,000 people have been reached with information about the referendum.

The board had originally planned to award contracts for the new auditorium at the Glades Center at the February meeting there, but changes in specifications forced a delay until the March 13 meeting at PBJC Central.

PLEASE READ

We are biased, of course, but we think everything in the Monday Report is interesting. This week, however, we want to take this front page position partly to urge you to read page 3 and page 4. What you can do about page 3 is just to keep working for two more days.

We hope you will want to scream bloody murder to congressmen and senators about the article from FACCurrent we have reprinted on page 4.

STRAW VOTE THIS MORNING

All registered voters on campus are invited to take part in a Straw Ballot in the Social Science Building today from 7:30 A.M. to noon. Ballots and ballot boxes will be available in Social Science. Voters are asked to follow the same rules they would if voting in the Florida Primary, March 11, with registered Democrats voting only for a Democratic candidate and Republicans voting for a Republican candidate.

It will be interesting to see if our Straw Ballot voters pick the same candidates as Florida voters in the Primary. ... Ed Pugh

PBJC North

In order to provide the best service possible to the students and potential students in the PBJC North area, we are asking each person disseminating information to stress that PBJC North has two offices:

> Gardens Office (located on the Campus of Palm Beach Gardens High School) 4245 Holly Drive, Palm Beach Gardens. Office Hours: Mondays thru Thursdays: 2:00 - 9:00 P.M.; Fridays: 9:00 A.M. - 3:00 P.M. Telephone: 622-3863.
> 45th Street Office, 2101 45th Street, West Palm Beach. Office Hours: Mondays thru Fridays: 8:00 A.M. - 4:00 P.M. Telephone: 842-3500.

Registration and fee payments are accepted ONLY at our Gardens Office -- NOT at the 45th Street Office.

Admission forms and academic advising can be obtained at either office.

Thanks to each of you for your continued support. ... Ottis Smith

TIME MAGAZINE

Occasions when we make the national magazines are rare enough so that we thought you might like to know we made Time this week, March 10. There it is on page 20 ... about Reagan's visit. Mentions our "sun drenched campus."

By the way, a T-shirt photo was used by the Lake Worth Herald this week -- a long way from Time to the Lake Worth Herald, but we made them both. ... JK

MILLAGE GRAM
March 10, 1980

Nine months ago, when the idea of a two year only, one-half mill levy was but a concept, few people in the legislature, in the Palm Beach County and City governments, and within our own college family gave any credence to the potential for passing such a measure. "This is just two years following PROPOSITION 13" some people said--"Besides, people in Palm Beach County just are not familiar with the operation and the needs of the college." Whether PBJC wins the referendum depends--as it has from the beginning--on the enthusiasm of the people who have so keenly supported the college for 47 years. But regardless of the vote, PBJC HAS WON AN OVERWHELMING VICTORY!

As of March 1, 1980, PBJC:

has conducted a campaign that has had the largest number of formal presentations in the county of any issue.

has received the support of the media in the county, radio, television, daily and weekly newspapers. Never before in our county has an issue been so solidly endorsed.

has established direct community contact with nearly 400 private and public organizations! Literally thousands of citizens have been presented with a graphic summary of where the college is after more than forty-seven years of public service.

has made in excess of 350 formal presentations to these groups, and received from all very favorable acknowledgement of the needs listed for the referendum issue!

has (in addition to the over 350 formal presentations) been involved in over 30 informal meetings with the public! For example, the President met with all employees to talk about the college and the referendum! Events like this were repeated over and over; enthusiasm was the hallmark of each event!

has had more than 20 radio programs devoted to it, several programs were an audience call-in show and all the calls were extremely positive!

has appeared on several television programs and the value of this public exposure is overwhelming. If PBJC wanted to buy this television time, the cost would be enormous. And for those too numerous-to-count television news spots and millage "plugs" by Burt Reynolds, WE HAVE WON!

has been the subject of many dozens of newspaper articles! No paper in the county of any size ignored the work being done at the college, nor did they ignore the importance of this referendum!

has (easily) received over $1,000,000 worth of media (TV, radio, newspaper) coverage!

has received many dozens of key endorsements! This list is too numerous to print here.

In summary, between January and March of this year, it is estimated that more than 500,000 people in this area have heard, directly or indirectly, about the college programs and our referendum.

Communication will be a permanent part of the mission of this college. I sincerely count myself fortunate to be able to be with this team of staff, students, alumni and Board members who so feverently believe in our second home, PBJC.

YOU are to be congratulated!

E. M. Eissey

DO SOMETHING ABOUT THIS

Dr. Graham called our attention to the article below, which appears in the FACCurrent for February. We think it is not only alarming but catastrophic for some of us. This is like removing money and security you have already earned. Think about it, and then do something about it. ...JK

Social Security Amendment Affects State Retirement

Editor's Note: The article below, which recently appeared in "The National Education Secretary", has special significance to community college personnel who are participants in the State of Florida retirement benefit program. It is important to note that the retirement benefit you may be expecting to receive from the State of Florida may be a part of your Social Security benefit and not in addition to it.

"In 1977 an "offset" provision was passed that will affect 85,000 people by $190 million in 1979. Average loss per year per spouse or surviving spouse will be $2,235+. This social security financing amendment requires a dollar-for-dollar reduction of social security benefits to spouses or surviving spouses who are receiving earned benefits from a federal, state or local government retirement system and is Title III, Section 334 of Public Law 95-126.

This provision will destroy the benefits for those who worked to build the benefit or those who worked where Social security deductions were required. This provision is effective for spouses or surviving spouses filed after December 1982, which is the category most of us will be in. It does not affect those eligible for retirement prior to December 1982.

An example of the effect is being used for your study.

Congressman Richard C. White, Texas, in House Bill 801, and Senator Charles Mathias, Maryland, in Senate Bill 294, are working to repeal this provision. This editor urges you to study the example and then contact these two in support of repeal.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doe are both working and contributing to retirement funds in anticipation of their retirement. Mr. Does works for a construction firm and contributes to Social Security. Mrs. Doe is a teacher and contributes to her state teacher retirement system.

When Mr. and Mrs. Doe retire, they expect to receive benefits totaling $875 per month. This total is based on the following calculation:

——Mr. Doe will recieve $450 a month in Social Security benefits.

——Mrs. Doe will receive $200 a month from her state teacher retirement system.

——Mrs. Doe will receive $225 a month from her social security spouse's benefit.

However, due to the "offset" provision, Mrs. Doe's social securty entitlement will be reduced by the amount of her state pension. Therefore, Mrs. Doe's spouse's benefit will be $25 per month.

The Does, who planned to receive $875 per month, will only receive $675 $200 monthly reduction."

Announcements

Today, March 10th, is the deadline for ordering Caps and Gowns for those faculty planning to attend the Graduation ceremonies. Please stop in the Bookstore and place your order. Thank you. ... Mrs. Brofft

Our exhibit at the fair, we learned somewhat belatedly, won a second place red ribbon. The fair was attended by 524,620 people this year, even though the two rainy Sundays cut down a bit on attendance.

Dr. Eissey will make the last millage presentation Tuesday, 1:30 P.M., at Golden Lakes, a retirement village west of Century Village.

TEACHER AGAIN. As you can tell by the advertisement for a new Director of Institutional Research in today's Monday Report, Dot Suttle has decided to return to teaching. We will miss her at the administrative level, but the administrative loss will be a gain for our students.

CONGRATULATIONS. Bill Graham has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Lake Worth Chamber of Commerce.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 30 March 17, 1980

AN OVERWHELMING LANDSLIDE VICTORY!!

The final, unofficial vote count, (not including absentee ballots), was 71,407 for our millage, 54,935 against. This works out to 56.6 per cent, and you don't usually use words like "overwhelming" or "landslide" about a margin that small. But for our half mill referendum, ANYTHING over 50 per cent should be called an overwhelming victory. The reason can be found in another result, the 61 per cent to 39 per cent defeat of the Road Bonds. For the college to be able to overcome the effect of two taxing measures on one ballot, (almost always this means defeat for both) and the negative effect of being coupled with an unpopular cause is truly remarkable. Only once in all the months of effort put in on our millage campaign did Dr. Eissey's habitual optimism fail -- that was on the day it was announced that the road bonds would be on the same ballot. His answer to this development was to work harder, and encourage everyone else to work harder. We did, and it is a good thing we did.

THE PARTY

The 200 or so who attended the victory party Tuesday night at the American Polish Club do not need to read this to know we had a very informal get-together, with no speeches and no agenda -- and practically no returns.

Along with the rest of the county, we waited until 9:25 p.m. before the very first return showed us leading, 2,465 to 1,201. At 10:15 we heard the totals had become 5,800 to 3,000, and at 10:25, with 14 per cent in, and the totals at 9,701 and 5,104, the tabulation stopped, and an hour later was declared defunct for the night.

Some of the waiting was taken up with a raffle, conducted by Hamid Faquire and Betty Woolfe, which raised enough money to pay for the party, and still provided a first prize of $75 for Vickie Russ of the Women's Center.

Dorothy Manor, Dr. Manor's wife, won second prize of $50, and promptly gave it back to Hamid to be used as scholarship money.

Barbara Tucker, North Campus live-wire, won a $25 third prize and said it was the first time in her life she had won a prize.

Frank Bollon, whose life-of-the-party act was in high gear, won a vase of flowers as the fourth prize.

The hopes of a 2 to 1 margin aroused by the first returns on Tuesday night were quickly dashed when the vote computers started a re-run Wednesday. A 60-40 margin in North County dwindled to 58-42 and Boca Raton had still to be heard from. Boca Raton, as expected, was negative, and for a short while we were actually behind in cumulative totals, 48.5 to 51.5 per cent. But that was quickly reversed, and the margin, both in numbers and percentages, continued to climb in our favor the rest of the day. So far as we now know, (a precinct by precinct tally is not yet available), every area in the county voted for us with the exception of Boca Raton.

Dr. Eissey believes that without the road bond issue, we would have been 20 percentage points higher. I won't buy that, but I'll go for 10 more. But more important than percentages is the increased awareness in the entire county of PBJC and what we are trying to do here. We have won an overwhelming victory....JK

New Calendar: On Friday, February 22, 1980, the State Board of Education adopted an amendment to SBE Rule 6A-14.04 concerning community college calendars. The Rule change requires community colleges to schedule three of their terms so that the first day of classes falls within the periods of August 24-31, January 3-10, and May 6-13.

The change is effective with the 1981-82 calendar. The State Board of Education established the same requirement for the nine state universities....Paul Graham

Dr. Eissey got his favorite singing partner, Marjory Carroll to help him sing Happy Birthday to Dr. Tate, and a color photo of this event livened up the front page of the Evening Times the next day. That will tell you what the party was like.

Betty Woolfe and those who helped her prepared several tables full of delicious snacks, and soft drinks were donated for the occasion.

Most of us got to bed late, happy about our lead, but with no victory speeches.

The next morning at 7 a.m., Dr. Eissey was back at work again, on Forest Hill Boulevard at I-95 with a sign thanking voters.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Dear Staff of PBJC:

Thank you to all the people who gave so much time and talent to support PBJC's millage referendum efforts. The positive action of the college family and many other community leaders led to our victory at the polls. The estimated return of eight million dollars will help us better serve the community.

The appreciation your President feels for your efforts is deep and proud.

"Thank you" seems so small an expression of appreciation for the enthusiastic support of the staff. However, it is said with sincerity and humility for the role the college family played in our success story.

Congratulations! You are the Gold Medal Winners of the Tax Olympics.

Sincerely,

Edward M. Eissey

Social Security Offset: A Calmer View

MEMORANDUM March 12, 1980

TO: Ms. Betty Schmidt

FROM: Joseph M. Schneider JMS

SUBJECT: Article in Monday Report

Unfortunately, the article in last week's Monday Report indicating that social security benefits for spouses or survivors would be reduced for persons collecting state retirement benefits is quite misleading. The article does not clearly state that any person who is in the Florida Retirement System is not affected by the social security offset. The only Palm Beach Junior College personnel who may be directly affected by this provision are those personnel who elected not to transfer from the Teacher's Retirement System or another state retirement system which does not include social security coverage. It should be noted that if an employee's spouse is not under a social security system the offset provision could apply even if a Palm Beach Junior College employee is under the Florida Retirement System with social security.

The article's statement that "This provision is effective for spouses or surviving spouses filed after December, 1982 . .," appears to be very misleading in that information published from the Division of Retirement makes it clear that the offset relates to persons not in a social security system who are not eligible for a retirement benefit as of December 1, 1982. If, for example, a person covered under the Teacher's Retirement System is age 55 or older with 10 years of credited service as of December 1, 1982, that person is eligible for retirement (which may be early retirement) and therefore is not covered by the social security offset.

In August of 1978 all personnel who were in the Teacher's Retirement System or any other nonsocial security system were sent a ballot and a brochure with information comparing the benefits under each retirement system. Pages 25 and 26 of that brochure explained the social security offset. If any personnel who remained under the Teacher's Retirement System or another non-social security system has questions on this subject they may wish to refer to that literature or feel free to give me a call.

Those personnel who remained in a non-social security system may be interested in knowing that I received information from the Division of Retirement that a bill is being introduced to the legislature that will allow persons not in the Florida Retirement System the option to transfer. All the details of the bill are not known but the Division of Retirement believes the chances are very good that it will become law.

WHEN DO WE START?

Since we have now won the approval of the public, the way is clear to collect a half mill of taxes on the current roll, and a half mill on next year's roll

The amount of money we will receive is not yet known to anyone, since we are talking about collecting on one tax roll that has not yet been prepared. The $8 to $10 million approximations you may have seen at various places during the millage campaign are two-year figures, and are about as close as you can come at the present time.

Ordinarily, the first money available to us would be after the first collection of taxes this year, beginning in late October, but really significant amounts in November. But ordinary procedures are not necessarily the way our president operates.

As soon as the first favorable returns began coming in, Dr. Eissey began talking about getting money advanced from the state against our anticipated revenue. This is a procedure that is used every year by the school system, and would obviously be to our advantage now.

Dr. Eissey flew to Tallahassee Wednesday evening, and Thursday morning began to explore the possibility of getting $2 million to use prior to the collection of the half mill. It turns out that the legislation allowing advance funding specifically mentions schools and universities, but does not mention community colleges. It does not exclude them, but does not mention them.

As this is written, the entire problem is being researched, and the legislative committee of the President's Council is looking into possible corrective legislation this year.

While this is going on, Dr. Tate has asked Department Chairmen to re-examine their needs in order to develop a priority list. It will be difficult to squeeze $15 million in needs into an $8 to $10 million budget, but not half so difficult as it has been all these years to have millions in needs and nothing in the budget.

When do we start? Late this year, for sure, but a lot earlier than that, if Dr. Eissey can pull off another of his near miracles.

TRUSTEES MEET WEDNESDAY

The trustees will award bids for the PBJC Glades Auditorium at the March meeting of the board, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., in the Foodservice Building at PBJC Central.

The bids are to be opened Tuesday, tabulated, and prepared for the board's consideration by meeting time.

The 500 seat Instructional and Cultural Center will be suitable for drama and musical productions, lectures, assembly programs and other events.

Since it will be the first auditorium in the Glades, it will provide a new dimension for the city as well as for the college. Dr. Cecil Conley, PBJC Glades provost, says the auditorium will be busy every night from the first day it is opened.

Dr. Eissey has asked for space on the agenda for special commendations. The board will receive notification of a $28,000 grant award for an individualized manpower systems laboratory in Basic Education. Other agenda items appear to be routine in nature.

LATE ANNOUNCEMENTS

A list of vocational education course offerings for Spring Quarter beginning March 26 at FAU are available in Whitmer's Office.

Please note that the mail station for Dr. Tate's office is now #24.

Our straw ballot taken on Monday morning, Mar. 10, correctly predicted President Carter's big victory, Reagan's win over Bush and Anderson, and both state referenda victories. Naturally, our millage election also won, but we gave the road bonds a narrow victory and the county voted them down.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 31 March 24, 1980

GLADES AUDITORIUM WILL BE DELAYED

An auditorium at PBJC Glades, a joint effort by the city of Belle Glade, the college and the state cannot be built unless an additional half million dollars for construction can be found.

PBJC trustees learned Wednesday night that bids were from $1.6 million upward and that the college budget for the project could not exceed $1.1 million. Dr. Eissey asked the board to take no action on the bids to allow him 30 days in which to seek other funding. The available funds for the auditorium were raised through contributions from the college and the city that were matched two to one by the state. There is no comparable auditorium facility in the Glades area, and Dr. Cecil Conley, PBJC Glades Provost, says he could schedule the auditorium for two years with requests for usage he has already received.

Bids were from five contractors, with Lutz Construction, Inc., Belle Glade, apparent low bidder at $1,595,959, and Roe Steele, also from the Glades, second low at $1,610,000. Other bids ranged upward to $1,784,000.

Dr. Eissey announced that the first money from the successful half mill referendum would not be available until November. He received authorization from the board to seek advance funding.

Millage funds could not be used to rescue the Glades auditorium, since they cannot be used for new buildings.

Dr. Eissey commended Tony Tate for his work as head of the millage committee. He also commended Ed Pugh for his work in attracting national attention to the college through speeches by political candidates.

Dr. Philip Lichtblau, board chairman, presented Dr. Eissey with a plaque for accomplishing the "mission impossible" of obtaining passage of the referendum. "We believed all along we had picked the right successor to Dr. Manor (former PBJC President, Dr. Harold C. Manor), and now we are sure of it," Dr. Lichtblau said.

A request for PBJC to become the repository for video tapes of the stories of local survivors of the Holocaust will be taken up at the next meeting of the board.

The board directed its attorney, James Adams, to seek changes in a proposed contract for construction of a billboard on property owned by the college and to bring that item back to the board at a future meeting.

Dr. Eissey called attention to a grant for installation of a system to provide individualized computer instruction in basic math and reading, and in subjects for the General Educational Development tests.

He said the Adult Education Division of county schools would furnish an instructor for this program while our personnel are being trained in its use. It is hoped a similar program will become available for use in the Glades, he said.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 32 March 31, 1980

PBJC SOUTH

SOUTH CAMPUS PLANS BOILING FURIOUSLY

Our plans for PBJC South, simmering along nicely for about three years, are now on the front burner and boiling furiously.

Wednesday, Dr. Eissey, Dr. Tate, and Jim Brannigan met with Dr. Glenwood Creech, FAU president, Dr. Dennis R. Nicewander, FAU acting vice president for administrative affairs, and Fred Gardner, FAU's director of physical plant, and agreed to ask for transfer of 33 acres north of the Henderson University School, on Florida Atlantic Blvd.

Thursday morning, a committee headed by Brannigan began pulling together a formal request, working against a deadline to try to get everything ready to send to the Board of Regents three weeks before their meeting of May 9. Our information must get to FAU in time for them to put together the final request to the regents for transfer of the land.

Dr. Eissey announced that private funding will pay for the first buildings, expected to cost between $1 and $1.5 million.

Dr. Tate said that if approval is granted at the first regents meeting (and the regents have already approved the idea of the grant of land to build our campus) the first building could be available as early as Winter, 1981.

Expansion at PBJC South has been increasingly hampered through lack of a permanent facility. Although we currently have 1400 students attending classes at the Henderson University School in the evening and utilizing FAU classrooms, we could serve hundreds of additional students right now if we had our own campus, according to Jim Tanner.

The acreage may be divided into three blocks with 10 for immediate development, and two additional blocks of 10 and 13 acres for expansion. In addition to that, there may be space north of the 33 acres that could be used for physical education playing fields, or some other purpose of this kind.

FEES UP $1?

A workshop meeting of the trustees was scheduled Friday for a review of the economic situation of the college with special reference to a proposed increase of $1 per credit hour in student fees.

As you know, millage funds cannot be used for recurring expense, and inflation has been ruining projections for next year's budget.

The maximum student fee allowed by law is $16 per credit hour for in-state students and $32 for out-of-state students.

If the board decides to make the change, it will be effective in the Fall Term

Dr. Eissey asked for the special workshop meeting because the first registration for Fall Term is starting today. If board reactions at the workshop indicate that the board will go ahead with a full consideration of the increase at later meetings, the new $16 fees for Fall Term registration will be collected starting today.

If the board should decide after full consideration not to charge the additional $1, it will be far easier and simpler to refund than it would be to collect the extra $1 if the decision goes the other way.

Prior to Friday's meeting, Dr. Eissey prepared a data sheet for the board

PBJC NORTH
NORTH CAMPUS PORTABLE ARRIVES

After months of waiting for a promised portable trailer, Mary J. Still wrote the following.. YES, VIRGINIA, THERE IS A PORTABLE!! Marilyn W. has seen it; Dr. Smith has seen it! (Who would dare call them addled?!) It does exist! It's not just a fig newton of your imagination! But it is a small part of a much larger dream, which we all pursue, with Dr. Eissey leading, of a new, grand and glorious, large NORTH CAMPUS with streets of gold (another Eissey Street?! God help us! The President's office will be called Manor's Manor in honor of Dr. Manor? Where's my resignation form?!) meandering through luxurious flora, silver-lined clouds hovering, marvelous wonders of architecture gracing PGA Blvd., with offices which are spacious, comfy, and even have desks and chairs, not to mention shelves, closets, filing cabinets, closets, and elbow room! (Well, let's not go too far.) Pshaw to those who say it won't fit down the chimney!

No, Virginia, it is not just a pipe dream (except maybe to Marsteller). There will be more than pipes! There will be four walls, even a roof -- perhaps some day electricity! (Marilyn believes!) Perhaps even floors, windows, and a door! It will have curtains and carpets. (There had better be floors and windows, in that case!)

So, have faith, Virginia. Some day you, too, will see. Your eyes will be opened to a wonderful vision, and you shall know the marvelous truth! The portable DOES EXIST!! Hallelujah!

Wednesday, March 26, the North Campus personnel's patience paid off...

YES, VIRGINIA, WE HAVE OUR PORTABLE!

Today, March 26, Wednesday, our long-awaited portable arrived! It will be another month or two...or three... before it is ready for occupancy, but it is here, wonder of wonders!

Approximately one year ago, Mr. Robert D'Angio, Sr., then head of the North Campus, arranged for North Technical School students to build a portable room which was to serve as faculty office for most of the North Campus faculty. This released the present faculty trailer-office for Dr. Ottis Smith, present head of the North Campus, and his secretary, Mrs. Marilyn Wojciechowski, as well as a reading lab guided by Mrs. Ardata Ferguson. Thus, the trailer for counselor and administrator will be for counseling (John Jenkins, secretary Barbara "Live-wire" Tucker, and staff) and registration. (There were, and are, two trailers for our whole North Campus faculty and staff.)

They tell me the portable has carpeting, paneling, and other niceties, but seeing is believing! Watch for the next report! (My elbows feel freer already!)

showing some typical inflationary increases during the past year. The majority of the increases were in the range from 13 to 43 per cent increase. Three items were below 13 per cent, and three were above, including copy paper, 55 per cent, arm chair, 62 per cent, and printshop plate material, 112 per cent.

The student fee increase would be 6.7 per cent, and seems modest when compared to the increased cost of all items used by the college.

PBJC GLADES
RESCUING THE GLADES AUDITORIUM

The long-awaited PBJC Glades Auditorium, an apparent victim of inflation, may still be built almost on schedule, if everything put into operation by Dr. Eissey last week comes through at just the right time. It is too early, yet, for a general news story announcing the rescue of the project, but the Monday Report thought you'd like to know, even though things are still a little "iffy".

The answer to the missing half million dollars between the budget for the auditorium and the lowest bid received by the trustees last week is advance funding.

There is provision in state law and regulation which allows for colleges to seek funding in advance, to be repaid by certain construction funds which would be coming in from the state during the following seven years.

If Dr. Eissey's work last week bears fruit, a request for funding for the Glades Auditorium, and for permission to use funds for PBJC North if this becomes necessary, and for other PBJC projects will go on the agenda for the next meeting of the State Board of Education, with a high priority.

Since the state board meets on April 15, if approval is granted, we could award a bid at the trustees meeting of April 16, just within the 30 days allowed between opening and award of bids.

There are plenty of places where something could upset this timetable, but right now everything appears to be on schedule.

Brad Graham needs your help. He has physical handicaps which may be alleviated, if enough volunteers can be found to give him therapy. Standbys, regulars, potential assistants--help on any basis is sought. Brad, who is the son of Bill Graham, PBJC Instructor, and grandson of Dr. Paul Graham, Vice President of Academic Affairs, has to receive constant patterning or exercising of his arms and legs and massaging of his body to bring about a perception of his five senses, which he now is unable to coordinate. Volunteer help is needed to establish Brad's program on a daily basis from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Volunteers are especially needed for Sundays. If you can give an hour or volunteer to be a standby, or if you can assist on any basis, please call Bill Graham's home at 964-3659 or Dr. Graham's home at 582-3685. This is a real need to which we hope for a positive response. Brad needs you and he deserves the chance each of you can help him achieve.

PHI THETA KAPPA AMONG NATIONAL TOP TEN

Delta Omicron, the PBJC Central chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, placed among the top ten chapters in the country at the recent convention in Washington, D. C. Members attending had a personal tour of the Capitol by Congressman Dan Mica. "I'm extremely proud of our PTK chapter," Dan Hendrix, faculty sponsor,said.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 33 April 7, 1980

HOW TO SPEND $9 MILLION
COLLEGE WIDE MILLAGE PROJECT COMMITTEE (CWMPC)

Now that we are assured of getting something like $9 to $10 million over the next two years, how do we use this once in a lifetime opportunity? How do we get the most out of the money? The administration wants you to be in on the decision making process, and the following article, written by Dr. Tate, explains how. If you want to help in this way, please call Dr. Tate's office soon -- we need to move quickly to be ready to take advantage of advanced funding if it becomes available.

.....JK

PURPOSE: The purpose of this committee will be to review millage project priority requests and to recommend possible additional projects for funding. Final decisions for all projects will be the responsibility of the President.

MILLAGE PROJECT REQUEST LEVELS

1. First Level - Project requests will be initiated at the Department/Supervisor level through their Chairpersons. Requests must be discussed with the majority of individuals within the departments.

2. Second Level - Following departmental approval, the requests will be compiled in order of priorities by the Vice President of Business Affairs. Prioritized lists will be circulated to the College Wide Millage Project Committee for review, discussion and consideration.

3. Third Level - The President's Staff will review the recommendations of the (CWMPC).

4. Fourth Level - The President will review and approve projects.

5. Fifth Level - The District Board of Trustees will be advised and recommendations to DBOT will be forwarded by the President. (Cont. on page 2)

STATE SALARY FUNDING

As many of you may already know, somebody at the state level missed the boat on funding requests for community colleges, and, once again, we are being forced to come from behind just to stay even with other state agencies. Salary increases for all state agencies of five and a half per cent were already included in appropriations bills passed last year.

Funds for an additional three per cent raise, bringing the total to eight and a half per cent, the maximum that will be permitted under the Council on Wage and Price Control guidelines, have already been requested for state employees, K-12 employees, and university employees, but no additional funds were requested for community colleges.

When the Community College Presidents Council learned of this incredible oversignt, it immediately assigned highest priority to adding the $10 million needed to increase community college salaries by an additional three per cent to appropriations bills this year. Dr. Eissey was made a member of a three-president committee to work on this project.

The problem is that the oversight has allowed bills to be written and filed, and recommendations from the governor and commissioner of education to be made that contain either nothing or an insufficient amount of additional funding for community colleges.

Recently, Bob Moss received this message from Dr. James Kellerman, Executive

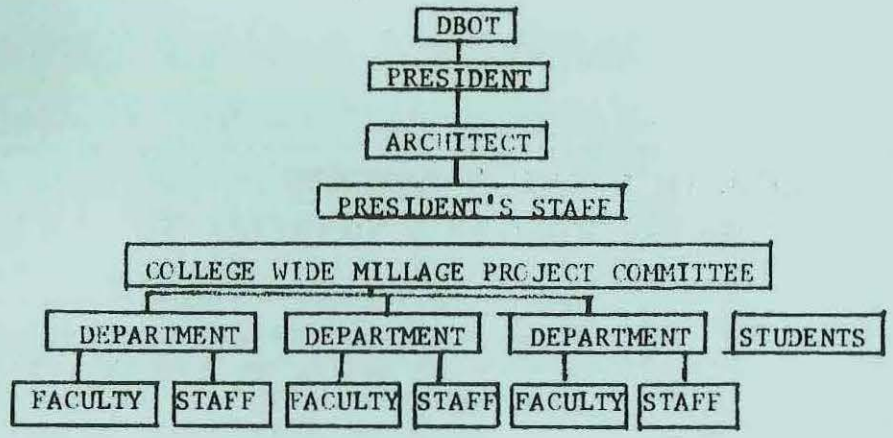
6. The levels listed are hierarchical in a sense because each level passed the products of its efforts upward to the next higher level.



ORGANIZATIONAL/MEMBERSHIP OF THE CWMPC

1. The CWMPC will have the following membership:

   a. Administrators - (2)
   b. Instructional Faculty - (2)
   c. Career Employees - (1)
   d. Center Representatives - (3 - 1 per center)
   e. Executive Secretary (appointed by VPBA) - (1)
   f. Board Member - (1)
   g. Director of Physical Plant/Designee - (1)
   h. Students - (2)
   i. Architect - (1)

2. Qualifications/Responsibilities of Members:

   Members must:

   a. Be willing to serve the hours required, approximately 100-150 hours. Approximately one-half will be non-duty time including during evening hours.

   b. Be willing to learn the construction processes and procedures to become effective members of the committee.

   c. Be willing to participate fully - no additional benefits.

   d. Must be willing to place the needs of the College above parochial interests and not represent special interest groups.

   e. Be open, fair, and honest in working with the CWMPC and peers.

   f. Be supportive of the process of the CWMPC and the decisions and recommendations of the committee.

   g. Be willing to have a "problem-solving" as distinguished from a "win-or-lose" orientation. (Cont. on page 3)

FALL TERM FEES INCREASED

Following a workshop meeting with the trustees Friday, March 28, Dr. Eissey decided to increase the fees collected for Fall Term registration to $16 per credit hour for Florida students and $32 per credit hour for out-of-state students.

The new fees are the maximum allowed by state law. Dr. Eissey told board members there are four or five community colleges already at this maximum, and others will be moving to the maximum this year, just as we are.

Dr. Eissey told the board the 7 per cent increase in student fees plus approximately 7 per cent more from the state would still give the college only 7 per cent more to try to handle inflation running as high as 112 per cent on some items.

The increase in fees is provisional until the board takes action at a regular or special meeting. All four members present at the workshop indicated they regretted the necessity for the fee increase but could see no alternative source for the needed funds.

Fall term registration proceeded smoothly last week at PBJC Central according to Charles Graham. "I really thought we would have at least a few questions and comments," he says, "but, so far, I haven't heard a single comment. I think people are so used to seeing prices go up on everything that it isn't a novelty anymore."

Director of FACC: "Let me assure you that FACC has taken the whole issue of salary money as our single highest priority with the Legislature this session. We will be seeking additional funding to accommodate the inflationary costs in Florida, including funds sufficient to provide salary increases for all personnel at the maximum-level permitted under the Council on Wage and Price Control guidelines."

From San Francisco, where he is attending the meeting of the American Association of Community/Junior Colleges, Dr. Eissey told the Monday Report that initial efforts to get funds for community college employees to be treated on a par with other state agency employees are going well.

"I believe we have made tremendous headway in getting the legislators to recognize that an oversight has been made," Dr. Eissey said. "That doesn't mean that we are assured of getting the money, but the first signs are encouraging."

EXCLUSIONS:

a. Those whose supervisor indicates that release time from their duties would seriously interfere with their primary responsibilities will be excluded.

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS

Appointment to the Committee from the list of those employees volunteering to serve shall be made by the President.

HEALTH PLUS IN THE 80'S

What is your Health Risk and Life Quality for the 1980's?

Your habits do influence your ability to achieve and maintain good health and long life. Both physical and emotional well being are related to life quality. Among other things, it hinges on your comfort or satisfaction with yourself, your relations with others, your ability to meet the demands of life, and your ability to enjoy things.

You can find out your Health Risk and Life Quality by enrolling in a HEALTH PLUS class at PBJC, Room AH 207. The four-week, one-day-a-week (two hours each day) workshop is open to employees, students, and their families.

If you are between the ages of 20 and 45 you qualify for this workshop.

Classes are scheduled to start April 9 and will continue on April 16, 23, and 30. A $5.00 fee will include lab work, counseling service, a computerized questionnaire, the class and follow-up.

This is another health service offered to you from the Health Clinic at PBJC and is co-sponsored by the Palm Beach County Health Department. For more information, call Mary Cannon, LPN, College Nurse, Ext. 8066, or Chuck Fletcher, Palm Beach County Health Department, at 837-3098....Mary Cannon

NEW SECURITY CHIEF HARVEY BERTRAM

A man with more than 26 years of experience as a police officer--Harvey R. Bertram, Lake Worth--is the new chief of security.

Bertram, who retired in January from the Lake Worth Police Department after "26 years, four months and ten days," started as a patrolman in September of 1953, working up to Lieutenant in charge of Administrative Affairs for the department.

Bertram, originally from Huntington, Long Island, N. Y., is a graduate of the Institute of Applied Science, Syracuse, N. Y., and has attended police courses at the Palm Beach County Criminal Justice Institute at PBJC almost yearly since 1953.

Bertram enjoyed his years as a Lake Worth policeman, and looks forward to his duties at PBJC, where he has six security guards under him.

MULTI-CAMPUS SPORTS DAY

All four Palm Beach Junior College campuses will compete in a Multi-Campus Sports Day to be held at PBJC Central Friday, April 11, from 8:30 A.M. to approximately 1:30 P.M.

Up to 32 students from each of the campuses -- PBJC Glades, PBJC North, PBJC South and PBJC Central -- may compete in such events as a two-mile run, table tennis, one-on-one basketball, tennis, racquetball, and co-ed volleyball.

The athletic events will be followed by an awards banquet in the PBJC Cafeteria at noon or thereabouts (depending on when the athletic events are over).

A suggestion from PBJC South at one of the informal four-campus monthly meetings, set the wheels in motion for what it is hoped will become an annual event.

NORTH NEWS

Faculty co-sponsor of Phi Theta Kappa, Mary Jane Still, just returned from a national convention in Washington, D. C., with eight students. Dan Hendrix attended with nine students from the Central campus. Besides having a wonderful time, Ms. Still managed to come in second in a 2-mile jogging event which took place at the Ellipse, next to the White House. There were six categories: male and female students, alumni, and sponsors. Only first-place winners received trophies.

It was a cold, drizzly, very windy day, but a helicopter landed at the White House, the President climbed aboard, and the helicopter departed, while the joggers stood and watched. Jerry Self and Barrett Pederson were the only students from the North Campus, and Ms. Still the only non-student competing. Barbara Pederson and Don Brackney from the main campus competed. The winners set a grueling pace.

After bragging about coming in second in the 2-mile event, Mary Jane smiled and admitted that she had very little competition. "Only two entered, and the one who beat me was a pro. I didn't really have a chance, being out of condition. But because of the weather, I had hopes of bringing back the trophy with no competition! I'm determined to win next year!"

SOCIAL SCIENCE COLLOQUIUM

A special Social Science Colloquium, with an address by distinguished political scientist J. Frederic Blitstein, Ph. D., will be presented Friday, April 18 at 11 A.M. in the PBJC Auditorium.

Dr. Blitstein's subject will be: Israel: America's Hope in the Middle East. The Colloquium will be open to the public with no charge for admission.

Future plans include a program on the Middle East under the auspices of a responsible Arab delegation from the United Nations.

Holocaust, Attendance Policy Top Agenda

April Trustees Meeting Scheduled Wednesday

Committee reports will occupy the early attention of the Palm Beach Junior College Trustees at the April meeting, Wednesday, April 16, 7:30 P.M. in the Foodservice Center.

The Administrative Affairs Committee will report its findings on the College becoming the repository for video tape records from local victims of the Holocaust.

The Attendance Policy Review Committee, established after hearings showed student dislike of new, stricter attendance regulations, will report to the Trustees.

Unusual personnel items will include a recommendation for the vacant position of Vice President of Student Affairs, and a move up for Dr. Ottis Smith from Dean of Instruction and Student Personnel, PBJC North, to Provost, PBJC North.

The Trustees will be asked to consider a request from the Northern Palm Beach County Chamber of Commerce for one acre of land on the North Campus for a headquarters building.

The Board will be asked to select an architectural firm for millage projects, some of which will require architectural services.

The Board was to hold a workshop meeting Friday for the purpose of self-evaluation. Dr. Philip Lichtblau, Board Chairman, called the workshop meeting as a companion move to the Self-Study now going on college-wide.

OUR OWN BABY BOOM

Susan and Rich Yinger--he's on the Social Science Department faculty at PBJC Central--had a 7 pound 11 ounce baby daughter with "lots of hair," named Sarah Virginia Yinger, April 8th at 6:07 P.M. at Bethesda Memorial Hospital. The parents said the LaMaze Method of Prepared Childbirth was a "fantastic experience." Rich has trimmed his beard three inches, so it won't get in his way when he wants a close look at his new daughter.

Fashion Day

A cordial invitation to attend Fashion Day in the Clothing Lab (Room SC-22) from 1-3:30 P.M., Thursday, April 17, has been extended by Mavilene Prentice and Celeste Beck.

There will be an informal display of original garments made by PBJC students in the fashion design program at the College, and there will be continuous demonstrations of quilting, trapunto, and shell hem, as well as other couturier touches.

MILLAGE PROJECT COMMITTEE

Response to Dr. Tate's announcement last week of the formation of the College-Wide Millage Project Committee has been excellent, and most of the categories are filled with one notable exception: There have been no applications from PBJC North, PBJC South or PBJC Glades.

Members from campuses other than PBJC Central can be reimbursed for their travel to come in to committee meetings. You must act quickly if you want to serve in this important work. Call Dr. Tate's Office--8026--before noon Wednesday, April 16, to be considered for this important committee.

No Easy Solution

The quick solution for advanced funding we thought we had found a couple of weeks ago turns out to be definitely not quick, and possibly no a solution. As you may recall, the College had hoped to obtain advanced funding in order to be able to build the Glades Auditorium, assure being able to build the first phase of the North Campus, and get started immediately on millage projects.

Unfortunately, money for advanced funding from the state is derived from the sale of bonds, and the bond market has been almost impossible recently. In short, even if we overcame some other difficulties that have surfaced about our proposals and became the top state priority, the funds are not going to be there, right now--which is when we need them.

Whether this kind of advance funding can provide a solution to these financial problems remains a question. It goes almost without saying that other solutions are being sought.

Trustees Complete Lengthy Agenda

Palm Beach Junior College trustees raised fees $1 per credit hour, continued the attendance policy without change, appointed a Vice President of Student Affairs, and promoted Dr. Ottis Smith to Provost at a busy board meeting Wednesday evening.

The fee change, to $16 per credit hour for in state students and $32 per credit hour for out of state students will bring fees at the college to the maximum allowed by state law. It will be effective in the Fall Term.

Our New VP:

Dr. Melvin Haynes

Dr. Melvin Haynes, Jr., 40, a black educator who is returning to his native state, will become the third Vice President of Student Affairs in the history of Palm Beach Junior College.

Dr. Haynes, currently Director of the Counseling and Self-Development Center and Assistant Professor of Counselor Education at South Carolina State College, will join the PBJC administrative team July 1.

His appointment came at the April 16 meeting of the PBJC Board of Trustees.

Dr. Haynes, a native of Fruitland Park, Florida, received his early education in Lake County and his Bachelor of Science Degree from Florida A & M.

He will take the position vacated by the death of Dr. W. Ervin Rouson. The title was created during the long career of Paul Glynn, who moved from Dean of Student Personnel to Vice President of Student Affairs.

Robert Moss, Dean of Student Activities, has served as acting vice president during a search for a replacement for Dr. Rouson.

At PBJC, Dr. Haynes will be in charge of

Dr. Eissey said student leaders have been consulted and recognize that the increase is necessary.

The attendance policy, opposed by students last fall, has been investigated by a committee headed by Bob Moss.

Bob reported that a survey of students showed they wanted more class cuts, but the same students also believed that if they did cut class their grades would suffer. He said the committee vote to continue the present policy was unanimous, and pointed out that Polly Young, last year's Student Government Association president, who led the opposition to the new policy last fall, was a member of the committee.

The new Vice President of Student Affairs will be Dr. Melvin Haynes, Jr.

Dr. Eissey said Dr. Smith's promotion to Provost was in recognition of his good work as Dean of Instruction and Student Personnel at PBJC North. Dr. Smith's duties as the administrative head of PBJC North will continue.

After hearing a report from its Administrative Affairs Committee, the board voted to accept videotape records of interviews with Holocaust victims as archives at the college.

A joint committee from the college and the Holocaust Committee chaired by Wiley Douglass,

Director, Library Learning Resources Center, will set up a procedure for viewing the records.

The trustees turned down a request from the Northern Palm Beach County Chapter of Commerce for land at the North Campus for Chamber headquarters. Fear of setting a precedent, some doubt as to the educational purpose, and therefore, some doubt as to the legality of the land donation was expressed by board members.

An offer from the First American Bank to handle all junior college demand deposit accounts in return for certain advantages to the college will be considered at the next board meeting, along with proposals from other banks, now being solicited by the Purchasing Department.

After discussing his desire to have architect selection opened to a wider range of architects, trustee Willard Findling moved to accept the administration's recommendation of Peacock and Lewis as first choice for millage projects needing architectural services.

Dr. Eissey reported that State Department officials seem sure funding for the North Campus will be available in a few weeks, and that changes in final plans suggested by the State Department appear to be minor.

Preparations for going to bid are continuing, and may be ready prior to the next board meeting, he said.

Vice Chairman George Michael presided at the April meeting in the absence of Chairman Philip Lichtblau.

counseling, admission and registration, and the entire range of student activities, including athletics.

Dr. Haynes left Florida for work on advanced degrees at the University of Georgia, where he received his Master's Degree, 1968, Specialist in Education, 1970, and Doctor of Education, 1973.

During his years at the University, Dr. Haynes served as a Junior High School Guidance Counselor and Director of Guidance at Clarke Junior High School, Athens. He also was employed as Evaluator/Recruiter, Assistant and Associate Director of the Southeastern Teacher Corps for the University. He has served as Human Relations and Personal Growth Educator to a number of agencies in Georgia and South Carolina, and has been in his current position since 1973.

Dr. Haynes has just completed a year as president of the South Carolina Personnel and Guidance Association, is a member of a large number of educational organizations, has performed significant community service, and has a number of publications, most in the field of counseling.

An athletic 6' 1-½" and 195 pounds, Dr. Haynes is married to the former Yvonne Young and has four children.

Dr. Haynes says he is pleased to be returning to such a beautiful part of his native state, and is challenged by the position at PBJC. "Developing student services for a diverse, non-resident, short-term, part-time student population like that at most community colleges presents a tremendous challenge," Dr. Haynes said.

OUR WOMEN'S TENNIS PACERS ARE STATE CHAMPS

The Palm Beach Junior College Women's Tennis Team, coached by Julio Rive', brought back the state tennis championship last Saturday from the tournament held at Hillsborough Community College, Tampa.

PBJC garnered 29 points to win; Broward Central came in second with 16; and Indian River Community College was fourth with 15.

Christie Turdo, Lake Worth, won the Number 2 singles from Ellen Driebergen of Indian River Community College, 7-6, 5-0 and 6-3.

Kim Tasker, Barbados, won the number 3 singles from Carla Ambrico with a 6-3, 6-2 victory and fourth-seeded Beau Wigley, Belle Glade, beat No. 1 seeded and defending state champion, Paula Castoro, in the No. 4 slot, 6-1, 6-3.

Debbie Locke, from London, England, the No. 5 player on the PBJC team, was unseeded in the tournament, and beat No. 1 seed, Peggy Ward, of Broward Center, 7-5, 3-6, 7-5.

The team's Number 1 doubles team of Alexi Beggs and Turdo won over Yvette Denbienan and Driebergen 6-0, 6-2.

Tasker and Wigley, who were seeded first in the No. 2 doubles position, beat Laura Power and Donna Solkowski 6-1, 6-1.

Locke and Gabriella Irazabal lost to Ward and Jean Ford of Broward Central in the No. 3 doubles.

Coach Rive' had said earlier in the season that "this year's team is possibly the best we've ever had."

The PBJC Women's Tennis Pacers will compete in the national tournament at Midland, Texas May 12-15.

MEN'S TENNIS TEAM SECOND IN DIVISION IV

The Palm Beach Junior College Men's Tennis Team, coached by PBJC's athletic director, Tom Mullins, placed second (16 points) in the Division IV Tournament, which they hosted April 11-12.

Miami Dade New World Center was first with 23 points, and Miami Dade South placed third with 9 points.

The PBJC team which had a 12-2 conference record (18-5 overall) for the season, will go to the Florida State Tournament, to be held at Brevard Community College, Cocoa Beach, May 1-3.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

A discussion of affirmative action goals and techniques at Palm Beach Junior College will be held Saturday, April 26, at 10 A.M. in the Student Activity Center according to Dr. Eissey.

In attendance will be representatives of the Black Citizens Coalition of Palm Beach County and of the college's own Citizens Advisory Committee for Minority Affairs.

Dr. Eissey said the meeting was called at his request to seek the best advice he can obtain from the community to increase the effectiveness of the college affirmative action goals.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 36 April 28, 1980

$200,000 From The County

Glades Auditorium Is Assured

PBJC Glades and the Glades community are going to get that much needed auditorium after all. All the details of exactly how the funding will work out are not yet quite in place, but the auditorium is now assured of adequate funding, and the contract for construction has been awarded to Lutz Construction, Inc., Belle Glade.

The key moment came on Tuesday, when Dr. Eissey appeared before the county commission, and the commissioners came through with an additional $200,000 to help fund the auditorium. Commissioner Bill Bailey from the Glades, suggested that $100,000 could be transferred from another account, and the commission also agreed to dip into a contingency account for another $100,000.

This leaves an additional $32,000 of local money needed to satisfy all requirements for local matching funds on the project, and it is hoped that the City of Belle Glade will donate those funds in a meeting at Belle Glade tonight. Dr. Eissey told the Miami Herald that, if necessary, the last $32,000 needed would be raised "on the street corners, if we have to."

Having seen Dr. Eissey in action in pursuit of our millage money, all of us at the college know that that was no idle threat. However, as this is written, it does not appear that it will be necessary.

The problem with the Glades auditorium funding surfaced at the board meeting in March when Lutz bid, lowest of five received, came in at $1,595,959. That was $700,000 more than the original budget, and $500,000 more than an augmented budget.

Prospects for bridging that large a gap in time to take advantage of that particular bid appeared bleak on the night of the March board meeting. A few days later, however, it appeared that Dr. Eissey had found a solution in advance funding from the state, but that proved to be impossible at this time because

College-Wide Meeting

Things happen so fast at Palm Beach Junior College these days that it is almost mandatory that we get together for an update from Dr. Eissey. This is the primary purpose for bringing all college personnel together Friday, May 2, 1:30 P.M., in the college auditorium.

This is a chance to hear, directly from the President, such items as--where we are, right now, with plans for using millage funds, a new, five-year plan for the college, a proposed new Institute of Government, Global Education--and lots more.

It is also a chance to hear the farewell performance of the Earth Tremors, (Dr. Miles is retiring), and the very first item on the agenda will be an appearance by our Pacesetters. If Dr. Graham is here, he will report on progress of the self study.

Even if you work on another shift, you are invited to attend. See you there.

Tallahassee Trip

As this is written, Dr. Eissey and two of our trustees, Mrs. Homer Hand and Willard Findling, are in Tallahassee Thursday and Friday for a purpose important to all of us--working with the legislature to obtain more adequate funding for community colleges.

Dr. Eissey will also be attending sessions of the President's Council, but of conditions in the bond market.

Last week, however, with the aid of the county commission and Dr. Eissey's unique efforts, (duly recorded in a Miami Herald article of April 23 you will want to read), it appears that everything is back on track. The Glades will get its auditorium after all.

the council meetings this month are primarily concerned with legislative matters. Whatever the outcome of our request for supplemental appropriations from the legislature, it is good to know that our President and trustees are on the battle line.

Commissioner Turlington's Annual Report

(The following digest was carried in the Crier, Gulf Coast Community College's Monday Report. ... Ed.)

Commissioner Ralph D. Turlington's annual report on the status of public education in Florida shows that community colleges are educating 42 per cent of the state's adult population on barely more than seven per cent of the total educational budget. But our apple may shine more brightly in the future.

Published last month, the legislatively-mandated report peers into the uncertain economic future of the emerging decade to predict that declining enrollments at the K-12 level will cause reapportionment of educational funds in favor of universities and, particularly, community colleges.

"Expenditures for community colleges and universities are expected to grow by 109.1% and 107.1%, respectively (between 1979 and 1989). Expenditures for K-12 are projected to increase only 86.2% over the same period," the report states. Expenditures for education are anticipated to increase by 92.2% with 60% to be derived from state sources. However, this increase makes no allowance for any increases in educational services.

Using data gathered during the 1978-79 academic year, the report reveals that approximately 1,721,000 Floridians over the age of 18 were enrolled in post-secondary education programs. Adult high and vocational schools claimed 43 per cent of this population as compared to 42 percent for community colleges and 15 percent for universities. Florida ranks 47th among all states in terms of per capita support for higher education and 41st in support of all sectors of public education--this while ranking 28th in terms of per capita income.

Roughly equal distribution was found to exist between the four major objectives of post-secondary education students: 27 percent were seeking associate in arts degrees or higher, 25 percent were enrolled in vocational programs (including A.S. degree and certificate offerings), 23 percent were in adult education, and 25 percent were engaged in continuing education programs.

Of the 12,788 vocational students at community colleges (15 per cent of the total), eight percent were enrolled in a degree curriculum, seven percent in a certificate program. Of those who completed vocational training in 1977-78, 39 percent were employed in the field for which they had trained, 17 percent in a different field, 39 percent had decided to continue their training or were for some other reason unavailable for employment, and 5 percent were unemployed.

Last year proved to be a record-breaker in the awarding of 25,556 associate's degrees--an increase of 3.25 percent over 1977-78 and better than the 25,529 degrees granted in 1975. Bachelor's degrees dropped in number to 20,219--2.5 percent below the record number recorded in 1977-78. Master's degrees also dropped from a record of 6,101 in 1975-76 to 5,310. But doctorates rose slightly above the 1,439 awarded in 1974-75 to 1,464.

Commissioner Turlington concludes his report by advocating funding of children and youth programs at no less than present levels (using constant dollars) cooperation between state and local agencies in the offering of life-long educational options for adults, continuing emphasis on the full range of educational services from basic skills to professional training and the development of leisure skills, and ultimately, the full use by educators of technologically-advanced teaching aids.

Ralph Renick

Our Commencement Speaker

Ralph A. Renick of WTVJ-Channel 4, Miami, will be the Palm Beach Junior College Commencement speaker May 6 at 8 P.M. at the West Palm Beach Auditorium.

Renick is vice president in charge of WOMETCO Television News Operations, WOMETCO Enterprises, Inc. and News Director, WTVJ/Miami.

Renick's 6 P.M. weekday news program--The Ralph Renick Report--is the nation's longest continuous running news report. Since the program went on the air in 1950, it has been the highest rated local news program in the Miami market, according to the American Research Bureau and Nielson Station Index surveys, averaging an audience of 400,000 people each weekday.

In addition, the program also has the largest share of audience of any local newscast in the nation's top twenty markets.

Renick has earned a national reputation as a distinguished television newsman, which led to his being named in May 1973 as one of 15 members of the National News Council, a group established to promote accurate and fair reporting, and to protect the press against government or private infringements of its freedom.

When WTVJ had its start in 1949 as Florida's first television station, Renick had just graduated from the University of Miami, where he received the first national H. V. Kaltenborn Research Fellowship for 1949-50.

A year after joining WTVJ, Renick was named as the station's first news director.

A continuing progression of promotions within WOMETCO Enterprises culminated in his appointment to his present position in 1976.

$10,000 For Scholarships

The president and the first vice president of the Doctor's Hospital Auxiliary, Inc. presented Palm Beach Junior College a $10,000 check to be used for PBJC students in the Nursing and Allied Health fields last week.

Mrs. Carolyn Coffman, president and Mrs. Ruby S. Bogardus, past president and now a first vice president and chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the Auxiliary, made the presentation. Dr. Eissey, Hamid Faquir, and Betty Morgan were present to receive this sizeable donation.

The two Auxiliary officers said the money was raised by their 150 members in the hospital gift shop, a golf tournament, a boutique, a dinner dance and from donations to the organization.

"Last year, we gave $6,000 to PBJC," Mrs. Bogardus said.

"Since 1974, the Auxiliary has awarded 80 scholarships in the amount of approximately $60,000," Mrs. Coffman added.

In addition, the members of the Auxiliary are helping other students in pre-med, medical, and nursing programs at seven other educational institutions in Florida, making their contributions approximately $15,000 altogether for this year.

On behalf of the college, Dr. Eissey presented Mrs. Coffman and Mrs. Bogardus a bronze plaque for the Doctor's Hospital Auxiliary, which reads: "With appreciation for your continuing contribution to Palm Beach Junior College."

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

VOLUME II, Number 37 May 5, 1980

Contract Signed for Glades Auditorium

A contract for construction of the Palm Beach Junior College Glades Auditorium, the first building ever to be built by PBJC with joint community and college financing, has been signed by Wallace Lutz of Lutz Construction Company, Belle Glade.

CONTRACT SIGNED, Wallace Lutz signs contract while Dr. Eissey awaits his turn.

The signing took place in the office of Dr. Edward M. Eissey, PBJC President, Thursday evening.

The amount of the contract was $1,595,959. Time for completion has been set at 485 days.

A groundbreaking ceremony for the new building has been set for Saturday, May 10, at 10 A.M. on the site. Actual construction, in the form of preliminary site work, will begin the following week.

Dr. Eissey said that members of the state legislature, the county commission and the Belle Glade city commission, the three groups primarily responsible for funding the project have expressed an interest in being on hand for the ground breaking.

"In addition, we expect a number of prominent citizens in the Glades area to be present." Dr. Eissey said. "This is truly a joint effort of the college and the community.

The project was originally funded for only $900,000 with $300,000 from the community, double matched by the state.

But on March 19, when bids were presented to the board of trustees, the Lutz bid was low but almost $700,000 above the original funding, which had already been stretched, but only to about $1.1 million.

After some efforts at advanced funding were not successful, Dr. Eissey made last-minute appeals to the county commission and the Belle Glade city commission, and both were successful.

The county added $200,000 and the city $32,000 to bring local contributions to a total of $532,000. State contributions of about $1.1 million will make the building possible.

"This is a happy occasion for the college and the Glades community," Dr. Eissey said at the contract signing.

"Interest in this building is unusually high in our area," said Lutz. "I'm happy we can be a part of this joint venture."

The commencement, 45th in our history, will follow the traditional pattern, with an academic procession, music by the choir, introduction of trustees, the speaker, presentation of scholarships, and awarding of diplomas.

The college community orchestra will play this year, rather than the band.

As this is written, there appear to be about 561 graduates of the Winter Term, second to 1978's 582, for a total of 1,121 graduates this year, higher than 1978's 1,091.

It is notable that graduation statistics have remained almost constant in recent years, another reminder that our growth factors are in Continuing Education areas, and in students who come to the college for some specific course, or series of courses, many in occupational areas.

CLARIFICATION

A United Faculty newsletter of May 1 lists the promotion of Dr. Ottis Smith, the impending change of Noel Smith to classroom teacher and the selection (not yet confirmed) of a teacher to become the new department chairman, along with the appointment of a new Vice President of Student Affairs. In the listing the newsletter notes the first two changes were not advertised while the filling of a vacant position was advertised.

It is difficult to understand why this routine procedure, one we have followed for some time, should be emphasized. It should be quite clear that no position was being filled in the first two instances, and one was being filled in the third. It would have been a ridiculous waste of time, money and effort to advertise a non-existent vacancy at PBJC North, interview 30 or 40 people at great expense, and turn them all down -- not even giving them a chance to become Dean of Instruction and Student Personnel, since that position -- indeed, no position, was actually open.

In the critical point that no vacancy existed, the second instance is like the first. When a vacancy exists and/or a new person will be employed, we will advertise it. We do not advertise when we only transfer or reclassify current personnel.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

Dr. Eissey and other college administrators and staff met Saturday, April 29, with a number of leaders from the black community to review PBJC's current situation in regard to affirmative action and to plan for more effective action in the future.

Hamid Faquir reviewed financial aid in various categories. Overall, he said, $278,000, or 24 percent of the $1,158,000 in student aid is going to blacks, who are 7 1/1 percent of the student body.

Joe Schneider noted that PBJC does not have a high turnover, but said there were vacancies for part-time teachers in every department. Dr. Eissey asked for help in

A Report From FACC

Inflation and Salaries

(This article is reprinted from the Legislative Hotline received by FACC members. It should be of interest to all employees.)

INFLATION AND SALARIES: During the decade of the 1970s all Florida public agencies were under financial pressure, however, community colleges did not fare well as the other sectors in education. During the last session the Legislature funds were authorized from Capital Outlay for repair and replacement of equipment and books for universities, but similar funds were vetoed for community colleges. Funds for centers of excellence and quality improvement were provided for universities, but comparable programs for community colleges were not approved. Furthermore, during the biennium budget planning there were high hopes that the voluntary wage and price guidelines would be successful and inflation would be under control. Based on this optimism, a 5.5% increase in funds was provided for the community colleges for 1980-81.

As with other sectors of education, community colleges face very serious problems in dealing with the current level of inflation. Funding for community colleges has eroded more rapidly than for other sectors of education while other factors have made the educational task more difficult. These community colleges are in the poorest position to cope with the current inflationary situation.

In April 1979, the Division of Community Colleges' position paper pointed to the plight of the Community Colleges by reporting that in 1977-78 the colleges spent $6,500,000 more than they received by drawing on available fund balances. The cost inflation for non-salary items was more than twice the amount provided in the budget calculation.

The colleges are now about to face the full impact of the inflationary increase. In the normal purchasing cycle, fixed price contracts for an entire year are awarded in the previous April to June period. Last year at this time, with optimism for success of the wage price guidelines, vendors bid with an anticipation of 7% increase in prices. This year, the new prices will reflect not only the differences of about 7% between anticipated and actual inflation but will also anticipate an additional increase of 13% to 15%. On this type of contract the year-to-year increase would be in excess of 20%.

As the Legislature reviews the salary needs of government employees, funds must be provided to permit equal treatment for community college employees. The 5.5% previously recommended increase must be raised.

It is sad to note that during this period of double digit inflation the government employees are bearing the blunt of inflation. The community colleges are experiencing severe turnover problems in those areas where they compete with private enterprises. To fund community colleges below the funding rate of other state employees and universities would be damaging to employee morale.

PROPOSAL: FACC urges the Governor, the Commissioner of Education, and members of the State Legislature to seriously evaluate the existing situation and to provide the additional funds for salaries and inflation. The minimum should be an additional appropriation of $10,137,501 as recommended by the State Community College Coordinating Board.

recruiting both black personnel and black students.

Among other topics discussed were the following:

1. Career days for junior high school students and up. At present career day is mostly for seniors, but Dr. Graham disclosed plans for an industry fair that would involve high school and possibly junior high school students.
2. Advertising. Suggestions were made for utilizing a radio station and newspapers which have a black audience.
3. Registration in high school. Dr. Eissey explained current practices and future plans.
4. Community Speakers Bureau. It would be wise to recruit individuals who are recognized leaders in the black community for such a bureau.
5. Slide presentation. Dr. Eissey said a five-minute slide presentation, developed with the help of the college advisory committee for minority affairs would be helpful for speakers.
6. Tours of the campus. Dr. Graham said black groups could arrange for a tour of the campus.
7. AA and AS Degrees. Dr. Gerald Burke said that years ago blacks couldn't get jobs with an AA degree, but with the current economic conditions they might be better off getting their first two years of a bachelor's degree at PBJC. Dr. Ottis Smith said blacks with an AS Degree can obtain jobs in the local area.
8. Flyers and Brochures. There was agreement on the need to develop flyers and brochures aimed at the black student, but that distribution should be controlled, taking place only when a favorable situation had been developed.

Dr. Eissey said the outcome of the meeting was positive, and he felt those attending understood the importance of help from the black community if the college is to reach its affirmative action goals.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 38 May 12, 1980

Millage Project Committee Appointed

The College-Wide Millage Project Committee has been appointed by Dr. Eissey, and has already had one meeting. Dr. Tony Tate, Chairman, says he is pleased with the quality and knowledge of those who volunteered to serve, and the fact that there is representation from many different parts of the college community.

Salle Thornton will represent career employees on the committee, Bill Graham and Bob Book are faculty members, Mrs. Homer Hand will represent both the Glades and the trustees, Jim Tanner -- PBJC South, Ottis Smith -- PBJC North, and Betty Woolfe will represent the professional staff.

A key member of the committee will be Claude Edwards, Director of the Physical Plant.

Ex-officio members of the committee will be Dick Jones, Don Whitmer, Joe Macy and Dr. Paul Dasher.

At the first meeting, Dr. Tate reminded the committee of its basic function -- to review requests, discuss priorities, gather information, and make recommendations for the expenditure of the millage funds. He said the committee could become an important channel of communication for the entire college community.

Some of the most urgent projects were discussed briefly -- roofing, auditorium renovation, chemistry labs, dental labs, and handicapped needs.

Dr. Tate distributed booklets containing requests from each department, and committee members were given two weeks to study the requests before the second meeting.

It was decided that a numbering system will be set up to keep track of each project, and that a budget will be established for each project.

Dr. Tate reported that negotiations are proceeding with an overall architect, and a recommendation will be made at the next meeting of the trustees.

Forty-Fifth Annual Commencement Exercises

The curious blend of formality and informality which has become traditional at PBJC Commencement was continued May 6th in our 45th annual exercises -- and everything went off smoothly, with no visible problems.

The beginning of the program, with the robed, academic processional and the PBJC Community Orchestra playing, the selections by the Concert Choir, introductions of guests, and the commencement speaker are all as formal as the setting in the cavernous municipal auditorium will permit.

But once graduates begin going across stage, as they did with presentation of scholarship awards, and then with the presentation of individual diplomas, the program becomes a field day for individual photographers, and a time for friends and relatives in the audience to express their feelings.

The speaker, Ralph Renick, Channel IV, Vice President of Wometco Enterprises and the anchor man of the longest continuous running news broadcast in the nation defended higher education against the criticism that its value has diminished since the economic advantage it gives an individual student has narrowed.

He said the increased ability to reason, to experience, to know about what goes on in the world and to be a part of it, and to know how to acquire information are reason enough for higher education without any recourse to economic arguments.

President's Scholars

A major new scholarship program will have a formal beginning Tuesday, May 20, 7:15 P.M. in the college auditorium, with the first ever President's Scholar Awards Ceremony.

The auditorium will be nearly filled with President's Scholars and their families, since 93 students and 264 family members have accepted invitations to the affair. A reception will follow in the Student Activity Center.

The new program, approved last November by college trustees, awards good scholarship at high school with an opportunity to attend PBJC on a scholarship which supplies matriculation fees.

If a student continues his good work, maintaining a 3.0 or better grade at PBJC, he or she will be granted a second year of eligibility until a maximum of 70 credit hours is reached.

The maximum scholarship would be valued at $1,120, but graduation with 62 hours would mean that most scholarships would be worth approximately $500 per year or $1,000 if renewed for a second year.

Although all will not be present for the ceremony, 160 scholars out of an eligible list of 435 in 23 public and private high schools in the county have indicated acceptance of the offer extended by Dr. Eissey.

The scholars are in the upper 10 percent of their high school graduating class, with at least a 3.0 average, and have been selected by their high school principal for the honor.

The ceremony will include a welcome from George Michael, vice chairman of the Palm Beac Junior College board of trustees, and from Dr. James P. Hall, Deputy Superintendent of Palm Beach County Schools.

The awards will be made by Dr. Eissey. "The President's Scholars program is one way Palm Beach Junior College will endeavor to maintain the high standards of academic excellence which have characterized this institution in the past," Dr. Eissey says.

"As a community college, it is imperative that we actively seek out our native sons and daughters who would be honored and appreciated in other countries and other states, and give them that same recognition here at home."

The next meeting of the committee has been set for May 21 at 2 P.M. in Conference B.

Most of the 525 graduates of the Winter Term were present for the occasion, and a sprinkling from other terms.

Totals this year were 169 in Spring Term, 1979, 130 in the Summer Term, 1979, and 261 in the Fall Term, 1979, making a grand total of 1,085 for the year.

The numbers are extremely close to those of the past two or three years, emphasizing once again that the growth factors at PBJC (as in most community colleges where growth is still going on), are in non-degree students of many different types.

PBJC Glades May Have A State Poet

Dr. Barry Russal, English instructor at PBJC Glades, has been nominated for consideration for the state poet laureate.

Dr. Russal has received a certificate that indicated he is eligible for this special award by the Secretary of State, George Firestone.

A panel of poets from outside the state are going through the 400 nominees and samples of their work, and Governor Bob Graham will announce the final decision.

Dr. Russal plans to organize a writer's club in the Glades area. He says he will not discriminate against writers who do not live there.

Dr. Russal has lived in Florida for two years and has been an instructor at PBJC Glades since August of last year. He and his lovely wife, Phyllis, reside in Loxahatchee and have recently been blessed with a baby girl. Abbi Rebecca was born on March 29th, weighing 7 pounds, 10 ounces.

Dr. Russal said it is hard to categorize his own poetry because he will write about anything that makes an impact on himself.

PBJC Graduating Sophomore Scholarships

Winners of approximately $35,000 in graduating sophomore scholarships were recognized during the commencement ceremonies Tuesday.

Gilda M. Getz won both the Student Scholar Award for $150 and the Halsey and Griffith Scholarship for $1,200.

The Student Scholar Award, from an anonymous donor, goes to the graduate completing the college program within the normal two year period, with the highest grade point average (Gilda's average for 67 credit hours was 3.95).

The Calvin W. Campbell Memorial Scholarship, for $1,000, renewable for the senior year, went to Karl A. Spisak.

Winner of the Lois Coates Scholarship of Doctor's Hospital Auxiliary for $1,000, renewable for the senior year, was Dennis E. Davis, Jr.

Steven A. Solieri was presented the H. Loy Anderson, Sr. Memorial Scholarship of Florida Atlantic University for $2,000.

The four FAU Phi Theta Kappa (the national honorary fraternity) scholarships of $1550 each were presented to Penny Lee Lindberg, Janell E. Lake, Diane E. Marmol, and James R. Walker.

Antonia Marinaccio received the $1,000 University of South Florida Community College Scholarship. The Florida State University Marshall Hamilton Presidential Scholarship for $1,200 went to Stephanie Renee Scambler. The Palm Beach Junior College Scholarship Foundation Awards were presented to Stacy Sacco, who received the Dr. V. D. Stone Scholarship for $1,000; Cheryl Grumbach, the Dean Paul J. Glynn Scholarship for $1,000; Pamela Larson, a $750 Foundation Award; and Evelyn Walker, a $750 Foundation Award.

Twenty-one additional scholarships ranging from $100 to $500 were awarded. Six scholarships, totaling $3,250, will be awarded at a later date.

President's Coffee

Following a custom he originated last year, Dr. Eissey honored this year's PBJC graduates at a coffee hour last Monday morning.

Sprinkled into the gathering of mostly young people, 18 years old to mid-twenties, were some graduates more advanced in age.

One was Milton Bernstein, 69, who hopes to continue college at Florida Atlantic University.

Another was Freda Boylboll, 58, the oldest graduate in the nursing department this year. Mrs. Boylboll, three times a grandmother, has actually been a nurse for 42 years but has never been able to write an RN after her name.

Now she is well on her way to achieving that distinction.

Two of the mid-twenties crowd were sticking close together -- Charles and Carolyn Ludwig, husband and wife for the last two years, who will be graduating together.

Charles is an electronics major whose college work is partly responsible, he believes, for promotions at Pratt & Whitney. "The company is definitely interested in helping you in college," he says, "and will reimburse up to 75 percent of your tuition costs."

Carolyn is a Music major in voice and piano. The couple plan a combination vacation and graduation celebration.

Even younger were twin students, Jeff and Jon Iorino, identical, 19-year-old twins, with Jeff the elder by eight minutes.

The brothers finished Forest Hill High School in three years, and continued their excellent academic work at PBJC. Now, however, they part company, with Jeff heading for the University of Florida and a career in Electrical Engineering, and John staying here for Marine Biology at FAU

Dr. Eissey introduced two college trustees who were in attendance, Mrs. Homer Hand and Willard Findling.

A large number of college administrators and faculty were present to greet the graduates.

Write Now - - Right Now!!

Letters To Your Legislators

The last few days of the Florida legislative session are here, and committees are working frantically to get recommendations in shape for the floor battles to come on appropriations -- everything else has been preliminaries, this is the main bout. It would be heartening to be able to report that we are doing well, but that is not the case. Unless something happens to make things more equitable for community college funding, we are once more the only segment of education in Florida being left out in the cold.

If you want to have a personal impact -- and you can have -- you should write your own letter, in your own way, to our legislators -- asking them to provide for us at least the same treatment they give other state employees and other education employees in providing funds for salary increases.

If you want to mention the figure of $10,137,501 in supplemental appropriations requested by the President's Council and FACC, that is fine -- but you don't have to know the details.

Jessie McKenna, clerk-typist at Law Enforcement, has been asking other people to join her in letter writing.

"The millage was for the college - - this is for me!"

"I worked for the millage and I enjoyed it. I was working for the college, then, but I'm doing this for me! Jessie says.

"The way to go about getting money for salaries is to show the legislators that we need raises as much as anyone else. It might not do any good, but, the way I look at it, you have to try."

Here are some names and addresses.

10 Acres Now
43 In Reserve

Last Thursday, too late for last week's Monday Report, Dr. Eissey appeared before a committee of the Board of Regents in behalf of the joint PBJC-FAU request for land at FAU for our South Campus.

All went well at the committee meeting. The regents explored the possibility of leasing land rather than deeding it, but Dr. Eissey explained that we can build only on land we own.

The next day, Friday, May 9, the entire board voted to deed PBJC 10 acres at FAU for the first PBJC South buildings, and to hold 43 more acres north of that plot and contiguous with it for future expansion.

The deed for the ten acres contains a reverter clause, specifying that the land will revert to FAU if we have not put it into use for educational purposes within 10 years.

"We will be in operation long before that time," Dr. Eissey says. "We have a private donor who has indicated an interest in helping us with our first buildings at Boca Raton. We are definitely on the lookout for other private money to help us in the development of PBJC South." Additional expansion of buildings at all centers beyond the point already funded will depend greatly on private donations and on more complete utilization of existing facilities.

Another National Winner??

As this goes to press, the PBJC Women's Tennis Team is clinched in a tie for first place with the Tyler, Texas team in the National Tournament in Midland, Texas, and is favored to win it all.

We have two possible winners on Friday and winning either will give us a new national champion.

Tyler has one more possible winner, and must win in order to tie us if we lose both matches. What a great year for Julio Rive' and his players!

PBJC South Awards

The Student Advisory Board of PBJC South held its fifth annual Awards Banquet Tuesday evening at the New England Oyster House in Boca Raton, according to Jim Tanner. Bob Moss, acting Vice President of Student Affairs, was the speaker.

Twelve students received $100 awards for scholarships. Academic Recognition Certificates were presented to four students. Other trophies and awards, including two dictionaries from the Henderson School Library, were presented.

Address letters The Honorable. Phil Lewis may be reached by mail at the Florida Senate, The Capitol, Tallahassee, Florida 32304.

As a sample of how things are going, the Staff Report to the Senate Appropriations Committee recommended only 6.2 percent more in funding while blithely also recommending 8.819 percent for salaries, 9.09 percent for current expenses and 15.3 percent for utilities. They don't explain how you can pay those higher percentages when you only take in the lower one.

Although we deserve it, because we have been discriminated against in the past, we are not asking for preferential treatment. We just want to be treated like everyone else. So get out your own paper and your own stamps and let your voice be heard where it can do some good. Next week will be too late. ... Jonathan Koontz

House of Blue Leaves

The Palm Beach Junior College Players spring production -- The House of Blue Leaves -- hailed by New York Drama Critics as the Best American Play of the 1970-71 season will be presented two weekends starting May 30, according to Frank Leahy, faculty director.

The dates are May 30, 31 and June 1, and June 6, 7 at 8:14 P.M. and a matinee Sunday, June 8, at 2:30 P.M. The Box Office opens today and will be open from 9 A.M. to 3 P.M.

The New Yorker had this to say about the prize-winning play: "If ever there was a born playwright and satirist, it is John Guare, as he again proves in this play."

A GREAT DAY FOR THE GLADES. Saturday, May 10, at 10 A.M., a ground-breaking ceremony for the new Glades Auditorium was enjoyed by a large turnout, including almost all staff members at PBJC Glades, county commissioners, mayors of Glades towns and other dignitaries. Shown above are Dr. Philip Lichtblau, trustees chairman, Willard Findling and Mrs. Hisetta Dyson, trustees, Dr. Eissey, Dr. Conley, and Mrs. Homer Hand, trustee.

All Hygienists Pass Nationals

All 31 of the Palm Beach Junior College Dental Hygiene graduates who took the National Board Dental Hygiene Examination in March passed, and in addition the class average was higher than the national average, according to Dr. Hal C. Hutchins, chairman of the PBJC Dental Health Services Department.

Results received Tuesday from the Commission on National Dental Examinations in Chicago, showed that the PBJC Dental Hygiene graduates had an average of 86.06 compared to a national average of 85 (75 is a passing grade).

Sandra F. Di Salvo, Lauderhill, who recently won an Academic Achievement Award at graduation ceremonies, made 99, the top grade in the PBJC class.

PBJC Dental Hygiene graduates have been passing the National Board Dental Hygiene Examination successfully "for at least the past five years," according to Nancy J. MacPherson, supervisor of Dental Hygiene and assistant chairman of the PBJC Dental Health Services Department.

Enrollment Up

Spring Term enrollment climbed nicely in terms of the number of students, reaching 3,585 as contrasted to last year's 3,289. That's 294 more students for a nine percent gain.

The long-term trend to more students taking fewer hours continued, however, so that the gain in semester hours was much less spectacular -- but still a gain. Semester hours are 12,510 this year and 12,301 a year ago, an increase of 1.6 percent.

The Holocaust: An Overview

A three and a half hour seminar, The Holocaust: An Overview, for Social Science teachers and other educators, will be presented Wednesday, May 21, at 10 A.M. to 2:30 P.M. in the Foodservice Center.

The seminar is a cooperative venture of PBJC Social Science Department and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The seminar is "specifically designed to sensitize teachers (at all levels) to a part of history many would rather forget," according to Dr. Sam Bottosto, Social Science Department Chairman.

Principal speakers will be Dr. Helen Fagin of the University of Miami and Dr. Stephen Fain of Florida International University.

Dr. Fagin, a survivor of the Holocaust, is the recipient of the "New Life" award from the State of Israel for her contribution to education.

Dr. Fain, in addition to important posts at the university, is chairman of the Education Committee of Florida's Region of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The seminar will be conducted as in-service training for educators who believe they should know more about the persecution and genocide of 6,000,000 Jews and 5,000,000 Non-Jews from 1933 to 1945, Dr. Bottosto said.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT

Volume II, Number 40 May 26, 1980

Major New Program Inagurated

President's Scholars and the Honors Program

A major new educational program for this area was inaugurated last Tuesday night by the college with the awarding of 162 scholarships in the first President's Scholar Awards program.

The college auditorium was nearly filled with friends and relatives of approximately 120 of the scholars who attended the first meeting. Eighteen area high schools were represented.

Dr. Eissey, PBJC President, made it clear that the scholarships were only the first phase of a developing honors curricula at the college designed to "focus attention on quality education and a concept of excellence."

He said that the acceptance of President's Scholar awards by one-third of all students in the upper 10 percent of their high school class was a highly encouraging beginning for the honors program.

Honor students will be identified from among the President's Scholars and also from students already on campus who achieve a 3.5 or better average and can benefit from a challenge to perform at the highest level of excellence of which they are capable.

The program will be developed by an Honors Committee, which will select a faculty team for the program with outstanding instructional skills and an ardent enthusiasm for the development of gifted students.

Dr. Eissey listed some specific objectives of the honors program:

1. Identification of students whose ability and motivation are so high that their academic needs would not be adequately met by existing programs.
2. Provide proper academic challenges for such students to enable them to become independent learners.
3. Establish an environment that will foster within these students dignity, self-esteem, and a sense of their potential.

Bidding Season Opens For PBJC North Campus

The bidding season has opened on the long awaited PBJC north campus.

Contractors who have been prequalified by the District Board of Trustees are now free to submit bids on the first phase of the campus, to be located on a 108-acre site on PGA Boulevard, just east of the north county office building.

When and if awarded by the trustees, the contract is expected to be the largest in the history of the college, according to Dr. Tate.

"We do not like to talk about our own guesses as to cost at this time," Tony says, "but it would be safe to say that the project will probably come in between $4 and $6 million."

The largest previous contracts have been in the neighborhood of $2 million. The entire first phase of the PBJC Central Campus, built 25 years ago, cost approximately $1 million.

The biggest part of the contract will be a classroom building. A small building for utilities is also necessary. An administration building will be bid as an alternate.

Bids are returnable on July 1 at 2 P.M.

Dr. Eissey has indicated he plans to ask trustees to attend a special meeting to award the contract shortly after that date.

Trustees Review Budget

The trustees will consider the annual budget of the college at the regular May meeting, Wednesday, May 28, 7:30 P.M., in the Foodservice Center at PBJC Central.

The budget, which has been in various stages of preparation since January, must be completed and in Tallahassee by June 1.

There are two items of old business on the agenda, final reading of a change in student fees from $15 to $16 per credit hour, and a lease agreement for placing a billboard on property owned by the college on Lake Worth Road.

Included in the six New Business items is the renewal of an annual agreement with The Institute of New Dimensions.

There are some 13 pages of Personnel items, including many annual appointments of administrative and instructional personnel.

In Construction and Development, the board will be asked to approve final inspection on a roofing project and on construction of two elevators, and to appoint the firm of Peacock and Lewis as supervising architects for millage projects.

Bids to be awarded include one for food service in the college cafeteria and a bid from banks on a Depository Contract.

The trustees will recognize the success of the Women's Tennis Team, winners of the national Junior College Athletic Association Championship.

4. Giving faculty members the psychic rewards of working with gifted students.

5. Attracting scholars and speakers to the campus who might not otherwise be there.

The President's Scholars were welcomed by George A. Michael, vice chairman of the PBJC Trustees, and by Thomas J. Mills, Superintendent of Palm Beach County Public Schools.

Mills noted that all three of the speakers for the occasion were graduates of Palm Beach Junior College who later attended Florida State University.

Dr. Eissey said President's Scholars must be full-time students, and can attend any term. They must maintain a 3.0 average to retain the scholarship, which will cover the $16 per credit hour fee for all classes.

He announced that PBJC is seeking an arrangement with Florida Atlantic University that would continue a tuition scholarship at FAU for the President's Scholars who complete work at PBJC.

The President's Scholars and friends met informally with Dr. Eissey and other members of the college staff at a reception in the Student Activities Center Lounge following the meeting in the Auditorium.

Another National Champ???

As the Monday Report deadline passed, Thursday morning, the Lady Pacers Golf Team was leading the National Tournament, being held in Hollywood, Florida. They were just two strokes ahead of second-place Miami Dade North after the first day's play on Tuesday. Wednesday's round was rained out, and they were playing again on Thursday morning.

National Champions!!

Our Pacers Are Number One

The Palm Beach Junior College women's tennis team hit the top rung of the ladder last weekend as they won the National Junior College Athletic Association championship at Midland, Texas.

Coach Julio Rive and the six-woman team arrived home Saturday equipped with ten-gallon hats, a huge trophy, championship T-shirts, and big smiles for an enthusiastic welcoming group.

This is the second national championship in PBJC history, the first having come with a Lady Pacer golf victory last year.

The tennis margin was achieved in the early rounds of the tournament with all four of those playing in the nationals contributing to the point total.

Alexi Beggs, Pacer No. 1 player, stayed on to the semi-finals, and teamed with Christie Turdo, Pacer No. 2, to reach the semi-finals in doubles.

Beau Wigley made it to the quarter finals, and Kim Tasker also won in the early going, so that the Pacers had built up a lead that gave them an assured tie for the championship before the last day of play.

Despite two losses on the last day, Tyler, Texas, also lost, giving the Pacers undisputed possession of first place, with 19 points to Tyler's 18. Broward Central finished third with 16 points, followed by host, Midland, and New Mexico Military tied for fourth at 15 points.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 41 June 2, 1980

We Have All Worked Hard

Dr. Eissey: 9.5 Percent Increase

A budget position "we have all worked hard to achieve" will lead to an administrative recommendation for a 9.5 percent increase in non-bargaining unit salary schedules, Dr. Eissey told all non-unit personnel at a meeting Thursday morning. Annual increments, when earned, will be in addition to the 9.5 percent, not a part of it. The letter distributed at the meeting is inserted in today's Monday Report.

Wednesday night Dr. Eissey told trustees that an estimated fund balance as of July 1 of almost $1.5 million was the result of a "concentrated effort to get into a sound fiscal position." He mentioned use of part-time personnel where possible, energy conservation measures resulting in 11 percent fewer kilowatts used than the year before, and the modified week as examples of efforts to achieve the balance.

As passed by the trustees, the budget showed a total available $13,988,721 in the current fund group, with planned expenditures and transfers out using $12,200,558 of that amount.

There was an additional item of $500,000 never before seen on a PBJC budget, identified as "funds restricted to preparation of the 1981-82 budget." Dr. Eissey explained that this amount is needed to begin next year's budget, and he directed that it be listed as an item in the budget.

This left $1,163,163 as an unrestricted ending fund balance, an amount that will obviously be reduced as increases are granted by the board.

The remainder of the budget, the "Plant Fund Group," shows a total available of $7,105,496.11, expenditures of $6,774,866.73 and an ending fund balance of $330,629.38. The largest expenditures in this group will be for the Glades Auditorium and the North Campus.

Before examining and approving the budget, the trustees welcomed the national championship women's tennis team, and the women's golf team, which finished in second place in the national tournament.

WOMEN'S GOLF TEAM SECOND IN NATION

Our Lady Pacer's golf team gave it a mighty try last week at Hollywood, but could not quite repeat as National champs, falling to a great Miami-Dade North team, 917 - 911.

The 917 was 13 strokes better than their winning effort at Midland, Texas a year ago, but a bad break in the weather, and a Miami-Dade team that came back strong after a wash out were too much for a gallant last-day effort.

The Pacers, who did not beat Miami-Dade North all year, started out strong Tuesday, May 20, with a two-stroke lead. Wednesday, they were playing very well again, and had increased the margin by several strokes when the day's play was washed out.

Thursday, the Pacers were cold and Dade North hot, and a two stroke plus was turned into an eight stroke minus. Friday's round found the Pacers again two strokes better than Dade North, but Thursday's lapse was the decisive factor.

Paula Davis, Miami-Dade's best, spoiled our Paula Slivensky's bid for a repeat of the national individual title with a 20-foot birdie putt on the first hole of the playoff. Both finished regulation play at 222.

Barbara Bunkowski and Julie Kintz tied for fourth place at 229.

Dr. Eissey To Tallahassee

Dr. Eissey has been asked to go to Tallahassee this week by the President's Council for the final week of the legislative session. He plans to be there all week.

At stake are many bills dealing with education, but the one dearest to the hearts of Community College people at the moment is the appropriations bill, and the status of supplemental appropriations for this year.

As this is written, the House bill is more generous -- $4.5 million -- and the Senate bill is at $1.6 million. The effort, of course, will be for a settlement nearer the House figure than the Senate figure.

Another item of great interest to us at PBJC is the proposed merger of FAU into FIU, something we have been fighting. Our side received a boost when the Senate bill did not contain this provision, and another big boost when Phil Lewis told reporters there is "no way in Hell" the FAU merger would take place.

In another matter, the board directed attorney James Adams to renegotiate a proposed contract for a billboard on property owned by the college on Lake Worth Road.

After congratulating the two winning teams, the mood at the Wednesday board meeting was serious, but Dr. Eissey was interrupted three times with applause at the Thursday morning meeting, with a standing ovation at one point.

In addition to the material contained in the letter, Dr. Eissey also told employees that a liberalized fee waiver plan was currently under negotiation with the union.

In response to another question, he said that the administration is sensitive to the fact that large numbers of employees have reached the maximum salary grade in their position, but explained that the desire to do something more for these individuals could not be allowed to upset the entire schedule.

Dr. Eissey said he was tremendously pleased that the raise could be the maximum allowed under presidential guidelines, but that it is not as large as he would like it to be. "We have to keep up our good work," he said, "we are not yet anywhere near where we need to be."

MARY IS A WINNER

Mary Cannon, LPN, College Nurse at PBJC Central, recently attended the Licensed Practical Nurses Association of Florida Annual State Convention in Tampa as a delegate from Palm Beach County.

It was a good convention. Twenty schools of Practical Nursing from all over the state were represented with 705 students present, including Palm Beach County.

Mary was among ten nominees running for the Executive Board of Directors, and was one of the two nurses elected to serve on that board for a period of two years, 1980-82.

"I am very excited about the opportunity to better serve and speak for all LPNs in the State of Florida on the state level," Mary says.

Palm Beach Junior College

4200 CONGRESS AVENUE, LAKE WORTH, FLORIDA 33461 • PHONE 305/965-8000

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

May 29, 1980

TO ALL NON-BARGAINING UNIT PERSONNEL:

Most of you know that I became President of Palm Beach Junior College on September 1, 1978 and many of you were present at inaugural ceremonies on October 20, 1978 when I stated that my primary goals were morale and salaries. I said then, and have repeated on numerous occasions since, that we would move forward as rapidly as possible consistent with financial responsibility, until we are once again near the top in comparison with other Florida Community Colleges.

Less than two weeks after my inauguration on November 1, 1978 the first installment on that promise was made with a 5 per cent overall increase for all personnel.

Then, on July 1, 1979, another overall increase averaging seven per cent was made. In addition, there were numerous reclassifications for individual positions, and salary increments have been maintained for everyone. Fringe benefits, too, including such items as the first tuition waivers in the history of the college, have been made more attractive.

We have been able to make these changes, the maximum permissible under presidential guidelines, only through the cooperation of everyone on campus and through a number of steps which have increased our efficiency. We must continue these efforts if we are to realize my number one goal. Some important steps we must maintain are:

1. Continued use of part-time employees whereever possible consistent with maintaining the quality of our product.

2. Continued effort toward full classes, never offering unnecessary sections just to provide loads.

3. Continuing to meet our assigned FTE quotas, and going beyond them if possible. Active recruiting on everyone's part.

4. Continued use of 196-day contracts to the maximum level needed.

5. Continuation of energy saving measures of all kinds, including the modified work week.

6. Continuation of maximum use of existing personnel, increasing efficiency whereever possible without adding new positions.

Because of your good work in helping us take these and other steps, I am happy to be able to tell you that the administration intends to recommend to the trustees that an increase of 9.5 per cent to non-bargaining unit personnel, the maximum allowed under presidential guidelines, be put into effect on July 1.

This year we are permitted by Federal guidelines to give increments in addition to the 9.5 per cent and we are going to recommend that this be done.

This means that on July 1, if our recommendation is adopted by the trustees, and we believe it will be, you will be getting a 9.5 per cent increase plus an increment if you are not at the maximum of your salary schedule and if you have been recommended for increase by your supervisor.

On July 1 it will have been 20 months since I told you my number one priority was morale and salaries. In that 20 months the absolute minimum increase for anyone would be 19.5 per cent and for most of you will be 25 per cent or more.

I believe we are moving in the right direction. I know we have made some good decisions and are in much better financial condition than we were two years ago.

I want to urge you to continue your efforts to conserve energy. Keep up your good work. Together we will make it to the top.

Sincerely,

E. M. Eissey

Criteria For Selection Of Millage Projects

There have been two additional meetings of the College Wide Millage Project Committee since the last report, and Dr. Tate reports considerable progress at both meetings.

The last meeting, May 28, was taken up almost completely with a discussion with Claude Edwards, Director of Physical Plant, who talked about all-college repairs and renovations, as well as covering the needs of his department. Included was information on the cost of handicapped modifications, drainage of parking lots, new campus signs, air conditioning of some units not now on central air, and many other matters.

In the meeting on May 21, the committee adopted guidelines to be used in making decisions on projects and equipment requests to be funded from millage money. In view of the importance of these guidelines to all of us, they are reprinted in full below.

The next meeting has been set for June 4 at 1:30 P.M., and a student, Rick Kochersperger, will be added to the committee at that time. The guidelines follow:

PRIORITY CRITERIA

Assuming allowable under legislature -

1. Repair and renovate existing buildings to meet health and safety codes and Federal and State standards and legal requirements.
2. Repair, renovate or replace equipment and furniture directly related to instruction and accreditation.
3. Repair, renovate and purchase equipment to improve efficient use of resources (human, financial, energy) - support services.
4. Repair, renovate or replace equipment to improve beauty, convenience and comfort.
5. Relate all suggested projects to the five (5) year goals of the college.

Other Considerations

Number of people served
Long term recurring expense for the operating budget

Suggested Equipment Criteria for New Equipment

1. Essential for continuation of existing programs
2. Needed to upgrade and expand programs
3. Needed for establishing new programs in the planning stage
4. Needed for establishing new programs already approved
5. Desired, but not critical for current operation

Suggested Criteria for Equipment Replacement:

Before requests for equipment replacement can be considered, the following information must be supplied by the department chairperson.

1. Original purchase date (available from department inventory printout.)
2. Cost of repairs for current budget year (available from the original copy of purchase requisition.)
3. Cost of putting equipment in suitable working condition exceeds value of equipment and purchase of replacement equipment is a more justifiable expenditure.
4. Can the equipment be repaired and put in usable condition for purpose intended.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Food Service contract for the current Cafeteria operator, Professional Food Management, has been terminated effective June 8, 1980. In order for the new Food Service company, American Food Management, to have the time necessary to establish their operation, it will be necessary to close the Cafeteria for four days from June 9 through and including June 12. This time is necessary to enable the new company to take inventory, to change some of the equipment, to completely clean the facility and to provide them with an opportunity to select their operational staff. We are sorry for any inconvenience this may cause you but this should enable the new contractor to provide you with better and more efficient service.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 42 June 9, 1980

June Meeting This Week

Trustees Look At Salary Hikes, Fee Waivers

Our trustees, meeting a week early on June 11, will be asked to approve non-bargaining unit pay hikes and a change in the employee fee waiver policy Wednesday, 7:30 P.M. in the Foodservice Center at PBJC Central. In addition to the 9.5 percent plus increments increase covered extensively by the Monday Report last week, the personnel section of the trustee's agenda reveals a large number of salary adjustments.

WIN SOME, LOSE SOME SOME STILL TO BE DECIDED

From Tallahassee, Dr. Eissey told the Monday Report just before our Thursday deadline that community colleges appear to be winning many of the week's battles, losing some, and that some are still to be decided with only two days to go in the current legislative session. One thing, however, has become abundantly clear:

"Without a physical presence here in Tallahassee during this last week of the legislature, somebody to be at the right place at the right time to explain our position, the community college system would have suffered a number of disasters", Dr. Eissey said.

The scoreboard as of Thursday on some major issues:

1. Supplemental appropriations - holding our own at the $3.5 million mark statewide - chalk that up as a win, since it is closer to the House's $4.5 million than the Senate's $1.6 million.

2. FAU merger. Many different amendments still being considered, but chances of FIU-FAU merger greatly diminished. Dr. Eissey predicts a one-year study. Our viewpoint is that FAU is doing a great job, an outstanding example of two plus two, and we want it to continue.

3. Tuition Fee Waiver Cap. This would have limited fee waivers statewide to 5 percent, but the cap is now off for this year. This would be no problem to PBJC

Included is a single provision which would affect some 40 or so employees, increasing pay for all Clerk Typists I and II, all Record Clerks I and II, and all Clerk I's.

Salaries for bargaining unit personnel are, of course, subject to collective bargaining currently in progress.

The fee waiver change is in the form of a proposed addition to the policy. It is designed to take care of one of the problems which surfaced during the first year of the policy.

Currently those wishing to take advantage of the waiver must wait until after the Drop and Add period to register, since it is not known until that time whether a class will be filled or not.

The new proposal will keep all the current provisions, but add the following paragraph:

"As an alternative, the employee or eligible dependent may also register during any scheduled registration period and pay all fees. If at the close of Drop and Add it is determined that a class has not reached the maximum enrollment, the employee or eligible dependent may request in the prescribed manner a refund for applicable class fees."

As proposed, the new waiver provision would apply to all employees, but if union negotiators prefer to handle fee waivers as a matter of contract rather than by board rule, the new provision could be changed to refer only to non-bargaining unit personnel.

where waivers are far less than 5 percent, but stateside average is 8 percent, and Indian River is at 31 percent.

4. Added money for North Campus. This seemed assured of at least a good hearing, since it was in the Senate Bill, but it got shoved aside in committee. Dr. Eissey is doing everything possible, but it will take a miracle to get it back on at this point.

5. Library funds. Were simply cut out earlier, but are now restored. An example of absolute necessity of having someone in Tallahassee.

6. Governance. For a time it looked like major changes, for instance, putting community colleges under a super board along with universities, but major changes are not now likely.

7. Free tuition for all over 60 on a space available basis. This bill would not be bad except that it specifies that no FTE would be allowed. It is anybody's guess as to whether this can be amended to allow FTE. Obviously, it would have disastrous effects on all our current senior citizen programs in its present form.

Dr. Eissey said he started running at 6:30 A.M. Wednesday morning and got to bed at 1:15 A.M. Thursday morning.

"The pace of this last week is unbelievable," he said. "You have to know your way around, you have to know who to see, and when you see them -- sometimes just a minute and a half with the right person can mean the difference between a disaster and something you can live with."

"One thing is certain -- we begin on our legislative program for next year the day I get back on campus."

Blue Key Awards

Two PBJC South students are recipients of the Florida Blue Key Community College Leadership Awards, according to Dr. Eissey. Florida Blue Key is a leadership honorary organization, established at the University of Florida, Gainesville in 1923.

Jenell A. Lake and Thomas W. Larson, both of Boca Raton, were selected to receive this honor. "Palm Beach Junior College is proud that these two outstanding students received the Blue Key Award," Dr. Eissey said.

New Business Club, PBJC South

A new business club -- Phi Alpha Omega -- was established recently at PBJC South, according to Jimmy Weatherly, advisor.

The purpose of the club, which now has approximately 40 members, is to assist, direct and encourage business students through field trips, speakers, and conventions.

"Getting together in this way also gives the students, faculty and administrators a chance to become better acquainted," Jimmy said.

Co-sponsors of the organization are Jim Tanner and Dr. Harris McGirt.

Officers of the club are Harry Lerner, president; Joel Laskin, first vice president; Robert Simonson, second vice president; Melanie Farmer, secretary; and Linda Medina, treasurer.

Jazz-Pop-Swing Concert

The Music Department will present their annual Jazz-Pop-Swing Concert Thursday, June 12 and Friday, June 13 at 8 P.M. in the auditorium.

Tickets are $2 and no seats are reserved -- they may be purchased in advance in Room 20 of the Humanities Building, or at the door on the evening of the concert. Proceeds will benefit PBJC music students.

A variety of music, special musical arrangements and guest artists will be featured, according to Sy Pryweller.

Members of this semester's arranging class are busy writing their first big band arrangement, to be performed by the Jazz Ensemble.

"This is always an exciting moment for the young writers, who have the opportunity to hear their arrangements for the first time publicly and to critique them," Pryweller points out.

"It is also exciting for the audience, since they are hearing arrangements never before performed."

This year's concert also features two well known guest artists. Pat Johnson will sing several selections of standard and contemporary ballads with the band -- the first time the band has backed a vocalist. Harry Love, virtuoso violinist, now residing in South Florida, will add another dimension to the concert.

Love began his formal musical studies at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, followed by membership in the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. Later Love, who wanted a more creative career as a pops-concert artist, left the symphony and became a popular attraction in such places as Maxim's de Paris, the Drake Hotel in Chicago, and other prestigious hotels throughout Canada and the U.S.; he also toured with Henry Mancini and his orchestra.

Since moving to Florida, he is constantly in demand on the condominium circuit, as well as in the major convention hotels in the area.

Love's virtuosity on the violin is the ultimate in musical sound, delicately and forcefully expressed; it runs the gamut from light, classical, to popular and jazz. Technically, he's a musician's musician, who at the same time, communicates a musical excitement to the audience few performers are able to parallel.

Kelly Wins An Oscar

Jack Kelly and Remer (Sonny) Young just returned from a meeting of the Florida Association of Educational Data Systems (FAEDS) in Ft. Lauderdale June 2-4, where Kelly received the highest honor paid by FAEDS -- the Robert W. Sims Award, for outstanding service to the organization. "It's just like winning an Oscar," Jack says.

Jack is a past president and past member of the board of directors of FAEDS, and is presently on the board of directors of the Florida Association of Educational Data Systems. Sonny was elected to the FAEDS board of directors. This conference was geared to Data Processing users, according to Young - administrators and instructors.

Two presentations R.S.V.P. (Response System with Variable Prescriptions) and Computer Literacy for Teachers and Administrators were very worthwhile, and the latter was so successful, it will be presented again in a conference in November, to be held in Orlando. The two men hope that PBJC administrators and teachers will keep this in mind and plan to attend.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Some employees upon discovering their reserved space is occupied, have pulled their vehicles into the space directly behind the illegally parked car thus making it inconvenient, if not impossible, for the illegally parked car to get out. In some instances this practice has been effective, in other cases the illegally parked car has been able to get out of the space. This practice has caused an unnecessary hardship on those employees who park adjacent to the illegally parked vehicle. It has also resulted in blocking the entrance/exit lanes which are needed for normal traffic flow as well as for emergency vehicles. In case of an emergency, these vehicles blocking the lanes could result in wasting valuable time of the emergency driver by his not having access to most direct lanes. This delay in response time could mean the difference between life and death. It is extremely urgent that the practice of parking and locking your vehicle behind an illegally parked vehicle must be discontinued. As an alternate to this practice, we suggest you locate an unreserved vacant parking space and then telephone Security so they may take appropriate action against the owner of the illegally parked vehicle. Your cooperation in solving this problem will certainly be appreciated and may save the life of a student or fellow employee. ... T. Tate

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

Volume II, Number 43 June 16, 1980

Negotiations Stall

Union Rejects 9.5% Pay Plus Increments

Negotiations with the United Faculty have reached a point where it seems advisable to inform the college community of the positions of each side at the bargaining table. The following summary is factual, and does not, in our opinion, break an informal agreement reached at the start of negotiations at the request of the union to refrain from editorial comment and inflamatory statement in either the Monday Report or the union newsletter.

The left hand column gives a summary of the College position paper put on the table on June 10. The right hand column gives what we believe to be the latest union position on the same issue.

The College position paper states that everything in the current contract would remain in effect except for the changes indicated. The order of items has been changed by the Monday Report editor to give the items in which there is greatest interest first.

College Position

1. 9.5% increase in salary.
2. Grant increase over and above 9.5% increase for all those eligible.
3. Increments remain intact.
4. Supplemental funds are often categorical, and it would not be lawful to expend categorical funds for any other area than that designated.
5. In 1979-80 Consumer Price Index was 18%. Administration proposed a one-year contract.
6. No position taken.
7. Tuition waiver change allowing early registration and payment with refund when classes do not fill.
8. PBJC can not collectively bargain for the union with any other institution.

Union Demands

1-2. Add a new increment at the top of each salary range and then increase by 9.5%.

3. Increase all increments to specific dollar amounts that equal approximately 5% of salary.
4. One-time payment of 47 percent of supplemental funds appropriated for PBJC this year divided equally to unit members.
5. Raises in second and third year of three-year contract to equal percentage change in Consumer Price Index.
6. A "cafeteria style" fringe benefit in which unit member selects insurance options with premiums up to $15 per month.
7. Tuition waivers not a part of the contract.
8. The College will pursue an agreement with FAU whereby the two colleges offer mutual fee waivers.

9.	Maintenance of Professional Standards (takes the place of certification).	9. Five-year period before July 1, 1982 during which courses can count is not long enough. Union wants a list of approved fields included.
10.	New paragraph (2) on criteria for academic rank as senior instructor.	10. Unclear as to whether agreement exists.
11.	Payment for overloads. Allows payment for Fall Term overloads to be made after drop and add in Winter Term. Long article spells out details including repayment if employee eventually paid for work not performed.	11. Provision for repayment rejected.

The list above does not include some items on which there appears to be agreement. There are other union demands, on non-economic matters, which are not listed in this brief report. During the June 10 meeting it was emphasized by management that no retroactive provisions would be recognized this year as in the past.

Robert H. McCabe Appointed Miami-Dade President

Robert H. McCabe, executive vice president of Miami-Dade Community College since 1969, was appointed president of the college by the District Board of Trustees on May 27. McCabe succeeds Peter Masiko, Jr., who served Miami-Dade as president for the past 18 years. Masiko recently announced his retirement effective July 1.

McCabe was named to the presidency after a nationwide search and was one of five finalists recommended to the Board of Trustees by the Presidential Search Committee. He was appointed unanimously by the five member board.

For Non-Unit Employees

Board Passes 9.5% Plus Increments

Our trustees agreed with the administration's request for a 9.5% increase for all non-unit employees at the board meeting Wednesday, June 11, and voted unanimously for it. They also approved a number of upward adjustments in grade among the personnel items.

The raises will become effective on July 1, but will not be reflected in pay checks until July 20. The July 5 pay check is based on work performed in June.

The board also agreed with a change in the tuition waiver policy which affects all employees. The new policy continues all the provisions of the previous policy, but adds an alternative plan. The alternate allows an employee or dependent to register at regular registration dates, paying the fees at that time. At the end of the drop and add period, the employee will be refunded 100 percent of the fee if the class does not fill.

Also of interest among personnel items was the appointment of Reuben Hale as the new Art Department chairman and Dr. James Howell, formerly with Florida International University, as Director of Institutional Research.

Dr. Eissey told the board that with the help of our local legislators, he has been able to obtain an appropriation of $1,672,000 for the north campus. This is not advanced funding, but an outright appropriation.

Last week, Dr. Eissey had told the Monday Report it would take a miracle to obtain such an appropriation, since the item was not listed in the appropriations bill of either the House or the Senate. One veteran of 12 sessions of the legislature said he had never seen this occur.

But the miracle did happen, and unless Gov. Graham takes some action to change the appropriations bill, it will become law.

Dr. Eissey also reported to the board on other legislative matters discussed in last week's Monday Report.

The Board passed resolutions thanking the legislators for their support this year.

Dr. Philip Lichtblau, board chairman, said that although Dr. Eissey seemed to be giving all the credit to the legislators, and that they, no doubt deserve a lot of credit, "it was really Dr. Eissey that made it happen."

Turkey A La Tony Tate

Line items in the appropriations budget for specific projects favored by delegations from a particular district are known as "turkeys" and at Wednesday's board meeting Dr. Tony Tate got some laughs out of that fact.

As the board meeting drew to a close, Tony brought in a large package addressed to "Dr. $dward $issey," which he said had just arrived from the legislature. Inside was a card saying "Super Turkey Finder." Dr. Eissey held up the card, laughing, and then said, "Wait a minute. There's more."

He then held up a scrawny, yellow rubber bird with a note calling it Turkey No. 2. The meeting ended with laughter.

PBJC Hosts Council of Business Affairs

Tony Tate and Barry Rogers attended a PBJC hosted Council of Business Affairs meeting at the Palm Beach Hilton June 12 and 13. The council is composed of business affairs leaders from across the state.

At the Thursday morning opening meeting Ed Eissey presented Tom Baker, unofficial leader of the council, with a plaque for "outstanding leadership and unselfish contributions to the Florida Community College System."

Wednesday the Statewide Insurance Committee formed by the Business Affairs Council held its meeting. Tony Tate is a member of the committee which was formed to study the problems and possibilities of self-insurance for community colleges.

Kenneth E. Ackerman Retires

Ken Ackerman retired May 8 from the Science Department faculty.

Ackerman has taught Chemistry at PBJC for the past 20 years and previously taught 12 years in Florida and North Carolina schools.

Millage Committee Reviews Requests

The Millage Committee has met six times so far, and has spent six and a half hours in the last two meetings according to Salle Thornton, committee member.

Jennifer Hendrickson, secretary of the SGA, was added to the committee June 4.

It was agreed that a minimum of a 10 percent contingency fund be established from the millage revenues, which could be used for unforseen increases in costs for the upcoming projects.

In the June 11 meeting, Watson B. Duncan and Art Musto of the Communications Department presented plans for a renovation of the auditorium, which included a possible area for TV studies.

Letha Madge Royce made a presentation asking for several items of equipment for the Music Department, including platform risers, and replacement of pianos.

Both Howard Reynolds and Tom Mullins agreed that a number one priority in the Athletics and Physical Education Departments is a weight training fitness area, and sanding of the gymnasium floor. Air conditioning for the gym would just be like icing on the cake, Mullins said, with roof repair and upgrading the air conditioners already there more important. Other items were discussed, including an area for gymnastics and dance, upgrading the women's softball facility and the possibility of a fence to keep foul balls from going into the water at the men's baseball field.

Jonathan Koontz asked for a mimeograph machine and an electric stapler for the News Bureau, a collator, folder, IBM Copier Series III, I-Tek Camera Processor binding equipment, and other items for the Print Shop.

Bob Suttle of the Business Department requested an IBM Audio Typewriter, replacement of the 61 oldest typewriters, a word processing unit, new mannequins, and equipment for Cooperative Education.

At the June 11 meeting Bob Moss and Don Cook

IMPASSE DECLARED

An impasse was declared June 17 in negotiations between the College and the United Faculty.

Ann Steckler, chief negotiator for the union, will notify PERC (Public Employees Relations Commission) of the impasse and request that a mediator be appointed.

PHI RHO PI AWARDS

Mary Beth Irwin and Darin de Peahul won awards for the best actress and actor at the recent PBJC Players Awards Banquet.

Mary Beth played Bananas and Darin played Archie in the Spring play, House of Blue Leaves. Mary Catherine Peak and John Papsidera won plaudits as best supporting actress and actor.

The awards for acting were voted upon by the Phi Rho Pi members, and Watson B. Duncan, Frank Leahy and Art Musto (Sunny Meyer was in China) presented the "Oscars".

Other awards for members of the production staff follow:

Valerie Bourgeois, costumes; Terri L. Byers, Michael Coppola, makeup; John Fayssoux, Gwen Jones, student directors; Rita Duffey, lighting.

Also Gary Williams, overall technical; Margaret Kilmer, publicity; Deanna Kepple, properties; Liza Lindgren, scenic design; Randy Bradshaw, stage manager; and Preston Kemp, Joey Pouliot and Danny Stewart, presented plans for renovation of the SAC Lounge, and Sam Bottosto and Kathleen Bowser spoke of converting a classroom in Social Science to a conference room and adding space to the Center for Early Learning to accommodate more students.

Ottis Smith requested furniture for the new North Campus, something not covered in the appropriation; Jim Tanner asked for repair work on the mobile offices and ramps to the offices for the handicapped at PBJC South; and Cecil Conley requested equipment for the new auditorium in the Glades.

Don Whitmer, representing the Art Department, asked for an enlargement of the darkroom, and a modernization of the first floor gallery.

The next meeting of the Millage Committee will be Wednesday, June 25.

North News

Water Wonderland

Channel 5 TV found Mary Jane Still, Senior Math Instructor at the North Campus, painting her pool last week. What's so unusual about that? Well, Mary Jane has created an underwater jungle on the bottom and sides of her pool that reminds one of a Disneyland feature.

The central and largest attraction is Jaws III, in the middle of the pool. A large evil-eyed octopus waving a Confederate flag, with the drain hole for a mouth, is ready for anyone who jumps off the diving board. Another shark swoops in from the side and a giant crab stalks the sidelines. Less menacing figures are all around: a sunken treasure chest on the bottom, a yellow diving bell where the light is, with a deep-sea diver, a manta ray and killer whale, Charlie the tuna, a mermaid, a beautiful sailfish, two kissing seahorses, a giant clam, two flirting octopuses, and a vast array of underwater flora and fauna. A touch of the artist's humor is everywhere in the original cartoons and caricatures of real animals and plants.

When asked about her talent, Mary Jane replied, "Art talent runs in the family, but I never figured I could make a living at it. Besides, I'm a Jane-of-all-trades and mistress of none."

She is not yet finished. A large alligator is destined to open its mouth to brave swimmers who come down the sliding board, and an array of cartoon characters will decorate the shallow end and the steps. Hurry up, M.J., so we can come to the completion party!

Channel 5 will have a follow-up then, too, so watch for Mary Jane. She's planning to wear a PBJC T-shirt so they will have to give PBJC some publicity too.

Recruit Class No. 23 Graduation

Chief John H. Jamason, the first appointed chief of the West Palm Beach Police Department, was the speaker for the graduation of Recruit Class #23 of the Palm Beach County Criminal Justice Institute at PBJC Wednesday afternoon.

The 40 men and women graduates from 20 South Florida police departments, the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office and the Dade County State Attorney's Office chose Rick Wiita as their class president.

Wiita, of the Lake Worth Police Department, told his fellow graduates: "I'm proud of myself; I'm proud of this class; and I'm proud that the 39 other members elected me president of this class; I'm proud of being a police officer."

Chief Jamason told the new police officers of "how drastically police work has changed in the past 20 years since I entered the field. "You are entering a difficult field in difficult times," the chief said. However, Jamason later added, "The officers of today are the best trained and the best equipped. There's no doubt you can do the job."

The graduate with the highest academic average was Corey Altenburger, who is with the Pembroke Park Police Department.

There were also representatives from 17 other police departments in the class.

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:
VOLUME II, Number 45 June 30, 1980

Holling Seeks Yard Guard

Bicentennial Redwood Mysteriously Vanishes

As July 4 approaches, the thoughts of many at Palm Beach Junior College have turned to the college's Bicentennial Redwoods and how they are getting along in the Florida climate.

Up until a few days ago, Fred Holling, who because of his horticultural talents takes care of the four Redwoods, would have said: "All is well."

Fred Holling with three remaining Redwoods

But last week he went to his nursery area to check on the progress of the small seedlings. One was missing. "I can't imagine what could have happened to the little tree," Fred said, "it has simply disappeared."

The four Redwoods were sent to PBJC by the College of the Redwoods in Eureka, California, to replace the one they sent in July 1976 as a Bicentennial gift. They weren't sure at the time if the seedling would survive in the different climate, but thought it was worth trying.

The first seedling thrived under Fred's care growing to 26½ inches in its very first year. By July 1978, the tree had attained a height of 67 inches, and Fred planted it in a sheltered grassy location outside his office.

In the spring of 1979, the Redwood began looking sickly, about the same time Fred had open-heart surgery, which kept him away from the campus for several months. When he returned, Fred noticed that the tree was brown and decided the area in which it had been planted wasn't as well drained as he had thought. He had the automatic sprinkling curtailed, and hand watered the Redwood.

Finally, Fred took the tree home. When he decided to replace the soil around the roots he discovered it was swarming with carpenter ants. It was too late for the tree.

His plan for the four replacement trees was to start them in six-inch pots, and at the end of two years, if one of the trees was large enough, to plant it on campus. The next year he would plant another, the year after that another, keeping one in a container permanently. Now that one is missing, Fred will have to revise his plan.

Union Election Victories Reach All-Time Low

The following is reprinted from the Palm Beach Post Times:

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Union victories in collective bargaining elections were at an all-time low last year, the National Labor Relations Board says.

In 8,043 representation elections conducted by the NLRB, unions won only 45%.

The introduction states: "It was our intent here to collect in one easy-to-use directory up-to-date information on all foundation programs specifically for individual applicants." Most of the awards made by foundations to individuals are highly specialized according to either subject discipline or grantee population. With this in mind, you are invited to come and browse through this volume and to see if money is available to you on an individual basis to develop or perfect an idea that you have been harboring. Grants given by foundations to individuals usually are about $2,000 a year. What could you lose by looking? The book is located in the Resource Development Office on the 2nd Floor of the Administration Building - Mr. Matsoukas' Office. Drop by!

The Resource Development Office, together with the Departments of Cooperative Education and Continuing Education, are happy to announce that both departments received notification of grant awards. The Cooperative Education Grant under the direction of Dr. Robert Suttle will receive second year funding, the amount to be negotiated with the Grants and Procurement Division of the U. S. Department of Education. The Women's Center under the supervision of Mrs. Kathy Aiello received a $15,616 award from the Florida State Department of Research and Community Services.

Sons Of Norway Scholarship

PBJC student, Jacqueline Keller, was recently presented a $250 scholarship from the Sons of Norway, Palm Coast Lodge, Boynton Beach.

Mrs. Moffitt L. Matson, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the Lodge, made the presentation to Miss Keller, with Dr. Eissey and Hamid Faquir present at the ceremony.

In addition to receiving the scholarship, Jacqueline, who recently returned from a trip to Norway, will serve as the local Sons of Norway Queen, receiving a free weekend at Jensen Beach during the Leif Erikson celebration in October, will participate in local Christmas parades, and will be admitted free to various lodge-sponsored activities.

PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

VOLUME II, Number 47 July 14, 1980

North Campus Contract Awarded

At last, the North Campus is on its way to becoming a reality, after action taken at the special board meeting, Wednesday afternoon.

The bid was awarded to the lowest bidder, Renel Construction Company of Ft. Lauderdale, for $5,636,000 (This is contingent on Governor Graham signing the bill for the extra $1.6 million, which through Dr. E's lobbying efforts was included in the final appropriations bill).

The first phase of construction will include a classroom building with 14 classrooms, a maintenance/equipment building, and an administration building, but please don't expect this to mushroom overnight. It's estimated that these will not be completed until January of 1982.

Dr. Ottis Smith announced that everyone is invited to attend the Ground Breaking, which is set for Saturday, July 26 at 10:00 A.M. at 3160 PGA Boulevard, Palm Beach Gardens. The Ground Breaking will take place in the north west part of the North Campus, near both PGA Boulevard and Campus Drive. More details about the Ground Breaking next week.

Construction will start "in several weeks" according to Dr. Tate's Office.

Dr. Eissey's contract was extended for another year, and Mrs. Dolly Hand made an eloquent motion to increase the President's salary based on the average salary of the college presidents from the top ten FTE enrollment Florida junior/community colleges.

Said Mrs. Hand: "I know Palm Beach Junior College is not in the top ten with FTE, but I honestly believe where the President is concerned, we are not only in the top ten, we are number one."

No Headway In Mediation

After more than two hours of meetings with bargaining teams for the college and the United Faculty Wednesday afternoon, Federal Mediator Harold Mills announced that no headway had been made and further mediation appeared to be useless.

His decision left two basic options -- resumption of direct negotiations or appearance before a Special Master.

Union negotiators said they would reach a decision before last weekend as to the direction they wished to take, but this information is not in the hands of the Monday Report as of our Thursday noon deadline.

Although Ann Steckler, chief union spokesman, outlined six areas of disagreement at the beginning of the mediation session, she told the press afterward that the major item left unsolved was a management's right clause, first proposed by the college in June.

In her statement, Mrs. Steckler pointed out that although agreement has been reached on salary, the faculty will be penalized until the management's rights issue is resolved.

Since it has assumed this much importance in negotiations, and since many actions will flow from the resolution of this impasse that will affect all members of the college community, it seems important that background be given here for the consideration of all interested persons.

The Classified Employees Recognition Luncheon, Tuesday at noon in the Cafeteria. See you there!

July Meeting

The annual reorganization of the Board of Trustees will take place at the regular July meeting, Wednesday, 7:30 P.M. in the Foodservice Center.

Dr. Philip Lichtblau is currently board chairman, and George Michael is vice chairman.

The board will hear a report from James Brannigan, Director of Resource Development on the work of the PBJC Foundation.

The trustees will be asked to approve a resolution seeking an exception to state educational plant survey recommendations to allow early development of the PBJC South Center.

Most of the items on a lengthy agenda appear to be routine in nature.

Managements rights clauses have been included in labor contracts for many years. They preserve the right of management to make and implement decisions about matters not covered in the contract during the term of the contract, with bargaining on those decisions put off until bargaining for a new contract begins.

Our own contracts have contained such clauses in the past, and both management and labor have apparently lived well with them. Why then, should a new and more specific clause be insisted upon by management at this time?

The answer is not too simple, but it is specific. In the last year, the Public Employee Relations Commission has held that even where there is a clear right for management to make a decision, there is not a right for management to implement these decisions without going through the collective bargaining process on each item unless the item had been anticipated and included in the contract.

This division between the right to make a decision and the right to implement it may seem strange, but it has been ruled valid by the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals.

It is this change which made it necessary, in order to maintain the status quo, for management to propose a new management's right clause which clearly maintains the right to make and implement decisions about matters not in the contract. Without such a clause, the right to manage the college during the term of the contract would be severely limited. Postponement for months of decisions vital to the entire college is a distinct possibility-

The right to govern the institution in the same manner in which it has been governed in the past is what is being sought by the management bargaining team....JK for the team.

41 Out of 95 Recognized Grads From PBJC

Almost 50 percent of the Recognized Graduates among Dental Lab Technicians working in Florida are graduates of the Dental Lab Technology Program at PBJC, according to Dr. Hal Hutchins.

According to the National Association of Dental Laboratories Roster of Recognized Graduates (April 1980), there are 95 Recognized Graduates working in Florida; of these, 41 are graduates of PBJC.

"We're proud that we are supplying nearly 50 percent of the Dental Lab Technology Recognized Graduates to our own state," Hutchins said, adding, "We have other Recognized Graduates in North Carolina, Wyoming and Nigeria."

Enrollment Increase

We have had a dramatic increase in enrollment in the Summer Term compared to the same term a year ago. We now have 2,760 students as compared to 2,054 a year ago, and that figures out to 34 percent.

Gains were made at each of the four campuses. PBJC Central went from 1,248 to 1,566, PBJC North from 471 to 553, PBJC South from 332 to 505 and PBJC Glades from 67 to 190.

It would be nice to assume that the increase is all due to our good work in recruitment, retention, and general excellence in classrooms and on campus, and it is no doubt true that we must be doing something right.

But before any kind of complacency sets in, we ought to remind ourselves that almost without fail our enrollment increases when the easy availability of jobs decreases. For many people, college is a second choice, taken only at times when a good job is not available.

All the same, the news is good. FTE, that important figure which essentially means enough classroom time to equate to a full-time student for the entire year, went from 263.7 to 332.6, also a healthy gain. Congratulations to all. JK

Institute of Governments

An Institute of Governments was recently established at PBJC and an advisory committee has been appointed, according to Dr. Edward Eissey.

During the time Eissey had been making more than 100 presentations throughout the county for the successful PBJC millage campaign, he had received many requests for various courses in government from municipal and county officials.

This included requests for the college to provide training for newly elected officials, on-going seminars and workshops for city managers and their assistants, as well as training seminars and conferences for municipal administrative staff members, such as directors of finance, personnel and public works.

After first discussing this with college administrators, Eissey sent letters to municipal and county officials in March, to determine the amount of interest in the college forming an Institute of Governments.

When 27 of the 37 officials replied, expressing support for the idea, PBJC began making plans for the Institute.

A preliminary grant proposal was looked upon with favor by the state, so a formal grant proposal was then sent.

Although the final decision on the $29,695 grant (with matching funds from PBJC) won't be known until fall, the College has decided to go ahead with the Institute of Governments with or without the grant.

It was decided that the Institute of Governments should be under the Office of Continuing Education, headed by Otis Harvey with degree courses also offered through the Business Department.

Dr. Paul W. Graham and William F. Larsen, professor of Public Administration at Florida Atlantic University, developed an associate degree program in Public Administration, to be implemented in the fall, which will lead to a bachelor's degree at FAU.

In May, Graham and Harvey visited the University of North Carolina's Institute of Government, considered by many to be the finest program of its kind in the country, and came

Lichtblau Reelected Board Chairman

Dr. Philip Lichtblau, who has served two years as Chairman of the Board of Trustees, was elected at the July meeting of the Board to another one-year term. Mrs. Homer Hand was elected Vice Chairman.

In its annual reorganization, the Board voted to retain the third Wednesday of each month, 7:30 P.M. in the Foodservice Building at PBJC Central for regular meetings.

The Board approved a resolution seeking an exception to the educational plant survey recommendations which would allow earlier planning and construction at PBJC South. The resolution directed to the State Board of Education says that initial construction at PBJC South would be from privately donated funds.

The College has already secured 10 acres on the Florida University Campus for construction of PBJC South buildings, with 43 additional acres earmarked for future expansion when needed.

The Board heard a report from Jim Brannigan, Director of Resource Development, on the work of his office and the Palm Beach Junior College Foundation.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Damon Smith, South Florida District Assistant to Senator Lawton Chiles, will be on hand to assist any students, faculty members or administrators and staff with any problems they may be having with the federal government.

Mr. Smith will be in Room 206 of the Allied Health Building July 24, from 10:00 until 11:00 A.M.

The following position vacancies are being announced:

Accountant - Business Affairs/Controller's Office: Position requires a Bachelor's Degree with major in Finance or Accounting. Two years experience is also required.

Institute Of Governments Receives Funding

At least two months earlier than expected, the Development Office has been informed by telephone that our new Institute of Governments will receive a Federal grant of $29,650, according to Jim Brannigan, Director of Development. The office also received notification last week that a Cooperative Education request for continuation of their grant for another year in the amount of $49,837 has been approved.

The Institute of Governments grant will be for the full amount requested, which is $4,650 above the usual limit set for this type of grant according to George Matsoukas, Grants Writer.

"Funding will come through the state, but from the U. S. Civil Service Commission's Bureau of Intergovernmental Personnel Programs," George said.

Dr. Eissey said that careful investigation and development of the idea of the Institute, which came about after Dr. Eissey heard from municipal leaders during the millage campaign about their educational needs, is responsible for the quick decision on our grant.

"The needs assessment, the excellent work of our advisory committee, the fact that we know from the people on the firing line what we can do for them -- these are things that will make the Institute a real success," Dr. Eissey said.

The grant will be used to hire a coordinator and secretary for the first year of the Institute's existence.

There are 38,000 employees in the 37 municipalities in the county, including 185 elected officials, 1,000 on advisory committees, 2,000 in administrative and supervisory jobs and 35,000 classified employees.

Objectives of the Institute are:

1. Provide a minimum of 350 hours of training for occupational skills.

NEW DIRECTOR

Dr. James O. Howell was appointed Director of Institutional Research effective July 1.

Dr. Howell replaces Mildred Suttle who served as Director for seven years. She had requested a reassignment to PBJC South to teach Mathematics.

Howell comes to PBJC from Florida International University where he was Acting Director of Institutional Research; prior to this he was a Systems Coordinator at Florida Atlantic University, and also worked as a self-employed consultant.

The new Director was born in Greenville, Ohio. He received a B.S. degree in Mathematics/Chemistry from Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana, an M.S. in Chemistry from George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., and both an Ed. D. and a Ph. D. in Research Design/Statistics from New Mexico State University.

He is a member of the Florida Educational Research Association, the Association for Institutional Research and the American Educational Research Association, Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Delta Kappa, and Sigma Zeta.

"I'm looking forward to working with Dr. Eissey and other staff members in developing a five-year plan," Howell says. "I plan to work with our administrators to develop new computerized informational systems for utilization in management decision making."

"My first impression of the administration and staff at PBJC is one of competence and cooperation in attempting to achieve the common positive goals for the good of the College," he adds.

Another First

We Help A High School To Register

The College and Forest Hill High School scored another first last week when the high school used our software and our computer for registering some 200 seniors and 130 juniors. The pilot project will set the stage for a "complete revolution" in registration for local high schools according to Bobby Riggs, Forest Hill High principal.

"It's going like gangbusters," Bobby told us Wednesday afternoon. "Yesterday morning, when your computer was super busy, we had a few delays of four to five minutes, but most of the time it's 90 seconds and they have a completed registration in their hands. We've never had anything like that.

"And we have instant information about how classes are filling. We've never had that before, either.

"When word gets out, high school registration will never be the same again."

Riggs was full of praise for Jack Kelly and Sonny Young of our Data Processing Department.

"Last year I asked myself how it was the College could register eight or ten thousand students in such a short time."

Riggs said his years working with Dr. Eissey and his many other friends at PBJC made the job of getting an answer to his question easy. "Now we have something I'm sure all the other principals are going to want," he said.

Current planning is for continued use of the system in the regular registration at Forest Hill August 20-22. Apparently there will be little difficulty in utilizing the county school's computer for future high school registration with the software developed here at the College.

This is the second successful collaboration between Forest Hill and the College this year.

Shifts of Shovelers 36 Break Ground At North Campus

A hot Saturday morning, July 25, brought perspiration to the brow but failed to dampen any spirits as some 250 people attended official ground breaking ceremonies at Palm Beach Junior College North.

Some 40 or 50 officials were introduced by Dr. Eissey including representatives from the state legislature, the county commission, many north county municipalities, Florida Atlantic University, Palm Beach Atlantic College and the county school system.

An unusual feature of the ground breaking was the large number of shovel wielders. Four shifts of nine each can now lay claim to having made the first dirt fly at our new campus.

One press representative kept claiming we were using cheap labor to get all our excavating done.

The site of the ground breaking was actually in a beautifully wooded area that will be preserved in its natural state.

All this, plus three numbers from the Jupiter High School Band and five or six congratulatory speeches took only 35 minutes from start to finish.

The crowd was enthusiastic, joining the band in singing the national anthem, and

Millage Committee Preparing Report

The college-wide Millage Project Committee was to hold its final meeting Thursday afternoon, just after the Monday Report deadline.

"We are hoping to complete all our work so that we can prepare a report for the President," said Dr. Tate, who is chairing the committee.

"It has been an outstanding committee," he said. "Everybody has worked well together, and everybody has contributed."

The committee's job was not easy. There were 65 projects identified, varying in cost from $300 to in excess of $1 million. When added together, preliminary cost estimates on Priority I projects will go far above the estimated amounts from the millage.

Roofing on Central Campus, for instance, will cost about $1 million, Dr. Tate said. Dr. Eissey is attempting to have this item funded by the legislature next year, so that more of the other needs of the College can be taken care of by millage funds.

Dr. Tate said many of the projects that will not be funded are excellent, and should be funded from other sources when possible.

It should also be pointed out that the amount of money to be obtained from the millage, particularly for the second year, can only be estimated at this time. A number of political moves regarding the level of assessments in the State are underway at this time which could impact strongly on the amount of money derived from a half mill.

Final decision on which projects will be funded and in what order will be made by the President.

On May 22, a computer terminal at the high school was used to register graduating seniors in Summer Term college classes. Registration for college at all the high schools in the county is one of the goals in the Five Year Plan currently being developed at the College.

Charles Graham, who went to Forest Hill High School on that occasion, said that everything worked perfectly. "It was just like registering from one of our Centers," he said.

breaking into an impromptu "Happy Birthday" to State Representative Ed Healey when he announced that he was giving up part of his birthday to be in attendance.

Dr. Eissey immediately claimed he was giving up even more since the snook had been biting when he left Palm Beach Inlet to come to the ceremony.

Several of the speakers mentioned the importance to the entire north county area of the permanent campus, and there were reminders that PBJC North is already a sizeable college operating out of temporary quarters.

But every speaker was brief and to the point and the entire ceremony went off without a hitch. Next comes 18 months of construction before we can actually get underway at our new campus.

MEMORIES

When we are very young, we look at disasters like heart attack and cancer as a distant danger -- certainly no immediate problem. But as life continues, those who fall are as young as we are, and sometimes younger. This is different. We feel in each loss the numbing shock that our time here is limited, depending always on the mysterious, fragile thread of our own good health.

Many of us felt that shock when we learned last week of the death of one of our more famous alumni, Jerry Thomas. The memories I have of Jerry tell me he is young, vital, alive, eager -- an intelligent man, a man of integrity, a man who cared. The memories are stronger than the reality of his death, and will endure.

One of those memories -- a split second during a visit he made to me (a rising young politician visiting a newspaper editor) -- is installed in my mind in a special way. He seemed at that moment to manifest every aspect of the ideal American success story, and I tucked the memory away in a file I reserve for standard bearers. Jerry, as he was at that moment, is my ideal Rising Young Politician and Public Servant. Subsequent memories, and there are many pleasant ones, have failed to budge that memory from its special place.

I see no reason to change a good habit of 20 years standing. Jerry Thomas, dead at 51, will never replace in my mind the young, dynamic, poised Jerry of 30, reaching for the stars. ... JK

Region V FACC Meeting

The Palm Beach Junior College Chapter of FACC (Florida Association of Community Colleges) played host to the Region V meeting of the Career Employees Commission of that organization, Thursday. Region V includes Broward Community College, Florida Keys Community College, Indian River Community College, Miami Dade Community College and PBJC.

Bob Moss, PBJC Chapter President, and John Townsend, Vice President, shared the master of ceremonies duties (Townsend also planned the program), and Frank McLaughlin, Treasurer, welcomed the members from other colleges at the registration table.

Dr. Eissey spoke to the group on Current Legislative Action, and as head of the Legislative Committee of the President's Council (of Community Colleges).

Kathy Aiello, Program Specialist for the Women's Center made an excellent presentation on "The Changing Role of Women in Education." She told of some lingering stereotypes about women and how industry has led the way in abiding by Federal guidelines on hiring the handicapped, minorities and women, and how the words Who, What, When, Where and How can help both women and men get ahead.

A team from Miami Dade North Community College led by Alvin Elkes, Ana Eiras and Bruce Davidson gave a multi media presentation on "Earth - See It Like an Alien."

Ruthann Salinger spoke on "Coping with Work Related Stress."

A business meeting followed.

PERSONALS

Dr. Eissey has visited Sallie Taylor in Room 292 at Good Samaritan Hospital and says she is still full of spirit and full of fight. Sallie is seriously ill, and is refusing to allow any more operations.

"She asked to hold hands," Dr. Eissey said, "because she had always wanted to hold hands with a President. Then in the next minute she told me to start arguing with her about something, so she wouldn't fall asleep."

Cards, contacts, flowers and prayers would be appreciated, Dr. Eissey says.

PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

VOLUME II, Number 51 August 11, 1980

Welcome Back

180-Day Faculty Returns Today

For those of you who have been away for the summer -- welcome back. It has been busy here since you left, and much of what has been going on (but not all) has been pleasing to all of us.

Enrollment has been good for both Spring and Summer Terms, and prospects for Fall also appear to be good as you will hear (or, perhaps, have just heard) from Charles Graham at this morning's general faculty meeting.

SGA To Help Orient Incoming Freshmen

Incoming Freshmen at PBJC Central will be given an informal addition to their regular orientation sessions this year by the Student Government Association.

Tuesday through Friday, (Aug. 12-15),the SGA will sponsor a get-acquainted coffee in the south end of the cafeteria beginning at 10:45 a.m., when the first students begin to complete the regular orientation sessions.

The new students will get a chance to talk with members of the SGA executive committee and representatives from student activity groups.

"They will already have heard from the administration and from the faculty," says Richard Kochersperger, SGA President, "But we felt that some contact with students who have already been here for a year would be useful."

The SGA will provide campus maps, and will take students on tours of the campus.

"It's not a tremendously big campus," Kochersperger says, "but it can be

(Cont. on page 2)

A super committee has been working all summer trying to get together a list of millage projects for Dr. Eissey's final decision on how the money from the millage will be spent.

We have had two groundbreakings -- one in the Glades for the auditorium there, and the most recent one for the first phase of PBJC North.

Some of the projects at PBJC Central are ready for use -- for instance the Humanities Building elevator (complete with Braille and wheelchair controls) is already in operation, and we await only one more certificate from the State for getting the elevator in the Social Science building in operation.

At the time you left it was the hope, indeed, the expectation, that the distracting business of collective bargaining would be completed by this time, contracts signed, pay raises in prospect for the first pay days, and everybody's attention turned fully to a new group of students.

Unfortunately, these hopes and expectations have not been realized.

Last week the United Faculty decided to follow the same long road it has walked twice before -- selecting a Special Master

New Rules For Fee Waivers

Two new changes regarding Fee Waivers were passed by the Board of Trustees during the summer.

Employees or dependents may register for a course on the last day of Drop/Add, August 25, and have the fees waived, or they may register during any scheduled registration period, August 12 through August 15, pay all fees, and if the class(es) has/have not reached the maximum enrollment on last day of Drop/Add, the employee or dependent may request a full refund of the fees.

Senior citizens, 60 years of age or older, may register for up to two classes on the last day of Drop/Add, August 25, and have all tuition fees waived. They will still be required to pay any lab or special fees.....Charles Graham

High Exam Scores

Two PBJC Real Estate instructors -- Bill Graham and Robert Mandell -- made high scores in the Realtors Institute examinations, held recently in Boca Raton.

Graham, who also serves as coordinator of Real Estate and Insurance courses at PBJC, received the top score, 116 out of a possible 120 points, in Course Two at the July, 1980 Realtors Institute; upon successful completion of Course Three in September at Port St. Lucie, Graham will receive his designation as a G.R.I. (Graduate, Realtors Institute).

Mandell, Vice President of Mandell, Mueller and Co., who is a part-time Real Estate instructor, made a grade of 115 in the Course One examination of the series; he will take Course Two in September and has plans to complete requirements for his G.R.I. at the first of the year.

Both men received congratulatory messages from M. Allen Elgin, Education Director of the Florida Association of Realtors, Orlando.

No August Meeting

There will be no August meeting of the Palm Beach Junior College Board of Trustees, according to Dr. Edward M. Eissey, President.

"We had very few items of business for this month, and none which required immediate action, so we were able to give the trustees a summer break," Dr. Eissey said.

The next meeting of the board is scheduled for September 17, 7:30 p.m., in the Food-service Center, PBJC Central.

Four hours after deadline, the Monday Report learned that the United Faculty has asked for another bargaining session. No further information available at this time.

It is time to update our personnel photo directory, and the cooperation of everyone whose photo does not appear in the first directory is especially requested.

As you know, we are not attempting to create works of art, but merely to get recognizable likenesses, so that all of us can put names together with faces.

We still have the film from our first directory, and use of that same photo for our second edition will save us time, effort and money. If, however, you want a new, more recent photo, we hope you will come by and let us try again.

The camera will be set up in Science 14, right outside the Foodservice Building, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. today for all people attending the general faculty meeting.

On Aug. 18, the camera will be set up 9 a.m. to 12 noon for 196-day faculty and for first shift physical plant staff. From 1 - 4 p.m., staff personnel in general, including the 3:30 physical plant staff are invited to come in.

On Aug. 19, the camera set-up will be in the news bureau photo office, AD 20A, at 10:30 p.m., for night shift physical plant personnel.

Arrangements are being made with chief administrators of PBJC North, South and Glades for photos of new personnel or retakes.....Jonathan Koontz

Musicians Wanted For Concert Band

There will be some openings for musicians from the community in the PBJC Concert Band this fall, according to Sy Pryweller, director.

The band, which rehearses at 7 p.m. on Tuesdays, performs a variety of music, from the classic band literature to contemporary music, Broadway show tunes, and marches.

Sy is looking for instrumentalists with above average proficiency who wish to take part in an outstanding music organization.

In the past, band members have consisted of college music majors and non-music majors, high school students, music teachers, attorneys, engineers and part-time musicians in all walks of life.

If interested, please contact Sy as soon as possible. College credit is offered, if it is desired.

NORTH NEWS

Count Dracula, otherwise known as the Palm Beach Blood Mobile, visited PBJC North Campus, 45th Street, on Wednesday, July 9 from 8 - 11 a.m. Twenty-six students and our "fearless leader", Dr. Smith, made visits to the Blood Mobile. Evidently some other creatures had been trespassing on our property because we were only able to salvage 13 pints of blood.

Count Dracula will visit us again during the Fall Term and we expect to have a lot more "red liquid" for him at that time....John Jenkins

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE
PBJC MONDAY REPORT:

VOLUME II, Number 52 August 18, 1980

Still At Impasse

Bargaining Attempt Gets Nowhere

An attempt at collective bargaining Thursday between the College and the United Faculty accomplished nothing except to show very clearly that the two sides are still at impasse. Although another bargaining session could be called at any time during the process, it appears that the long route through Special Master hearings is now indicated.

At Thursday's session, union negotiators first asked that the quota system for ranks should be used as "general guidelines only" and that it shall not "adversely affect any minority."

For the first time since the rank system was established, one of the rank quotas, that for professor, has been filled, and otherwise qualified teachers must wait for a vacancy.

Jesse Hogg, chief negotiator for the College, said the system must be applied equally to everyone, and that if quotas were only guidelines, the entire system would be destroyed.

Much of the discussion Thursday was about the new management's rights clause proposed by the administration.

During this discussion, Hogg made it clear that

Speaker's Association

Is there some area of knowledge that is of special interest to you, that you would like to share with others? Do you have a hobby that is unusual enough to interest other people? Do you have a viewpoint you feel strongly about, and would like to spread to others? Have you traveled to some unusual place and had a great adventure you would like to tell about? Would you like to share your specialized knowledge of your own academic area with the general public in order to whet their appetite for classes?

If your answer is even a faint affirmative to any of the above, please get in touch with me as soon as possible and sign up for the PBJC Speaker's Association.

Experience during the millage campaign showed us the importance of a personal contact between the College and the community. We want to continue and deepen this association.

Dr. Eissey proposed the Speaker's Association on July 1, and sent out a simple information sheet for those who are interested, and response has been good. We are now planning a brochure which we hope to get out in September, which will list speakers, their academic department, and the topic(s) on which they are prepared to make a presentation.

All faculty and staff, full time and part time, are eligible for the Speakers Association, but the time is now growing short

Welcome Back 196-Day Teachers

Teachers on 196-day contracts are back on duty today, and will be meeting this morning with Dr. Eissey and others for a coffee and discussion following the summer break.

New teachers have orientation sessions scheduled throughout the day by Dr. Graham. Photographers will be in SC-14 on the schedule announced last week.

For the first time this year the number of 196 day teachers is slightly higher than the number of 180-day contracts.

an effective management's rights clause is an indispensable part of a contract.

He also said that the 9.5% pay raise, which has been offered, would not necessarily be granted if there is no contract.

He differed with union negotiators in their view that new rights had been established for union members by court decisions last year, and these rights were being taken away by the new clause.

"You have always had the right to negotiate on wages, hours and working conditions," he said.

In the past, he said, unions, including the UF, have recognized that in order to manage effectively, management must have the ability to make decisions during the term of the contract on matters not included in the contract, and have waived their right to negotiate these unforseen matters.

Last year, he said, the Public Employees Relations Commission and the courts held that the form of that waiver then in use covered the right to make a decision without bargaining but not the right to implement it. All the new clause does is to change the form of the waiver as the courts have indicated it must be changed in order to be effective.

Although attempts were made to find some meeting ground on the five other issues still unresolved, no headway was made.

The session lasted about two hours. The UF has informed the College that preliminary steps toward selection of a Special Master have been taken. ...JK

News From The Development Office

PBJC has received, through Dean Whitmer's Office, a grant for an IMT Learning Lab. The lab is available to all PBJC students seeking individualized help in English, math or reading skills. Special cassette programs are available for foreign students who want to improve their English.

Faculty and counselors may refer students to the IMT Individualized Learning Lab in TE-20. The lab will be open Monday through Friday from 9:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. and Monday through Thursday from 6:00 to 8:00 P.M.

Applications for Summer Stipends 1981 sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities are due October 13, 1980. The applicant must be nominated by the designated officer of the institution.

Two applicants can be nominated if they received their most advanced degrees in 1973 or later. One applicant can be nominated if the degree was received prior to 1973. The scope of support includes study of the following: history, philosophy, languages, linguistics, literature, archaeology, jurisprudence, history and criticism of the arts, ethics, comparative religion and those aspects of the social sciences that employ historical or philosophical approaches.

The Monday Report has just learned of the death of Sallie Taylor Friday morning. There is no doubt that she will be missed by all who knew her, but the feeling of loss was mixed with a feeling of relief that the pain and suffering she has undergone with such gallantry for so long has finally ended.

Sallie was a person of clear intelligence, high integrity and purposeful, dynamic activity. There was a unique neatness and clarity that came along with her everywhere she went.

For 23 years, since August 1, 1957, she has been a part of the life of Palm Beach Junior College. As a teacher, and as a person, she cannot be replaced. There will only be one Sallie Taylor. ... JK

Reception For International Students

The international students attending Palm Beach Junior College will be honored at an informal reception Tuesday, August 26 at 2 P.M. in the Foodservice Dining Room, according to Dr. Elisabeth Erling.

Invitations have been sent to the international students, to representatives of 32 ethnic organizations in the community, and to the PBJC administrative staff, on behalf of Dr. Eissey and the advisory committee on Global Education, Erling said.

"Last year, we had 75 international students, but until registration is complete, we won't know exactly how many will be attending PBJC this year," she said.

Karin Roemers, a nursing student from Holland, is president of the newly re-established Students for International Understanding (S.I.U.). She says that the club has 25 members from 15 different countries.

"We're looking forward to meeting the new international students as well as the American students, and will welcome those who would like to join S.I.U.

"We're a social club, but we also want to interact with other cultures, talk with members of the community, and eventually would like to get together with international students from other colleges in an effort to create better understanding among people from all over the world."

ECC Teachers May Get 8.5% Salary Hike

(Reprinted from the Ft. Myers News-Press, June 26, 1980)

Teachers at Edison Community College (ECC) reached a tentative salary agreement with management representatives Wednesday, giving 80 instructors an 8.5 percent salary hike.

"I'm glad it's done," said Madeline Evans, head of the teachers' bargaining team and president of the ECC branch of the United Faculty of Florida.

The agreement was reached after eight bargaining sessions and just five days before the current two-year contract expires, she said. The instructors' pay hike equals a recently approved 8.5 percent salary increase for the college's administrators.

The new tentative pact will be effective for three years with annual wage reopener talks, Ms. Evans said. "It's basically the same contract," she added, comparing the new agreement with the old one.
